5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and d had the bag, and bare what was put therein. d ch. 13. 29.

7 Then said Jesus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For e the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always. e Matth. 26. 11. Mark 14. 7.

9 ¶ Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Jesus' sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, f whom he had raised from the dead. f ch. 11. 43, 44.

10 g But the chief priests consulted that they might put Lazarus also to death; g Luke 16. 31.

11 h Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Jesus. h ch. 11. 45. ver. 18.

12 ¶ i On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus was coming to Jerusalem, i Matth. 21. 8. Mark 11. 8. Luke 19. 35, 36, &c.

13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, k Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Israel that cometh in the name of the Lord. k Ps. 118. 25, 26.

14 l And Jesus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written, l Matth. 21. 7.

Anno DOMINI 33.

15 [m] Fear not, daughter of Sion: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

16 These things [n] understood not his disciples at the first: [o] but when Jesus was glorified, [p] then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 [q] For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, [r] Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ And there [s] were certain Greeks among them [t] that came up to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Philip, [u] which was of Bethsaida of Galilee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Jesus.

22 Philip cometh and telleth Andrew: and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus.

23 ¶ And Jesus answered them, saying, [x] The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [y] Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 [z] He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and [a] where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 [b] Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: [c] but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. [d] Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore, that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Jesus answered and said, [e] This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall [f] the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, [g] if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw [h] all men unto me.

33 [i] This he said, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, [k] We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?

35 Then Jesus said unto them, Yet a little while [l] is the light with you. [m] Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for [n] he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be [o] the children of light. These things spake Jesus, and departed, and [p] did hide himself from them.

37 ¶ But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of Esaias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, [q] Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that Esaias said again,

40 [r] He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

41 [s] These things said Esaias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 ¶ Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but [t] because of the Pharisees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:

43 [u] For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 ¶ Jesus cried and said, [x] He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And [y] he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.

46 [z] I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, [a] I judge him not: for [b] I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 [c] He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: [d] the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 For [e] I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, [f] what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Jesus washeth his disciples' feet, and exhorteth them to follow his example of humility and charity: 18 he foretelleth the treachery of Judas, and pointeth him out to John by a token: 31 he speaketh of his glorification as near at hand, and commandeth his disciples to love one another: 36 he forewarneth Peter that he shall thrice deny him.

NOW [a] before the feast of the passover, when Jesus knew that [b] his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2 And supper being ended, [c] the devil having now put into the heart of Judas Iscariot, Simon's son, to betray him;

3 Jesus knowing [d] that the Father had given all things into his hands, and [e] that he was come from God, and went to God;

4 [f] He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself.

5 After that he poureth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Simon Peter: and † Peter said unto him, Lord, [g] dost thou wash my feet?

7 Jesus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; [h] but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Peter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Jesus answered him, [i] if I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Simon Peter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10 Jesus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and [k] ye are clean, but not all.

11 For [l] he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 [m] Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am.

14 [n] If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; [o] ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For [p] I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 [q] Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.

17 [r] If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, [s] He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 [t] ‖ Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 [u] Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 [x] When Jesus had thus said, [y] he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that [z] one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now [a] there was leaning on Jesus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Jesus loved.

24 Simon Peter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Jesus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Jesus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a ‖ sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot, the son of Simon.

27 [b] And after the sop Satan entered into him. Then said Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because [c] Judas had the bag, that Jesus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then having received the sop went immediately out: and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore, when he was gone out, Jesus said, [d] Now is the Son of man glorified, and [e] God is glorified in him.

32 [f] If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and [g] shall straightway glorify him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me: [h] and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 [i] A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 [k] By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 ¶ Simon Peter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but [l] thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Peter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will [m] lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Jesus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Christ comforteth his disciples with the promise of a heavenly mansion: 5 he professeth himself the way, the truth, and the life; 8 and that he is one with the Father: 12 he promiseth them power to do greater works than his own, and the grant of all that they should ask in his name: 15 he requireth their obedience as a proof of their love, and giveth them a promise of the Comforter, the Holy Ghost: 27 he leaveth his peace with them.

LET [a] not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. [b] I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, [c] I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that [d] where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 ¶ Thomas saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Jesus saith unto him, I am [e] the way, and [f] the truth, and [g] the life: [h] no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 [i] If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 ¶ Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? [k] he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that [l] I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you [m] I speak not of myself: but the Father, that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: [n] or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 ¶ [o] Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

13 [p] And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ¶ [q] If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and [r] he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever; him not, neither knoweth him: but ye know him; for he dwelleth with you, [u] and shall be in you.

18 [x] I will not leave you ‖ comfortless: [y] I will come to you.

19 Yet a little while, and the world seeth me no more; but [z] ye see me: [a] because I live, ye shall live also.

20 At that day ye shall know that [b] I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 [c] He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 [d] Judas saith unto him, not Iscariot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Jesus answered and said unto him, [e] If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, [f] and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and [g] the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But [h] the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, [i] he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 ¶ [k] Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. [l] Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how [m] I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, [n] I go unto the Father: for [o] my Father is greater than I.

29 And [p] now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe.

30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you: [q] for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and [r] as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

CHAP. XV.

1 Under the parable of a vine Christ setteth forth God's government of his church, and exhorteth his disciples to abide in his faith and doctrine: 12 he commandeth them to love one another, according to the great love he had shewed for them: 18 forewarneth them of the hatred and persecution of the world: 26 and telleth them of the testimony which the Holy Ghost, and they also, should bear to him.

I AM the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 [a] Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 [b] Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

4 [c] Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much [d] fruit: for ‖ without me ye can do nothing.

6 If a man abide not in me, [e] he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, [f] ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8 [g] Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; [h] so shall ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

10 [i] If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and [k] that your joy might be full.

12 ¶ This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 [m] Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 [n] Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; [o] for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

16 [p] Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and [q] ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that [r] whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 [s] These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 ¶ [t] If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 [u] If ye were of the world, the world would love his own: but [x] because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, [y] The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; [z] if they have kept my saying, they will keep your's also.

21 But [a] all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 [b] If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin: [c] but now they have no ‖ cloke for their sin.

23 [d] He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them [e] the works which none other man did, they had not had sin: but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, [f] They hated me without a cause.

26 ¶ [g] But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, [h] he shall testify of me:

27 And [i] ye also shall bear witness, because [k] ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Christ warneth his disciples of their sufferings for his sake: 5 he comforteth them by a pro- mise of the Holy Ghost: 16 he intimateth his death, resurrection, and ascension, telling them that their sorrow should soon be succeeded by joy, and that their prayers in his name would be accepted of the Father: 29 his disciples confess their faith in him; he foretelleth their desertion of him, and promiseth them peace in him amidst their tribulation in the world.

THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye [a] should not be offended.

2 [b] They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, [c] that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 And [d] these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But [e] these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And [f] these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 ¶ But now [g] I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, [h] sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, [i] the Comforter will not come unto you; but [k] if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will ‖ reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 [l] Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 [m] Of righteousness, [n] because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 [o] Of judgment, because [p] the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, [q] but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, [r] the Spirit of truth is come, [s] he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will shew you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall shew it unto you.

15 [t] All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shew it unto you.

16 ¶ [u] A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me, [x] because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Jesus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye enquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice: and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 [y] A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 [z] And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and [a] your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. [b] Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, [c] that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in ‖ proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in ‖ proverbs, but I shall shew you plainly of the Father.

26 [d] At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

27 [e] For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and [f] have believed that I came out from God.

28 [g] I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 ¶ His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no ‖ proverb.

30 Now are we sure that [h] thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this [i] we believe that thou camest forth from God.

31 Jesus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 [k] Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, [l] every man to ‖ his own, and shall leave me alone: and [m] yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 These things I have spoken unto you, that [n] in me ye might have peace. [o] In the world ye shall have tribulation: [p] but be of good cheer; [q] I have overcome the world.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Christ prayeth to his Father to glorify him; 6 and to preserve his apostles in unity of faith, 15 and from all evil; 17 and to sanctify them with the word of truth: 20 and for the perfect union of all believers, and their admission to a share of his glory in heaven.

THESE words spake Jesus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, [a] the hour is come; glorify thy Son; that thy Son also may glorify thee:

2 [b] As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many [c] as thou hast given him.

3 And [d] this is life eternal, that they might know thee [e] the only true God, and Jesus Christ, [f] whom thou hast sent.

4 [g] I have glorified thee on the earth: [h] I have finished the work [i] which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory [k] which I had with thee before the world was.

6 ¶ [l] I have manifested thy name unto the men [m] which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the words

[a] which thou gavest me; and they have received them, [o] and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: [p] I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and [q] thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 [r] And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, [s] keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, [t] that they may be one, [u] as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, [x] I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and [y] none of them is lost, [z] but the son of perdition; [a] that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 [b] I have given them thy word; [c] and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, [d] even as I am not of the world.

15 ¶ I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but [e] that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 [f] They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 ¶ [g] Sanctify them through thy truth: [h] thy word is truth.

18 [i] As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And [k] for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be ‖ sanctified through the truth.

20 ¶ Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;

21 [l] That they all may be one; as [m] thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; [n] that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 I in them, and thou in me, [o] that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 [p] Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: [q] for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, [r] the world hath not known thee: but [s] I have known thee, and [t] these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 [u] And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love [x] wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

Judas betrayeth Jesus: the officers and soldiers at Christ's word fall to the ground: 10 Peter cutteth off Malchus' ear: 12 Jesus is led bound to Annas and Caiaphas: 15 Peter denieth him: 19 Jesus is examined by the high priest, and struck by one of the officers: 25 Peter denieth him the second and third time: 28 Jesus brought before Pilate, and examined, confesseth his kingdom not to be of this world: Pilate testifying his innocence, and offering to release him, the Jews prefer Barabbas.

Anno DOMINI 33.

WHEN Jesus had spoken these words, [a] he went forth with his disciples over [b] the brook Cedron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 And Judas also, which betrayed him, knew the place: [c] for Jesus ofttimes resorted thither with his disciples.

3 [d] Judas then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Pharisees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Jesus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Jesus of Nazareth. Jesus saith unto them, I am he. And Judas also, which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Jesus of Nazareth.

8 Jesus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, [e] Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

10 ¶ [f] Then Simon Peter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Malchus.

11 Then said Jesus unto Peter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: [g] the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 ¶ Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Jesus, and bound him,

13 And [h] led him away to [i] Annas first; for he was father in law to Caiaphas, which was the high priest that same year. ‖

14 [k] Now Caiaphas was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ [l] And Simon Peter followed Jesus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Jesus into the palace of the high priest.

16 [m] But Peter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Peter.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Peter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals; for it was cold: and they warmed themselves: and Peter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 ¶ The high priest then asked Jesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Jesus answered him, [n] I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them: behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by ᵃ struck Jesus ‖ with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Jesus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 ᵖ Now Annas had sent him bound unto Caiaphas the high priest.

25 ¶ And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. ᵠ They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter then denied again: and ʳ immediately the cock crew.

28 ¶ ˢ Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto ‖ the hall of judgment: and it was early; ᵗ and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.

29 Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 ᵘ That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 ˣ Then Pilate entered into the judgment hall again, and called Jesus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

34 Jesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Jew? Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?

36 ʸ Jesus answered, ᶻ My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Jesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that ᵃ is of the truth heareth my voice.

38 Pilate saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, ᵇ I find in him no fault at all.

39 ᶜ But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

40 ᵈ Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Barabbas. ᵉ Now Barabbas was a robber.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Jesus is scourged, crowned with thorns, mocked, and buffeted by the soldiers. 4 Pilate declareth his innocence: the Jews charge him with assuming the title of the Son of God. 8 Pilate upon farther examination is more desirous to release him, but overcome with the clamours of the Jews delivereth him to be crucified. 17 He is led to Golgotha, and crucified between two malefactors. 19 Pilate's inscription on his cross. 23 The soldiers part his garments. 25 He commendeth his mother to John; 28 receiveth vinegar to drink, and dieth. 31 The legs of the others are broken, and the side of Jesus pierced. 38 Joseph of Arimathea beggeth his body, and assisted by Nicodemus burieth it.

THEN ᵃ Pilate therefore took Jesus, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.

4 ¶ Pilate therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, ᵇ that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Jesus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pilate saith unto them, Behold the man!

6 ᶜ When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, ᵈ We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because ᵉ he made himself the Son of God.

8 ¶ When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Jesus, Whence art thou? ᶠ But Jesus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pilate unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11 Jesus answered, ᵍ Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pilate sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, ʰ If thou let this man go, thou art not Cesar's friend: ⁱ whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Cesar.

13 When Pilate therefore heard that saying, he brought Jesus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the Hebrew, Gabbatha.

14 And ᵏ it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pilate saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, ˡ We have no king but Cesar.

16 ᵐ Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Jesus, and led him away.

17 ¶ ⁿ And he bearing his cross ᵒ went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the Hebrew Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Jesus in the midst.

19 ¶ ᵖ And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews

1 Mary Magdalene, seeing the stone taken away from the sepulchre, runneth to tell Peter and John, who go thither, and find not the body. 11 Mary seeth two angels sitting in the sepulchre; Jesus himself appeareth to her. 19 He appeareth to his disciples: 24 The incredulity of Thomas. 26 Jesus appeareth again to the disciples, and satisfieth the doubts of Thomas; who confesseth him. 30 The sufficiency of what is written for a ground of faith unto salvation.

THE [a] first day of the week cometh Mary Magdalene early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

a Matth. 28. 1. Mar. 16. 1. Luke 24. 1.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Simon Peter, and to the [b] other disciple, whom Jesus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 [c] Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

and ſtood in the midſt, and ſaith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 And when he had ſo ſaid, he ſhewed unto them his hands and his ſide. [p] Then were the diſciples glad, when they ſaw the Lord.

21 Then ſaid Jeſus to them again, Peace be unto you: [q] as my Father hath ſent me, even ſo ſend I you.

22 And when he had ſaid this, he breathed on them, and ſaith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghoſt:

23 [r] Whoſe ſoever ſins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whoſe ſoever ſins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thomas, one of the twelve, [s] called Didymus, was not with them when Jeſus came.

25 The other diſciples therefore ſaid unto him, We have ſeen the Lord. But he ſaid unto them, Except I ſhall ſee in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thruſt my hand into his ſide, I will not believe.

26 ¶ And after eight days again his diſciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jeſus, the doors being ſhut, and ſtood in the midſt, and ſaid, Peace be unto you.

27 Then ſaith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and [t] reach hither thy hand, and thruſt it into my ſide: and be not faithleſs, but believing.

28 And Thomas anſwered and ſaid unto him, My Lord and my God.

29 Jeſus ſaith unto him, Thomas, becauſe thou haſt ſeen me, thou haſt believed: [u] bleſſed are they that have not ſeen, and yet have believed.

30 ¶ [x] And many other ſigns truly did Jeſus in the preſence of his diſciples, which are not written in this book:

31 [y] But theſe are written, that ye might believe that Jeſus is the Chriſt, the Son of God; [z] and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Chriſt appeareth to his diſciples at the ſea of Tiberias, and maketh himſelf known by a great draught of fiſhes: 12 he eateth before them: 15 he thrice repeateth his charge to Peter to feed his flock; foretelleth the manner of his death; and rebuketh his curioſity concerning John. 24 John aſſerteth the truth of his teſtimony, and that Jeſus did many acts beſides, too numerous to be recorded.

AFTER theſe things Jeſus ſhewed himſelf again to the diſciples at the ſea of Tiberias; and on this wiſe ſhewed he himſelf.

2 There were together Simon Peter, and Thomas called Didymus, and [a] Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and [b] the ſon of Zebedee, and two other of his diſciples.

3 Simon Peter ſaith unto them, I go a fiſhing. They ſay unto him, We alſo go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ſhip immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jeſus ſtood on the ſhore: but the diſciples [c] knew not that it was Jeſus.

5 Then [d] Jeſus ſaith unto them, ‖ Children, have ye any meat? They anſwered him, No.

6 And he ſaid unto them, [e] Caſt the net on the right ſide of the ſhip, and ye ſhall find. They caſt therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fiſhes.

7 Therefore [f] that diſciple whom Jeſus loved ſaith unto Peter, It is the Lord. Now when Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fiſher's coat unto him, (for he was naked,) and did caſt himſelf into the ſea.

8 And the other diſciples came in a little ſhip; (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fiſhes.

9 As ſoon then as they were come to land, they ſaw a fire of coals there, and fiſh laid thereon, and bread.

10 Jeſus ſaith unto them, Bring of the fiſh which ye have now caught.

11 Simon Peter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fiſhes, an hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were ſo many, yet was not the net broken.

12 ¶ Jeſus ſaith unto them, [g] Come and dine. And none of the diſciples durſt ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jeſus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fiſh likewiſe.

14 This is now [h] the third time that Jeſus ſhewed himſelf to his diſciples, after that he was riſen from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Jeſus ſaith to Simon Peter, Simon, ſon of Jonas, loveſt thou me more than theſe? He ſaith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knoweſt that I love thee. He ſaith unto him, Feed my lambs.

16 He ſaith to him again the ſecond time, Simon, ſon of Jonas, loveſt thou me? He ſaith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knoweſt that I love thee. [i] He ſaith unto him, Feed my ſheep.

17 He ſaith unto him the third time, Simon, ſon of Jonas, loveſt thou me? Peter was grieved becauſe he ſaid unto him the third time, Loveſt thou me? And he ſaid unto him, Lord, [k] thou knoweſt all things; thou knoweſt that I love thee. Jeſus ſaith unto him, Feed my ſheep.

18 [l] Verily, verily, I ſay unto thee, When thou waſt young, thou girdedſt thyſelf, and walkedſt whither thou wouldeſt: but when thou ſhalt be old, thou ſhalt ſtretch forth thy hands, and another ſhall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldeſt not.

19 This ſpake he, ſignifying [m] by what death he ſhould glorify God. And when he had ſpoken this, he ſaith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Peter, turning about, ſeeth the diſciple [n] whom Jeſus loved following; which alſo leaned on his breaſt at ſupper, and ſaid, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 Peter ſeeing him ſaith to Jeſus, Lord, and what ſhall this man do?

22 Jeſus ſaith unto him, If I will that he tarry [o] till I come, what is that to thee? follow thou me.

23 Then went this ſaying abroad among the brethren, that that diſciple ſhould not die: yet Jeſus ſaid not unto him, He ſhall not die; but, If I will that he tarry till I come, what is that to thee?

24 ¶ This is the diſciple which teſtifieth of theſe things, and wrote theſe things: and [p] we know that his teſtimony is true.

25 [q] And there are alſo many other things which Jeſus did, the which, if they ſhould be written every one, [r] I ſuppoſe that even the world itſelf could not contain the books that ſhould be written. Amen.

CHAP. I.

1 Christ after his resurrection, having given instructions to his apostles, and commanded them to wait in Jerusalem the coming of the Holy Ghost, ascendeth into heaven in their sight. 10 Two angels warn them to depart, and to look for his second coming: 12 they return, and give themselves unto prayer. 15 Peter exhorting to fill up the place of the traitor Judas, Matthias is chosen by lot to be an apostle.

THE former treatise have I made, O [a] Theophilus, of all that Jesus began both to do and teach,

2 [b] Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost [c] had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

3 [d] To whom also he shewed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 [e] And, ‖ being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Jerusalem, but wait for the promise of the Father, [f] which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 [g] For John truly baptized with water; [h] but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, [i] Lord, wilt thou at this time [k] restore again the kingdom to Israel?

7 And he said unto them, [l] It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 [m] But ye shall receive ‖ power, [n] after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and [o] ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 [p] And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, [q] he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 ¶ And while they looked stedfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them [r] in white apparel;

11 Which also said, [s] Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Jesus, which is taken up from you into heaven, [t] shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 ¶ [u] Then returned they unto Jerusalem from the mount called Olivet, which is from Jerusalem a sabbath day's journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up [x] into an upper room, where abode both [y] Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Matthew, James the son of Alpheus, and [z] Simon Zelotes, and [a] Judas the brother of James.

14 [b] These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with [c] the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with [d] his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those days Peter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number [e] of the names together were about an hundred and twenty,)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, [f] which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of David spake before concerning Judas, [g] which was guide to them that took Jesus.

17 For [h] he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of [i] this ministry.

18 [k] Now this man purchased a field with [l] the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Jerusalem; insomuch as that field is called in their proper tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, [m] Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and [n] his ‖ bishoprick let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Jesus went in and out among us,

22 [o] Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that [p] he was taken up from us, must one be ordained [q] to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Joseph called [r] Barsabas, who was surnamed Justus, and Matthias.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, [s] which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25 [t] That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Judas by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots; and the lot fell upon Matthias; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAP. II.

1 The descent of the Holy Ghost upon the apostles on the day of Pentecost: they speak divers languages to the general amazement, but some deride them. 14 Peter sheweth that the inspiration spoken of by Joel was now fulfilled; that Jesus, whom they had crucified, was now risen from the dead, and ascended into heaven, according to David's predictions, and had shed forth the promise of the holy Spirit in full proof of his being the Messias. 37 A great number are converted by Peter's preaching; 41 who, being baptized, converse devoutly and charitably together, the apostles working many miracles, and God daily increasing the church.

AND when [a] the day of Pentecost was fully come, [b] they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and [c] it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

4 And [d] they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began [e] to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Jerusalem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now † when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were ‖ confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvel-

1 The lame man healed by Peter and John: 12 Peter declareth to the people that this cure was not wrought by any power or holiness in himself or John, but by the power of God through faith in the name of Jesus, whom they had ignorantly crucified, but whom God had raised from the dead according to the scriptures; and exhorteth them by faith to seek remission of sins and salvation in Jesus, whose coming had been spoken of by Moses and all the prophets.

NOW Peter and John went up together [a] into the temple at the hour of prayer, [b] being the ninth hour.

a ch. 2. 46. b Psal. 55. 17.

Anno DOMINI 33.

2 And [c] a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, [d] to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who seeing Peter and John about to go into the temple asked an alms.

4 And Peter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Peter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: [e] In the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth rise up and walk.

7 And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ancle bones received strength.

8 And he [f] leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 [g] And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which [h] sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed held Peter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch [i] that is called Solomon's, greatly wondering.

12 ¶ And when Peter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Israel, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 [k] The God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, the God of our fathers, [l] hath glorified his Son Jesus; whom ye [m] delivered up, and [n] denied him in the presence of Pilate, when he was determined to let him go.

14 But ye denied [o] the Holy One [p] and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15 And killed the ‖ Prince of life, [q] whom God hath raised from the dead; [r] whereof we are witnesses.

16 [s] And his name through faith in his name hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I wot that [t] through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But [u] those things, which God before had shewed [x] by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 [y] Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord;

20 And he shall send Jesus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 [z] Whom the heaven must receive until the times of [a] restitution of all things, [b] which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.

22 For Moses truly said unto the fathers, [c] A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to pass, that every soul, which will not hear that prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from Samuel and those that follow after, as many as have spoken, have likewise foretold of these days.

25 [d] Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto Abraham, [e] And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 [f] Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, [g] sent him to bless you, [h] in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAP. IV.

1 The rulers of the Jews, offended with the teaching of Peter and John, imprison them. 5 Being brought before the council, Peter boldly avoucheth the late cure to have been wrought in the name of Jesus, and that men can be saved by no other name. 13 The council, struck with the boldness of the two apostles, after conferring together dismiss them with a threatening charge to speak no more in the name of Jesus. 23 The church betaketh itself to prayer. 31 The presence of the Holy Ghost is signified by the house shaking, and the Apostles thereby emboldened to speak the word; 32 The unity and charity of the church, who have their possessions in common.

AND as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the ‖ captain of the temple, and the Sadducees, came upon them,

2 [a] Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Jesus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And [b] Annas the high priest, and Caiaphas, and John, and Alexander, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Jerusalem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, [c] By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 [d] Then Peter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Israel,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Israel, [e] that by the name of Jesus Christ of Nazareth, whom ye crucified, [f] whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 [g] This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 [h] Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

13 ¶ Now when they saw the boldness of Peter and John, [i] and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowledge of them, that they had been with Jesus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed [k] standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying, [l] What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is [m] manifest to all them that dwell in Jerusalem; and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 [n] And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Jesus.

19 But Peter and John answered and said unto them, [o] Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 [p] For we cannot but speak the things which [q] we have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, [r] because of the people: for all men glorified God for [s] that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 ¶ And being let go, [t] they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, [u] thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is:

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant David hast said, [x] Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For [y] of a truth against [z] thy holy child Jesus, [a] whom thou hast anointed, both Herod, and Pontius Pilate, with the Gentiles, and the people of Israel, were gathered together, 28 [b] For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, [c] that with all boldness they may speak thy word,

30 By stretching forth thine hand to heal; [d] and that signs and wonders may be done [e] by the name of [f] thy holy child Jesus.

31 ¶ And when they had prayed, [g] the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, [h] and they spake the word of God with boldness.

32 And the multitude of them that believed [i] were of one heart and of one soul: [k] neither said any of them that ought of the things which he possessed was his own; but they had all things common.

33 And with [l] great power gave the apostles [m] witness of the resurrection of the Lord Jesus: and [n] great grace was upon them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: [o] for as many as were possessors of lands or houses sold them, and brought the prices of the things that were sold,

35 [p] And laid them down at the apostles' feet: [q] and distribution was made unto every man according as he had need.

36 And Joses, who by the apostles was surnamed Barnabas, (which is, being interpreted, The son of consolation,) a Levite, and of the country of Cyprus,

37 [r] Having land, sold it, and brought the money, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

CHAP. V.

1 Ananias and Sapphira, profanely tempting the Holy Ghost with a lie, at Peter's rebuke fall down dead. 12 The apostles work many miracles to the great increase of the faith. 17 They are all imprisoned, but released by an angel, and sent to preach openly in the temple: being brought before the council, 29 they support their witness with great freedom. 33 The council are restrained from killing them by the advice of Gamaliel, but beat and dismiss them with a charge not to speak in the name of Jesus. 41 They rejoice in their sufferings, and cease not to preach Christ both in publick and private.

BUT a certain man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, sold a possession,

2 And kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, [a] and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 [b] But Peter said, Ananias, why hath [c] Satan filled thine heart ‖ to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 And Ananias hearing these words [d] fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, [e] wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

9 Then Peter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together [f] to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet of them which have buried thy husband are at the door, and shall carry thee out.

10 [g] Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

vexed with unclean ſpirits: and they were healed every one.

17 ¶ [p] Then the high prieſt roſe up, and all they that were with him, (which is the ſect of the Sadducees,) and were filled with ‖ indignation,

18 [q] And laid their hands on the apoſtles, and put them in the common priſon.

19 But [r] the angel of the Lord by night opened the priſon doors, and brought them forth, and ſaid,

20 Go, ſtand and ſpeak in the temple to the people [s] all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. [t] But the high prieſt came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the ſenate of the children of Iſrael, and ſent to the priſon to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the priſon, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The priſon truly found we ſhut with all ſafety, and the keepers ſtanding without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high prieſt and [u] the captain of the temple and the chief prieſts heard theſe things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, ſaying, Behold, the men whom ye put in priſon are ſtanding in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: [x] for they feared the people, leſt they ſhould have been ſtoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they ſet them before the council: and the high prieſt aſked them,

28 Saying, [y] Did not we ſtraitly command you that ye ſhould not teach in this name? and, behold, ye have filled Jeruſalem with your doctrine, [z] and intend to bring this man's [a] blood upon us.

29 ¶ Then Peter and the other apoſtles anſwered and ſaid, [b] We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 [c] The God of our fathers raiſed up Jeſus, whom ye ſlew and [d] hanged on a tree.

31 [e] Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be [f] a Prince and [g] a Saviour, [h] for to give repentance to Iſrael, and forgiveneſs of ſins.

32 And [i] we are his witneſſes of theſe things; and ſo is alſo the Holy Ghoſt, [k] whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 ¶ [l] When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counſel to ſlay them.

34 Then ſtood there up one in the council, a Phariſee, named [m] Gamaliel, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apoſtles forth a little ſpace;

35 And ſaid unto them, Ye men of Iſrael, take heed to yourſelves what ye intend to do as touching theſe men.

36 For before theſe days roſe up Theudas, boaſting himſelf to be ſomebody; to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themſelves: who was ſlain; and all, as many as ‖ obeyed him, were ſcattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man roſe up Judas of Galilee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he alſo periſhed; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were diſperſed.

38 And now I ſay unto you, Refrain from theſe men, and let them alone: [n] for if this counſel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 [o] But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; leſt haply ye be found even [p] to fight againſt God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had [q] called the apoſtles, [r] and beaten them, they commanded that they ſhould not ſpeak in the name of Jeſus, and let them go.

41 ¶ And they departed from the preſence of the council, [s] rejoicing that they were counted worthy to ſuffer ſhame for his name.

42 And daily [t] in the temple, and in every houſe, [u] they ceaſed not to teach and preach Jeſus Chriſt.

CHAP. VI.

1 The apoſtles, that the poor might not be neglected, recommend, 5 and with the church's conſent ordain ſeven choſen men deacons. 7 The word of God prevaileth. 8 Stephen, full of faith and the Holy Ghoſt, confuting thoſe with whom he diſputed, is brought before the council, and by ſuborned evidence falſely accuſed of blaſphemy againſt the law and the temple.

AND in thoſe days, [a] when the number of the diſciples was multiplied, there aroſe a murmuring of the [b] Grecians againſt the Hebrews, becauſe their widows were neglected [c] in the daily miniſtration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the diſciples unto them, and ſaid, [d] It is not reaſon that we ſhould leave the word of God, and ſerve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, [e] look ye out among you ſeven men of honeſt report, full of the Holy Ghoſt and wiſdom, whom we may appoint over this buſineſs.

4 But we [f] will give ourſelves continually to prayer, and to the miniſtry of the word.

5 ¶ And the ſaying pleaſed the whole multitude: and they choſe Stephen, [g] a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghoſt, and [h] Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Parmenas, and [i] Nicolas a proſelyte of Antioch:

6 Whom they ſet before the apoſtles: and [k] when they had prayed, [l] they laid their hands on them.

7 ¶ And [m] the word of God increaſed; and the number of the diſciples multiplied in Jeruſalem greatly; and a great company [n] of the prieſts were obedient to the faith.

8 ¶ And Stephen, full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there aroſe certain of the ſynagogue, which is called the ſynagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and Alexandrians, and of them of Cilicia and of Aſia, diſputing with Stephen.

10 And [o] they were not able to reſiſt the wiſdom and the ſpirit by which he ſpake.

11 [p] Then they ſuborned men, which ſaid, We have heard him ſpeak blaſphemous words againſt Moſes, and againſt God.

12 And they ſtirred up the people, and the elders, and the ſcribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 [q] For we have heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shall [r] destroy this place, and shall change the ‖ customs which Moses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking stedfastly on him, saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

CHAP. VII.

1 Stephen, called upon to answer the charge against him, relateth how God called Abraham, and gave him and his seed the land of Canaan by promise; 9 how Joseph was sold by his brethren, and Jacob with his family went down into Egypt; 17 how, when they were oppressed by the Egyptians, Moses was born, and sent to deliver Israel out of Egypt; 37 that this same Moses witnessed of Christ, received the law, and experienced the disobedience and idolatry of their forefathers; 44 who had the tabernacle of witness, till Solomon built the temple; 51 he reproacheth his hearers with imitating their father's rebellion against God, and persecution of his prophets, by having themselves murdered Christ, and transgressed the law they had received. 54 Stung with the reproach, they stone him, looking up with faith unto God, and calling upon Jesus to receive his soul, and forgive his persecutors.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, [s] Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And said unto him, [b] Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall shew thee.

4 Then [c] came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: [d] yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, [e] That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil [f] four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and [g] serve me in this place.

8 [h] And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: [i] and so Abraham begat Isaac, and circumcised him the eighth day; [k] and Isaac begat Jacob; and [l] Jacob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 ¶ [m] And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Joseph into Egypt: [n] but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, [o] and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and he made him governor over Egypt and all his house.

11 [p] Now there came a dearth over all the land of Egypt and Chanaan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 [q] But when Jacob heard that there was corn in Egypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 [r] And at the second time Joseph was made known to his brethren; and Joseph's kindred was made known unto Pharaoh.

14 [s] Then sent Joseph, and called his father Jacob to him, and [t] all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 [u] So Jacob went down into Egypt, [w] and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And [x] were carried over into Sychem, and laid in [y] the sepulchre that Abraham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Emmor the father of Sychem.

17 ¶ But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to Abraham, [z] the people grew and multiplied in Egypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Joseph.

19 The same dealt subtilly with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, [a] so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 [b] In which time Moses was born, and [c] was ‖ exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And [d] when he was cast out, Pharaoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Moses was learned in all the wisdom of the Egyptians, and was [e] mighty in words and in deeds.

23 [f] And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Israel.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the Egyptian:

25 ‖ For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them: but they understood not.

26 [g] And the next day he shewed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, [h] Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

29 [i] Then fled Moses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begat two sons.

30 [k] And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Sina an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Moses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him,

32 Saying, [l] I am the God of thy fathers, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Then Moses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 [m] Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 [n] I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer [o] by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 [p] He brought them out, after that he had [q] shewed wonders and signs in the land of Egypt, [a] and in the Red sea, [b] and in the wilderness forty years.

37 ¶ This is that Moses, which said unto the children of Israel, [c] A prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, ‖ like unto me; [d] him shall ye hear.

38 [e] This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with [f] the angel which spake to him in the mount Sina, and with our fathers: [g] who received the lively [h] oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into Egypt,

40 [i] Saying unto Aaron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Moses, which brought us out of the land of Egypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 [k] And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then [l] God turned, and gave them up to worship [m] the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, [n] O ye house of Israel, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Moloch, and the star of your god Remphan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Babylon.

44 ¶ Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, ‖ speaking unto Moses, [o] that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 [p] Which also our fathers ‖ that came after brought in with Jesus into the possession of the Gentiles, [q] whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of David;

46 [r] Who found favour before God, and [s] desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Jacob.

47 [t] But Solomon built him an house.

48 Howbeit [u] the most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,

49 [x] Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 Ye [y] stiffnecked and [z] uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 [a] Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which shewed before of the coming of [b] the Just One; of whom ye have been now the betrayers and murderers:

53 [c] Who have received the law by the disposition of angels, and have not kept it.

54 ¶ [d] When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, [e] being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up stedfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Jesus standing on the right hand of God,

56 And said, Behold, [f] I see the heavens opened, and the [g] Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord,

58 And [h] cast him out of the city, [i] and stoned him: and [k] the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Stephen, [l] calling upon God, and saying, Lord Jesus, [m] receive my spirit.

60 And he [n] kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, [o] Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The disciples being dispersed by reason of a great persecution at Jerusalem, a church is planted by Philip in Samaria; 9 Simon the sorcerer is baptized with many others. 14 Peter and John are sent thither, who by prayer and imposition of hands give the Holy Ghost. 18 Simon offereth money for the like power, is sharply reproved by Peter for his wickedness and hypocrisy, and admonished to repent: the apostles return to Jerusalem, having preached the word. 26 Philip is sent by an angel to convert and baptize an Ethiopian eunuch.

AND [a] Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Jerusalem; and [b] they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Judea and Samaria, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Stephen to his burial, and [c] made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, [d] he made havock of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women committed them to prison.

4 Therefore [e] they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5 Then [f] Philip went down to the city of Samaria, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For [g] unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And there was great joy in that city.

9 ¶ But there was a certain man, called Simon, which beforetime in the same city [h] used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Samaria, [i] giving out that himself was some great one:

10 To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Philip preaching the things [k] concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Jesus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the † miracles and signs which were done.

14 ¶ Now when the apostles which were at Jerusalem heard that Samaria had received the word of God, they sent unto them Peter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, [l] that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 For [m] as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only [n] they were baptized in [o] the name of the Lord Jesus.

17 Then [p] laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 ¶ And when Simon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money,

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Peter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because [q] thou hast thought that [r] the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, [s] if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in [t] the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Simon, and said, [u] Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Jerusalem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Samaritans.

26 ¶ And the angel of the Lord spake unto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south unto the way that goeth down from Jerusalem unto Gaza, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and, behold, [x] a man of Ethiopia, an eunuch of great authority under Candace queen of the Ethiopians, who had the charge of all her treasure, and [y] had come to Jerusalem for to worship,

28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read Esaias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Philip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet Esaias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Philip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the scripture which he read was this, [z] He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, [a] and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; [b] what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Philip said, [c] If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, [d] I believe that Jesus Christ is the son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, [e] the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

CHAP. IX.

1 Saul going toward Damascus is encompassed with a light from heaven, falleth to the earth, is called by Christ, and led blind to Damascus. 10 Ananias is sent to him, by whom he is restored to sight, and baptized: he straightway preacheth Christ boldly. 23 The Jews of Damascus seek to kill him; 26 he goeth to Jerusalem, and is brought to the apostles by Barnabas; preaching boldly against the Grecians, he is again in danger of his life, and is sent to Tarsus. 31 The church hath rest, and is multiplied. 32 Peter cureth Eneas of the palsy at Lydda; 36 and raiseth Tabitha to life at Joppa.

AND [f] Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Damascus to the synagogues, that if he found any † of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Jerusalem.

3 And [h] as he journeyed, he came near Damascus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, [i] why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: [k] it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, [l] what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And [m] the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Damascus, [n] named Ananias; and to him said the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and enquire in the house of Judas for one called Saul [o] of Tarsus: for, behold, he prayeth,

12 And hath seen in a vision a man named Ananias coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, [p] how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Jerusalem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all [q] that call on thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for [r] he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before [s] the Gentiles, and [t] kings, and the children of Israel:

16 For [u] I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

Anno DOMINI 35.

17 [p] And Ananias went his way, and entered into the house; and [q] putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Jesus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and [r] be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. [s] Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, [t] that he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said; [u] Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Jerusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, [x] and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Damascus, proving that this is very Christ.

A. D. 37.

23 ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, [y] the Jews took counsel to kill him:

24 [z] But their laying await was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and [a] let him down by the wall in a basket.

26 ¶ And [b] when Saul was come to Jerusalem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 [c] But Barnabas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, [d] and how he had preached boldly at Damascus in the name of Jesus.

28 And [e] he was with them coming in and going out at Jerusalem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Jesus, and disputed against the [f] Grecians: [g] but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 [h] Then had the churches rest throughout all Judea and Galilee and Samaria, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

A. D. 38.

32 ¶ And it came to pass, as Peter passed [i] throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there he found a certain man named Eneas, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Peter said unto him, Eneas, [k] Jesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt in Lydda and [l] Saron saw him, and [m] turned to the Lord.

36 ¶ Now there was at Joppa a certain disciple named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called ‖ Dorcas: this woman was full [n] of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in [o] an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Joppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not ‖ delay to come to them.

‖ Or, be grieved.

39 Then Peter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and shewing the coats and garments which Dorcas made, while she was with them.

40 But Peter [p] put them all forth, and [q] kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body [r] said, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Peter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up, and when he had called the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Joppa; [s] and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Joppa with one [t] Simon a tanner.

CHAP. X.

1 Cornelius, a devout centurion, being commanded by an angel, sendeth for Peter; 9 who in the mean time is prepared by an heavenly vision: 17 and, receiving a command from the Spirit, goeth with the messengers to Cesarea. 25 Cornelius receiveth him with great respect, and sheweth the occasion of his sending for him. 34 Peter preacheth Christ to him and his company: 44 the Holy Ghost falleth on them, whereupon they are baptized.

A. D. 41.

THERE was a certain man in Cesarea called Cornelius, a centurion of the band called the Italian band,

2 [a] A devout man, and one that [b] feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God alway.

3 [c] He saw in a vision evidently about the ninth hour of the day an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cornelius.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Joppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter:

6 He lodgeth with one [d] Simon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: [e] he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cornelius was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Joppa.

9 ¶ On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, [f] Peter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And [g] saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of four-footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter; kill, and eat.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord; [b] for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, [i] What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 ¶ Now while Peter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius had made enquiry for Simon's house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, [k] the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 [l] Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cornelius; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, [m] Cornelius the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and [n] of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by an holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Peter went away with them, [o] and certain brethren from Joppa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Cesarea. And Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 ¶ And as Peter was coming in, Cornelius met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter took him up, Saying, [p] Stand up; I myself also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how [q] that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but [r] God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me?

30 And Cornelius said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and, behold, [s] a man stood before me [t] in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cornelius, [u] thy prayer is heard, [x] and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Joppa, and call hither Simon, whose surname is Peter; he is lodged in the house of one Simon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 ¶ Then Peter opened his mouth, and said, [y] Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35 But [z] in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The word which God sent unto the children of Israel, [a] preaching peace by Jesus Christ: (he is Lord of all:)

37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Judea, and [c] began from Galilee, after the baptism which John preached;

38 How [d] God anointed Jesus of Nazareth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; [e] for God was with him.

39 And [f] we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Jerusalem; [g] whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him [h] God raised up the third day, and shewed him openly;

41 [i] Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, [k] who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And [l] he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify [m] that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge [n] of quick and dead.

43 [o] To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name [p] whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

44 ¶ While Peter yet spake these words, [q] the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 [r] And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Peter, [s] because that on the Gentiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Peter,

47 Can any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost [t] as well as we?

48 [u] And he commanded them to be baptized [x] in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

AND the apostles and brethren that were in Judea heard that the Gentiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come up to Jerusalem, [a] they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, [b] Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, [c] and didst eat with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it [d] by order unto them, saying,

5 [e] I was in the city of Joppa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; and it came even to me:

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea unto me.

[f] John 16. 13. ch. 10. 19. & 15. 7. [g] ch. 10. 23.

12 And [f] the spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover [g] these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

[h] ch. 10. 30.

13 [h] And he shewed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Joppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and all thy house shall be saved.

[i] ch. 2. 4.

15 And as I began to speak, the Holy Ghost fell on them, [i] as on us at the beginning.

[k] Matth. 3. 11. John 1. 26, 33. ch. 1. 5. & 19. 4.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, [k] John indeed baptized with water; but [l] ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, [o] Then hath God also to the Gentiles granted repentance unto life.

19 ¶ [p] Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Stephen travelled as far as Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which, when they were come to Antioch, spake unto [q] the Grecians, preaching the Lord Jesus.

21 And [r] the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and [s] turned unto the Lord.

[t] ch. 9. 27.

22 ¶ Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Jerusalem: and they sent forth [t] Barnabas, that he should go as far as Antioch.

[u] ch. 13. 43. & 14. 22.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and [u] exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and [x] full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: [y] and much people was added unto the Lord.

25 Then departed Barnabas to [z] Tarsus, for to seek Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto Antioch. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves ‖ with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Christians first in Antioch.

27 ¶ And in these days came [a] prophets from Jerusalem unto Antioch.

28 And there stood up one of them named [b] Agabus, and signified by the spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send [c] relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Judea:

CHAP. XII.

1 King Herod persecuteth the Christians, killeth James, and imprisoneth Peter, who upon the prayers of the church is delivered by an angel.
20 Herod, in his pride assuming the glory due to God, is smitten by an angel, and dieth miserably.
24 After his death the word of God prospereth.
25 Barnabas and Saul return to Antioch.

NOW about that time Herod the king ‖ stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.

[a] Matth. 4. 21. & 20. 23.

2 And he killed James [a] the brother of John with the sword.

[b] Exod. 12. 14, 15. & 23. 15. [c] John 21. 18.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Peter also. Then were [b] the days of unleavened bread.

4 And [c] when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

‖ Or, instant and earnest prayer was made. 2 Cor. 1. 11. Eph. 6. 18. 1 Thess. 5. 17.

5 Peter therefore was kept in prison: but ‖ prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

[d] ch. 5. 19.

6 And when Herod would have brought him forth, the same night Peter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, [d] the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals. And so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him; and [e] wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought [f] he saw a vision.

[e] Ps. 126. 1. [f] ch. 10. 3, 17. & 11. 5.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; [g] which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

[g] ch. 16. 26.

11 And when Peter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that [h] the Lord hath sent his angel, and [i] hath delivered me out of the hand of Herod, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, [k] he came to the house of Mary the mother of [l] John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together [m] praying.

[k] ch. 4. 23. [l] ch. 15. 37. [m] ver. 5.

13 And as Peter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came ‖ to hearken, named Rhoda.

‖ Or, to ask who was there,

14 And when she knew Peter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Peter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, [n] It is his angel.

[n] Gen. 48. 16 Matth. 18. 10.

16 But Peter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he, [c] beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go shew these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herod had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Judea to Cesarea, and there abode.

‖ Or, bare an hostile mind, intending war. † Gr. That was over the king's bedchamber.

20 ¶ And Herod ‖ was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Sidon: but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blastus † the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because [p] their country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day Herod, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord [q] smote him, because [r] he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 ¶ But [s] the word of God grew and multiplied.

‖ Or, charge.

25 ¶ And Barnabas and Saul returned from Jerusalem, when they had fulfilled their ‖ ministry, and [t] took with them [u] John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Barnabas and Saul, being set apart with fasting and prayer, are sent forth by the Holy Ghost to the work of their calling. 6 At Paphos Elymas the sorcerer opposing the gospel is smitten with blindness, and the deputy Sergius Paulus converted to the faith. 13 Paul and his company come to Antioch in Pisidia: Paul preacheth Christ, and the necessity of faith in him unto justification. 42 The Gentiles desire to hear the word again: many are converted. 44 The envious Jews gainsay and blaspheme: the apostles profess to turn to the Gentiles, of whom many believe. 50 The Jews raise a persecution, and expel Paul and Barnabas, who go to Iconium.

NOW there were [a] in the church that was at Antioch certain prophets and teachers; as [b] Barnabas, and Simeon that was called Niger, and [c] Lucius of Cyrene, and Manaen, ‖ which had been brought up with Herod the tetrarch, and Saul.

‖ Or, Herod's foster-brother.

2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, [d] Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work [e] whereunto I have called them.

3 And [f] when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 So they being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Seleucia; and from thence they sailed to [g] Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamis, [h] they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also [i] John to their minister.

6 ¶ And when they had gone through the isle unto Paphos, they found [k] a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-jesus:

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Sergius Paulus, a prudent man; who called for Barnabas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But [l] Elymas the sorcerer, (for so is his name by interpretation,) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul, (who also is called Paul,) [m] filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, [n] thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, [o] the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 ¶ Now when Paul and his company loosed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and [p] John departing from them returned to Jerusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and [q] went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

15 And [r] after the reading of the law and the prophets the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have [s] any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

† Gr. προφοφόρησεν, perhaps for ἐτροφοφόρησεν, bore, or, fed them, as a nurse beareth, or, feedeth her child.

16 Then Paul stood up, and [t] beckoning with his hand said, Men of Israel, and [u] ye that fear God, give audience.

17 The God of this people of Israel [x] chose our fathers, and exalted the people [y] when they dwelt as strangers in the land of Egypt, [z] and with an high arm brought he them out of it.

18 And [a] about the time of forty years † suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when [b] he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Chanaan, [c] he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that [d] he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, [e] until Samuel the prophet.

21 [f] And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, by the space of forty years.

22 And [g] when he had removed him, [h] he raised up unto them David to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, [i] I have found David the son of Jesse, [k] a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

23 [l] Of this man's seed hath God according [m] to his promise raised unto Israel [n] a Saviour, Jesus:

24 [o] When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Israel.

25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, [p] Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But, behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

you feareth God, [q] to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Jerusalem, and their rulers, [r] because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets [s] which are read every sabbath day, [t] they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 [u] And though they found no cause of death in him, [x] yet desired they Pilate that he should be slain.

29 [y] And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, [z] they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 [a] But God raised him from the dead:

31 And [b] he was seen many days of them which came up with him [c] from Galilee to Jerusalem, [d] who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that [e] the promise which was made unto the fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Jesus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, [f] Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, [g] I will give you the sure † mercies of David.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, [h] Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

36 For David, ‖ after he had served his own generation by the will of God, [i] fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that [k] through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

39 And [l] by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Moses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken of in [m] the prophets;

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder, and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

42 ¶ And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them † the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas: who, speaking to them, [n] persuaded them to continue in [o] the grace of God.

44 ¶ And the next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and [p] spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bold, and said, [q] It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but [r] seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, [s] we turn to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, [t] I have set thee to be a light of the Gentiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: [u] and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 ¶ But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and [x] raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 [y] But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto Iconium.

52 And the disciples [z] were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAP. XIV.

1 Paul and Barnabas are persecuted from Iconium by the malice of the unbelieving Jews. 8 At Lystra they heal an impotent man, and refuse divine honours with abhorrence. 19 Paul is stoned at the instigation of the Jews, but escapeth alive with Barnabas to Derbe. 21 Having passed through divers places, and confirmed the churches in faith and patience, they return to Antioch, and give an account of their ministry.

AND it came to pass in Iconium, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gentiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, [a] which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the [b] apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, [c] to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and [d] fled unto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 ¶ [e] And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

9 The same heard Paul speak: who stedfastly beholding him, and [f] perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, [g] Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, [h] The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Jupiter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, [i] and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Barnabas and Paul, heard of, [k] they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

18 And with theſe ſayings ſcarce reſtrained they the people, that they had not done ſacrifice unto them.

19 ¶ [t] And there came thither certain Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who perſuaded the people, [u] and, having ſtoned Paul, drew him out of the city, ſuppoſing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the diſciples ſtood round about him, he roſe up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

CHAP. XV.

1 Great diſſenſions ariſe about circumciſing the Gentiles: Paul and Barnabas are ſent to conſult the apoſtles and elders at Jeruſalem. 5 The matter is debated in a council there; 7 Peter declareth his opinion: 12 Paul and Barnabas report the miracles they had wrought among the Gentiles. 13 James pronounceth ſentence in favour of the Gentiles, requiring of them abſtinence only in a few particulars. 22 Letters are ſent with the determination by meſſengers to the churches, which are received with joy. 36 Paul and Barnabas propoſe to viſit together the churches they had planted, but diſagree, and travel different ways.

A. D. 52. AND [a] certain men which came down from Judea taught the brethren, and ſaid, [b] Except ye be circumciſed [c] after the manner of Moſes, ye cannot be ſaved.

2 When therefore Paul and Barnabas had no ſmall diſſenſion and diſputation with them, they determined that [d] Paul and Barnabas, and certain other of them, ſhould go up to Jeruſalem unto the apoſtles and elders about this queſtion.

3 And [e] being brought on their way by the church, they paſſed through Phenice and Samaria, [f] declaring the converſion of the Gentiles: and they cauſed great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Jeruſalem, they were received of the church, and of the apoſtles and elders, and [g] they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 ¶ But there ‖ roſe up certain of the ſect of the Phariſees which believed, ſaying, [h] That it was needful to circumciſe them, and to command them to keep the law of Moſes.

6 And the apoſtles and elders came together for to conſider of this matter.

7 ¶ And when there had been much diſputing, Peter roſe up, and ſaid unto them, [i] Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gentiles by my mouth ſhould hear the word of the goſpel, and believe.

8 And God, [k] which knoweth the hearts, bare them witneſs, [l] giving them the Holy Ghoſt, even as he did unto us;

9 [m] And put no difference between us and them, [n] purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, [o] to put a yoke upon the neck of the diſciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But [p] we believe that through the grace of the Lord Jeſus Chriſt we ſhall be ſaved, even as they.

12 ¶ Then all the multitude kept ſilence, and gave audience to Barnabas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had [q] wrought among the Gentiles by them.

13 ¶ And after they had held their peace, [r] James anſwered, ſaying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me:

14 [s] Simeon hath declared how God at the firſt did viſit the Gentiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 [t] After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will ſet it up:

17 That the reſidue of men might ſeek after the Lord, and all the Gentiles, upon whom my name is called, ſaith the Lord, who doeth all theſe things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore [u] my ſentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles [x] are turned to God:

20 But that we write unto them, that they abſtain [y] from pollutions of idols, and [z] from fornication, and from things ſtrangled, [a] and from blood.

21 For Moſes of old time hath in every city them that preach him, [b] being read in the ſynagogues every ſabbath day.

22 ¶ Then pleaſed it the apoſtles and elders, with the whole church, to ſend choſen men of their own company to Antioch with Paul and Barnabas; namely, Judas ſurnamed [c] Barſabas, and Silas, chief men among the brethren:

23 And they wrote letters by them after this manner; The apoſtles and elders and brethren ſend greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gentiles in Antioch and Syria and Cilicia:

24 Foraſmuch as we have heard, that [d] certain which went out from us have

5 ¶ But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of [e] Jason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

[e] Rom. 16. 21.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Jason and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, [f] These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;

[g] Luke 23. 2. John 19. 12. 1 Pet. 2. 13.

8 And they troubled the people and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Jason, and of the other, they let them go.

10 ¶ And [h] the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Silas by night unto Berea: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.

[h] ch. 9. 25. ver. 14.

11 These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and [i] searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.

13 ¶ But when the Jews of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 [k] And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

A. D. 54. [m] 2 Pet. 2. 8. ‖ Or, full of idols.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the Epicureans, and of the Stoicks, encountered him. And some said, What will this ‖ babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Jesus, and the resurrection.

‖ Or, base fellow.

19 And they took him, and brought him unto ‖ Areopagus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

‖ Or, Mars hill. It was the highest court in Athens.

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 (For all the Athenians and strangers which were there spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell, or to hear some new thing.)

22 ¶ Then Paul stood in the midst of ‖ Mars hill, and said, Ye men of Athens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your ‖ devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 [n] God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is [o] Lord of heaven and earth, [p] dwelleth not in temples made with hands;

25 Neither is worshipped with men's hands, [q] as though he needed any thing, seeing [r] he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and [s] the bounds of their habitation;

27 [t] That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, [u] though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For [x] in him we live, and move, and have our being; [y] as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, [z] we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And [a] the times of this ignorance God winked at; but [b] now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which [c] he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath ‖ given assurance unto all men, in that [d] he hath raised him from the dead.

32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, We will hear thee again of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Dionysius the Areopagite, and a woman named Damaris, and others with them.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Paul worketh for his subsistence, and preacheth Christ at Corinth, first to the Jews, and, upon their opposing and blaspheming, to the Gentiles with more success: 9 he is encouraged by the Lord in a vision, and abideth there a long time. 12 The Jews accuse him before Gallio the deputy, who will have nothing to do with them. 18 Paul passeth from city to city, confirming the disciples. 24 Apollos, instructed more perfectly in the Christian doctrine by Aquila and Priscilla, preacheth it at Ephesus, and afterward in Achaia, with great efficacy.

AFTER these things Paul departed from Athens, and came to Corinth;

2 And found a certain Jew named [a] Aquila, born in Pontus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Priscilla; (because that Claudius had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome:) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, [b] and wrought: for by their occupation they were tentmakers.

4 [c] And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And [d] when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was [e] pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Jesus ‖ was Christ.

6 And [f] when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, [g] he shook his raiment, and said unto them, [h] Your blood be upon your own heads; [i] I am clean: [k] from henceforth I will go unto the Gentiles.

7 And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Justus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 [l] And Crispus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Corinthians hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 ¶ Then [m] spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 [n] For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he † continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Gallio was the deputy of Achaia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat,

13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gallio said unto the Jews, [o] If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 And he drave them from the judgment seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took [p] Sosthenes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. And Gallio cared for none of those things.

18 ¶ And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syria, and with him Priscilla and Aquila; having [q] shorn his head in [r] Cenchrea: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Ephesus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, [s] I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Jerusalem: but I will return again unto you, [t] if God will. And he sailed from Ephesus.

22 And when he had landed at Cesarea, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to Antioch.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of [u] Galatia and Phrygia in order, [x] strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ [y] And a certain Jew named Apollos, born at Alexandria, an eloquent man, and mighty in the scriptures, came to Ephesus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being [z] fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, [a] knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the 14 And there were seven sons of one Sceva, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And the evil spirit answered and said, Jesus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

AND it came to pass, that after we were gotten from them, and had launched, we came with a straight course unto Coos, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Patara:

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptolemais, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Cesarea: and we entered into the house of Philip [d] the evangelist, [e] which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

18 And [c] saw him saying unto me, [d] Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Jerusalem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, [e] they know that I imprisoned and [f] beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying, Take heed what thou doest: for this man is a Roman.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Roman? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have ‖ examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Roman, and because he had bound him.

12 ¶ And when it was day, [n] certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves ‖ under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

‖ Or, with an oath of execration.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain that he bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would enquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee. Anno DOMINI 60.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

[o] ver. 12.

20 And he said, [o] The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into the council, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 ¶ And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

AND after [a] five days [b] Ananias the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Tertullus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Felix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 [c] For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Nazarenes:

6 [d] Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would [e] have judged according to our law.

7 [f] But the chief captain Lysias came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 [g] Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 ¶ Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Jerusalem [h] for to worship.

12 [i] And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confess unto thee, that after [k] the way which they call heresy, so worship I the [l] God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in [m] the law and in the prophets:

15 And [n] have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, [o] that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And [p] herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many years [q] I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 [r] Whereupon certain Jews from Asia found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

19 [s] Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had ought against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council,

21 Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, [t] Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

22 ¶ And when Felix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When [u] Lysias the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and [x] that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 ¶ And after certain days, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Jewess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 ¶ He hoped also that [y] money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 But after two years Porcius Festus came into Felix' room: and Felix, [z] willing to shew the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAP. XXV.

1 The Jews accuse Paul to Festus, first at Jerusalem, and afterward at Cesarea: 8 he answereth for himself, and appealeth to Cesar: his appeal is admitted. 13 Festus being visited by king Agrippa openeth the matter to him, who desireth to hear Paul. 23 Paul is brought forth; Festus declareth he found nothing in him worthy of death.

NOW when Festus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Cesarea to Jerusalem.

2 [a] Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Jerusalem, [b] laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, [c] if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them ‖ more than ten days, he went down unto Cesarea; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Jerusalem stood round about, [d] and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

8 ¶ While he answered for himself, [e] Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus, [f] willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, [g] Wilt thou go up to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesar's judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 [h] For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. [i] I appeal unto Cesar.

12 Then Festus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Cesar? unto Cesar shalt thou go.

‖ Or, I was doubtful how to enquire hereof. 20 And because ‖ I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Jerusalem, and there be judged of these matters.

‖ Or, judgment. 21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the ‖ hearing of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Cesar.

p See ch. 9. 15. 22 Then p Agrippa said unto Festus, I would also hear the man myself. To morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 ¶ And on the morrow, when Agrippa was come, and Bernice, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Festus' commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 And Festus said, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom q all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Jerusalem, and also here, crying

s ch. 23. 9, 29. & 26. 31. t ver. 11, 32. 25 But when I found that s he had committed nothing worthy of death, t and that he himself hath appealed to Augustus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king Agrippa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Paul in the presence of Agrippa declareth his life from his childhood, his wonderful conversion, and call to the apostleship, and his preaching of Christ according to the scripture doctrine. 24 Festus chargeth him with madness; his modest reply, and address to Agrippa, who confesseth himself almost a Christian. 30 The whole company pronounce him innocent.

THEN Agrippa said unto Paul, Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Jerusalem, know all the Jews;

5 Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after u the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Pharisee.

6 x And now I stand and am judged for the hope of y the promise made of God unto our fathers:

7 Unto which promise z our twelve tribes, instantly serving God † a day and night, b hope to come. For which hope's sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 c I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Jesus of Nazareth.

10 d Which thing I also did in Jerusalem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority e from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 f And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 g Whereupon as I went to Damascus with authority and commission from the chief priests,

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the Hebrew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, h to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, i unto whom now I send thee,

18 k To open their eyes, and l to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, m that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and n inheritance among them which are o sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:

20 But p shewed first unto them of Damascus, and at Jerusalem, and throughout all the coasts of Judea, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do q works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes r the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those which the prophets and Moses did say should come:

23 That Christ should suffer, and that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shew light unto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 ¶ And as he thus spake for himself, Festus said with a loud voice, Paul, thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Festus; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 Then Agrippa said unto Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Bernice, and they that sat with them:

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said Agrippa unto Festus, This man might have been set at liberty, if he had not appealed unto Cesar.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Paul is conducted in a ship toward Rome: 9 he foretelleth the danger of the voyage, but is not credited: 12 the ship setting sail against his advice is tossed with a tempest: 21 Paul comforteth his fellow travellers with assurances of having their lives saved, but foretelleth a shipwreck: all which is verified by the event.

AND when it was determined that we should sail into Italy, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Julius, a centurion of Augustus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Adramyttium, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of Asia; one Aristarchus, a Macedonian of Thessalonica, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Sidon. And Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cyprus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra, a city of Lycia.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cnidus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under ‖ Crete, over against Salmone;

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called The fair havens; nigh whereunto was the city of Lasea.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with ‖ hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 ¶ And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter; which is an haven of Crete, and lieth toward the south west and north west.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after there ‖ arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clauda, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing least they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 ¶ But after long abstinence Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve,

24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Cesar: and, lo, God hath given thee all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in Adria, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest they should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Appii forum, and The three taverns: whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and took courage.

24 And [s] some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by Esaias the prophet unto our fathers,

26 Saying, [t] Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed; lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

The Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the ROMANS.

CHAP. I.

Anno DOMINI 60.

1 Paul, commending to the Romans his calling, greeteth them, 8 and professeth his concern for, and desire of coming to see, them. 16 He sheweth that the gospel is for the justification of all mankind through faith; 18 and having premised that sinners in general are obnoxious to God's wrath, he describeth at large the corruptions of the Gentile world.

PAUL, [a] a servant of Jesus Christ, [b] called to be an apostle, [c] separated unto the gospel of God,

2 (d Which he had promised afore [e] by his prophets in the holy scriptures,)

3 Concerning his Son Jesus Christ our Lord, [f] which was [g] made of the seed of David according to the flesh;

4 And † [h] declared to be the Son of God with power, according [i] to the spirit of holiness, by the resurrection from the dead:

5 By whom [k] we have received grace and apostleship, ‖ for [l] obedience to the faith among all nations, [m] for his name:

6 Among whom are ye also the called of Jesus Christ:

7 To all that be in Rome, beloved of God, [n] called to be saints: [o] Grace to you and peace from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

8 First, [p] I thank my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that [q] your faith is spoken of throughout the whole world.

9 For [r] God is my witness, [s] whom I serve ‖ with my spirit in the gospel of his Son, that [t] without ceasing I make mention of you always in my prayers;

10 [u] Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey [x] by the will of God to come unto you.

11 For I long to see you, that [y] I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established;

12 That is, that I may be comforted together ‖ with you by [z] the mutual faith both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that [a] oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but [b] was let hitherto,) that I might have some [c] fruit ‖ among you also, even as among other Gentiles.

14 [d] I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Barbarians; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For [e] I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for [f] it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; [g] to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For [h] therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, [i] The just shall live by faith.

18 [k] For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness;

19 Because [l] that which may be known of God is manifest ‖ in them; for [m] God hath shewed it unto them.

20 For [n] the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; ‖ so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but [o] became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 [p] Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

23 And changed the glory of the uncorruptible [q] God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 [r] Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness through the lusts of their own hearts, [s] to dishonour their own bodies [t] between themselves:

25 Who changed [u] the truth of God [x] into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature ‖ more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto [y] vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompence of their error which was meet.

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, ‖ without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32 Who, [a] knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things [b] are worthy of death, not only do the same, but ‖ [c] have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAP. II.

1 They that condemn sin in others, and are guilty of the like themselves, cannot escape God's judgment; 6 which will be according to every man's deserts, without distinction of Jew or Gentile. 14 The Gentiles are not left without a rule of conduct. 17 The Jew, who boasteth of greater light, is doubly criminal in sinning against it; 25 nor will circumcision profit him, except he keep the law.

THerefore thou art [a] inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: [b] for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4 Or despisest thou [e] the riches of his goodness and [f] forbearance and [g] longsuffering; [h] not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But after thy hardness and impenitent heart [i] treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6 [k] Who will render to every man according to his deeds:

7 To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life:

8 But unto them that are contentious, and [l] do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil, of the Jew [x] first, and also of the † Gentile;

10 [l] But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good, to the Jew first, and also to the † Gentile:

11 For [m] there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law: and as many as have sinned in the law shall be judged by the law;

13 (For [n] not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.

14 For when the Gentiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:

15 Which shew the work of the law written in their hearts, ‖ their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts ‖ the mean while accusing or else excusing one another;)

16 [o] In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men [p] by Jesus Christ [q] according to my gospel.

17 Behold, [r] thou art called a Jew, and [s] restest in the law, [t] and makest thy boast of God,

18 And [u] knowest his will, and ‖ [x] approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law;

19 And [y] art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,

20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, [z] which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.

21 [a] Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, [b] dost thou commit sacrilege?

23 Thou that [c] makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gentiles through you, as it is [d] written.

25 [e] For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26 Therefore [f] if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, [g] judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?

28 For [h] he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Jew, [i] which is one inwardly; and [k] circumcision is that of the heart, [l] in the spirit, and not in the letter; [m] whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAP. III.

1 The Jew's prerogative: 3 which is not vacated by the unbelief of some; 5 nor is God's justice impeached in punishing their sinfulness. 9 The law itself convinceth the Jews also universally of sin; 20 so that no flesh is justified by the deeds of the law; 21 but all indiscriminately by God's grace through faith in Christ: 31 yet without annulling the obligations of the law.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly, because that [a] unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if [b] some did not believe? [c] shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 [d] God forbid: yea, let [e] God be true, but [f] every man a liar; as it is written, [g] That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? ([h] I speak as a man)

6 God forbid: for then [i] how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather, (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say,) [k] Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before † proved both Jews and Gentiles, that [l] they are all under sin;

10 As it is written, [m] There is none righteous, no, not one:

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13 [n] Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; [o] the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 [p] Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 [q] Their feet are swift to shed blood:

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18 [r] There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever [s] the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that [t] every mouth may be stopped, and [u] all the world may become ‖ guilty before God.

20 Therefore [x] by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for [y] by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21 But now [z] the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, [a] being witnessed by the law [b] and the prophets;

22 Even the righteousness of God which is [c] by faith of Jesus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe: for [d] there is no difference:

23 For [e] all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24 Being justified freely [f] by his grace [g] through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus:

25 Whom God hath ‖ set forth [h] to be a propitiation through faith [i] in his blood, to declare his righteousness [k] for the ‖ remission of [l] sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Jesus.

27 [m] Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay: but by the law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude [n] that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, of the Gentiles also:

30 Seeing [o] it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

[o] ch. 10. 12, 13. Gal. 3. 8, 20, 28.

CHAP. IV.

1 Abraham himself was justified by faith: 9 which was imputed to him for righteousness before circumcision, that he might be the common father of believers, whether circumcised or not. 13 The promise was not given him through the law, else had it been void from the very nature of the law; but being of faith by grace is sure to all the destined seed, and not to those of the law only. 18 The acceptableness of Abraham's faith; 23 which stands recorded not for his sake only, but for the sake of all who shall profess a like faith in God through Christ.

WHAT shall we then say that [a] Abraham, our father as pertaining to the flesh, hath found?

2 For if Abraham were [b] justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.

3 For what saith the scripture? [c] Abraham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4 Now [d] to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth [e] the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Even as David also describeth the blessedness of the man, unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, [f] Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And [g] he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that [h] he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father Abraham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

13 For the promise, that he should be the [i] heir of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For [k] if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because [l] the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be [m] by grace; [n] to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham; [o] who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, [p] I have made thee a father of many nations,) ‖ before him whom he believed, even God, [q] who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those [r] things which be not as though they were.

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, [s] So shall thy seed be.

21 And being fully persuaded that, what he had promised, [u] he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now [x] it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe [y] on him that raised up Jesus our Lord from the dead;

25 [z] Who was delivered for our offences, and [a] was raised again for our justification.

CHAP. V.

1 Being justified by faith, we have peace with God: 2 we glory in our hopes; 3 and in present afflictions; 6 from the past experience of God's love looking with more assurance for final salvation: 11 we glory in God also, to whom we are reconciled by Christ. 12 As sin and death came upon all men by Adam, so the grace of God, which justifieth unto life, cometh more abundantly unto all mankind through Christ. 20 Under the law sin abounded unto death; but grace hath much more abounded unto life.

THerefore [a] being justified by faith, we have [b] peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ:

2 [c] By whom also we have access by faith into this grace [d] wherein we stand, and [e] rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but [f] we glory in tribulations also: [g] knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4 [h] And patience, experience; and experience, hope:

5 [i] And hope maketh not ashamed; [k] because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6 For when we were yet without strength, ‖ in due time [l] Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But [m] God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then, being now justified [n] by his blood, we shall be saved [o] from wrath through him.

10 For [p] if, when we were enemies, [q] we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son, much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved [r] by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also [s] joy in God through our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom we have now received the ‖ atonement.

12 Wherefore, as [t] by one man sin entered into the world, and [u] death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, ‖ for that all have sinned:

13 (For until the law sin was in the world: but [x] sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless death reigned from Adam to Moses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Adam's transgression, [y] who is the figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift. For if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Jesus Christ, hath abounded [z] unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17 For if ‖ by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Jesus Christ.)

18 Therefore as ‖ by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so ‖ by the righteousness of one the free gift came [a] upon all men unto justification of life.

19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20 Moreover [b] the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much [c] more abound:

21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VI.

1 Though justified by grace, we may not live in sin; since the very figure of baptism requireth us to die with Christ unto sin, that we may lead a new life of holiness unto God. 14 The dispensation of grace freeth us from the dominion of sin; but we are still the servants of sin, if we obey it; therefore being freed from sin, we are bound unto holiness. 21 The end and wages of sin is death; but the fruit of holiness through God's grace is eternal life.

WHAT shall we say then? [a] Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2 God forbid. How shall we, that are [b] dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not, that [c] so many of us as ‖ were baptized into Jesus Christ [d] were baptized into his death?

4 Therefore we are [e] buried with him by baptism into death: that [f] like as Christ was raised up from the dead by [g] the glory of the Father, [h] even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5 [i] For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that [k] our old man is crucified with him, that [l] the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7 For [m] he that is dead is † freed from sin.

8 Now [n] if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9 Knowing that [o] Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, [p] he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, [q] he liveth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be [r] dead indeed unto sin, but [s] alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

12 [t] Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yield ye your [u] members as † instruments of unrighteousness unto sin: but [x] yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14 For [y] sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, [z] because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that [a] to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart [b] that form of doctrine † which was delivered you.

18 Being then [c] made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.

20 For when ye were [d] the servants of sin, ye were free † from righteousness.

21 [e] What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for [f] the end of those things is death.

22 But now [g] being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For [h] the wages of sin is death; but [i] the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

CHAP. VII.

1 No law having power over a person longer than he liveth, 4 we therefore, being become dead to the law by the body of Christ, are left free to place ourselves under a happier dispensation. 5 For the law through the prevalency of corrupt passions could only serve as an instrument of sin unto death; although it be in itself holy, and just, and good; 14 as is manifest by our reason approving the precepts of it, whilst our depraved nature is unable to put them in practice. 24 The wretchedness of man in such a situation, and God's mercy in his deliverance from it through Christ.

KNOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2 For [a] the woman which hath an husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then [b] if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become [c] dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should [d] bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the † motions of sins, which were by the law, [e] did work in our members [f] to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we are delivered from the law, ‖ that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve [g] in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, [h] I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known ‖ lust, except the law had said, [i] Thou shalt not covet.

8 But [k] sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For [l] without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment, [m] which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11 For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore [n] the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13 Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, [o] sold under sin.

15 For that which I do † allow not: for [p] what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that [q] in me (that is, in my flesh,) dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I [r] delight in the law of God after [s] the inward man:

23 But [t] I see another law in [u] my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from ‖ the body of this death?

25 [x] I thank God through Jesus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

prayer. 28 Nevertheless the final good of them that fear God is all along pursued, being foreordained of God, and brought about according to the course of his providence. 31 The ground and assurance of the Christian's hope.

THERE is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who [a] walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For [b] the law of [c] the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from [d] the law of sin and death.

3 For [e] what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, [f] God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and ‖ for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, [g] who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For [h] they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit [i] the things of the Spirit.

6 For [k] † to be carnally minded is death; but † to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

7 Because † [l] the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, [m] neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that [n] the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not [o] the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of [p] him that raised up Jesus from the dead dwell in you, [q] he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies ‖ by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 [r] Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For [s] if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do [t] mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14 For [u] as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15 For [x] ye have not received the spirit of bondage again [y] to fear; but ye have received the [z] Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, [a] Abba, Father.

16 [b] The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:

17 And if children, then heirs; [c] heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; [d] if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon that [e] the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For [f] the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the [g] manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For [h] the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope,

21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that ‖ the whole creation [i] groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23 And not only they, but ourselves also, which have [k] the firstfruits of the Spirit, [l] even we ourselves groan within ourselves, [m] waiting for the adoption, to wit, the [n] redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: but [o] hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for [p] we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but [q] the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And [r] he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, ‖ because he maketh intercession for the saints [s] according to the will of God.

28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them [t] who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom [u] he did foreknow, [x] he also did predestinate [y] to be conformed to the image of his Son, [z] that he might be the firstborn among many brethren.

30 Moreover whom he did predestinate, them he also [a] called: and whom he called, them he also [b] justified: and whom he justified, them he also [c] glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? [d] If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 [e] He that spared not his own Son, but [f] delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? [g] It is God that justifieth.

34 [h] Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, [i] who is even at the right hand of God, [k] who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 As it is written, [l] For thy sake we are killed all the day long; we are accounted as sheep for the slaughter.

37 [m] Nay, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him that loved us.

38 For I am persuaded, that neither death, nor life, nor angels, nor [n] principalities, nor powers, nor things present, nor things to come,

39 Nor height, nor depth, nor any other creature, shall be able to separate us from the love of God, which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

I [a] Say the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost,

2 [b] That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

3 For [c] I could wish that myself were ‖ accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh:

4 [d] Who are Israelites; [e] to whom pertaineth the adoption, and [f] the glory, and [g] the ‖ covenants, and [h] the giving of the law, and [i] the service of God, and [k] the promises;

5 [l] Whose are the fathers, and [m] of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, [n] who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6 [o] Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For [p] they are not all Israel, which are of Israel:

7 [q] Neither, because they are the seed of Abraham, are they all children: but, In [r] Isaac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but [s] the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, [t] At this time will I come, and Sarah shall have a son.

10 And not only this; but when [u] Rebecca also had conceived by one, even by our father Isaac;

11 (For the children being not yet born, neither having done any good or evil, that the purpose of God according to election might stand, not of works, but of [x] him that calleth;)

12 It was said unto her, [y] The ‖ elder shall serve the ‖ younger.

13 As it is written, [z] Jacob have I loved, but Esau have I hated.

14 What shall we say then? [a] Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

15 For he saith to Moses, [b] I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that sheweth mercy.

17 For [c] the scripture saith unto Pharaoh, [d] Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might shew my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For [e] who hath resisted his will?

20 Nay but, O man, who art thou that ‖ repliest against God? [f] Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the [g] potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make [h] one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 What if God, willing to shew his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering [i] the vessels of wrath ‖ [k] fitted to destruction:

23 And that he might make known [l] the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had [m] afore prepared unto glory,

24 Even us, whom he hath called, [n] not of the Jews only, but also of the Gentiles?

25 As he saith also in Osee, [o] I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved which was not beloved.

26 [p] and it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God.

27 Esaias also cried concerning Israel, [q] Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the sea, [r] a remnant shall be saved:

28 For he will finish ‖ the work, and cut it short in righteousness: [s] because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.

29 And as Esaias said before, [t] except the Lord of Sabaoth had left us a seed, [u] we had been as Sodoma, and been made like unto Gomorrha.

30 What shall we say then? [x] That the Gentiles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, [y] even the righteousness which is of faith.

31 But Israel, [z] which followed after the law of righteousness, [a] hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For [b] they stumbled at that stumblingstone;

33 As it is written, [c] Behold, I lay in Sion a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and [d] whosoever believeth on him shall not be ‖ ashamed.

CHAP. X.

1 Paul's prayer for Israel, who were misled by blind zeal. 4 The difference between justification by the law and by faith explained from scripture. 11 Salvation open to all that believe, both Jews and Gentiles. 14 The necessity of preaching to the Gentiles inferred. 19 God's acceptance of the Gentiles known before to the Jews; 21 as also their own refusal of his offered mercy.

BRethren, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saved.

2 For I bear them record [a] that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they being ignorant of [b] God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own [c] righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4 For [d] Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5 For Moses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, [e] That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, [f] Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? (that is, to bring Christ down from above:)

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? (that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.)

8 But what saith it? [g] The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach;

9 That [h] if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Jesus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11 For the scripture saith, [f] Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12 For [k] there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for [l] the same Lord over all [m] is rich unto all that call upon him.

13 [n] For whosoever shall call [o] upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear [p] without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, [q] How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But [r] they have not all obeyed the gospel. For Esaias saith, [s] Lord, who hath believed † our ‖ report?

17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, [t] their sound went into all the earth, [u] and their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Israel know? First Moses saith, [x] I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a [y] foolish nation I will anger you.

20 But Esaias is very bold, and saith, [z] I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21 But to Israel he saith, [a] All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAP. XI.

1 God hath not so far cast off all Israel, but that a remnant is saved by grace, not by works. 7 The judicial blindness of the rest is prophesied of in scripture. 11 The consequence both of their fall and conversion with regard to the Gentile world. 17 The Gentiles are cautioned not to insult the Jews, but to make a proper use of the example both of God's goodness and severity. 23 The Jews may, and shall in time, believe and be saved. 33 God's judgments and ways are unsearchable.

I Say then, [a] Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For [b] I also am an Israelite, of the seed of Abraham, of the tribe of Benjamin.

2 God hath not cast away his people which [c] he foreknew. Wot ye not what the scripture saith † of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel, saying,

3 [d] Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? [e] I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5 [f] Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 And [g] if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

7 What then? [h] Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were ‖ blinded

8 (According as it is written, [i] God hath given them the spirit of ‖ slumber, [k] eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear;) unto this day.

9 And David saith, [l] Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling-block, and a recompence unto them:

10 [m] Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather [n] through their fall salvation is come unto the Gentiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the ‖ diminishing of them the riches of the Gentiles; how much more their fulness?

13 For I speak to you Gentiles, inasmuch as [o] I am the apostle of the Gentiles, I magnify mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and [p] might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if [q] the first fruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if [r] some of the branches be broken off, [s] and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in ‖ among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 [t] Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in.

20 Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. [u] Be not highminded, but [x] fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, [y] if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [z] thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, [a] if they abide not in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree: how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be [b] wise in your own conceits; that [c] ‖ blindness in part is happened to Israel, [d] until the fulness of the Gentiles be come in.

26 And so all Israel shall be saved: as it is written, [e] There shall come out of Sion the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Jacob:

27 [f] For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are [g] beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are [h] without repentance.

30 For as ye [i] in times past have not ‖ believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:

1 Subjection to magistrates enforced. 7 We must render to all their dues: 8 only love is a debt we must always owe, and virtually containeth the whole law. 11 Rioting, drunkenness, and other works of darkness, must be put away, as much out of season under the gospel.

LET every soul [a] be subject unto the higher powers. For [b] there is no power but of God: the powers that be are ‖ ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth [c] the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power; [d] do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5 Wherefore [e] ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, [f] but also for conscience sake.

6 For for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7 [g] Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for [h] he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, [i] Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, [k] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore [l] love is the fulfilling of the law.

now it is high time [m] to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

1 Directions to treat a weak brother kindly, and not to despise or censure one another in matters of indifference. 7 Christ's right to our best services, whether we live or die. 10 We must all be answerable for our respective conduct at his judgment seat. 13 We must be careful not to use our Christian liberty to the hurt or offence of tender consciences.

HIM that [a] is weak in the faith receive ye, but ‖ not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he [b] may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and [c] let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 [d] Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth. Yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5 [e] One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be ‖ fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 He that [f] ‖ regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for [g] he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For [h] none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9 For [i] to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be [k] Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for [l] we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, [m] As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then [n] every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that [o] no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Jesus, [p] that there is nothing † unclean of itself: but [q] to him that esteemeth any thing to be † unclean, to him it is unclean.

17 [t] For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ [u] is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 [x] Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith [y] one may edify another.

20 [z] For meat destroy not the work of God. [a] All things indeed are pure; [b] but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eat [c] flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. [d] Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

WE [a] then that are strong ought to bear the [b] infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2 [c] Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good [d] to edification.

3 [e] For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, [f] The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4 For [g] whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the scriptures might have hope.

5 [h] Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another ‖ according to Christ Jesus:

6 That ye may [i] with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ.

7 Wherefore [k] receive ye one another, [l] as Christ also received us to the glory of God.

8 Now I say that [m] Jesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, [n] to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:

9 And [o] that the Gentiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, [p] For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gentiles, and sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith, [q] Rejoice, ye Gentiles, with his people.

11 And again, [r] Praise the Lord, all ye Gentiles; and laud him, all ye people.

12 And again Esaias saith, [s] There shall be a root of Jesse, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gentiles; in him shall the Gentiles trust.

may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And [u] I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, [w] filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, [x] because of the grace that is given to me of God,

16 That [y] I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the ‖ [z] offering up of the Gentiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ [a] in those things which pertain to God.

18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things [b] which Christ hath not wrought by me, [c] to make the Gentiles obedient, by word and deed,

19 [d] Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Jerusalem, and round about unto Illyricum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20 Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, [e] lest I should build upon another man's foundation:

21 But as it is written, [f] To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22 For which cause also [g] I have been ‖ much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and [h] having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, [i] and to be brought on my way thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled † with your company.

25 But now [k] I go unto Jerusalem to minister unto the saints.

26 For [l] it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Jerusalem.

27 It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For [m] if the Gentiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, [n] their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28 When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them [o] this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29 [p] And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

30 Now I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and [q] for the love of the Spirit, [r] that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me;

31 [s] That I may be delivered from them that ‖ do not believe in Judea; and that [t] my service which I have for Jerusalem may be accepted of the saints;

32 [u] That I may come unto you with joy [x] by the will of God, and may with you be [y] refreshed.

33 Now [z] the God of peace be with you all. Amen.

2 [b] That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.

7 Salute Andronicus and Junia, my kinsmen, and my fellowprisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also [f] were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Amplias my beloved in the Lord.

9 Salute Urbane, our helper in Christ, and Stachys my beloved.

10 Salute Apelles approved in Christ. Salute them which are of Aristobulus' ‖ household.

11 Salute Herodion my kinsman. Greet them that be of the ‖ household of Narcissus, which are in the Lord.

12 Salute Tryphena and Tryphosa, who labour in the Lord. Salute the beloved Persis, which laboured much in the Lord.

13 Salute Rufus [g] chosen in the Lord, and his mother and mine.

14 Salute Asyncritus, Phlegon, Hermas, Patrobas, Hermes, and the brethren which are with them.

15 Salute Philologus, and Julia, Nereus, and his sister, and Olympas, and all the saints which are with them.

16 [h] Salute one another with an holy kiss. The churches of Christ salute you.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them [i] which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and [k] avoid them.

18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Jesus Christ, but [l] their own belly; and [m] by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

19 For [n] your obedience is come abroad unto all men. I am glad therefore on your behalf: but yet I would have you [o] wise unto that which is good, and ‖ simple concerning evil.

20 And [p] the God of peace [q] shall ‖ bruise Satan under your feet shortly. [r] The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen.

1 PAUL, [a] called to be an apoſtle of Jeſus Chriſt [b] through the will of God, and [c] Soſthenes our brother,

2 Unto the church of God which is at Corinth, [d] to them that [e] are ſanctified in Chriſt Jeſus, [f] called to be ſaints, with all that in every place [g] call upon the name of Jeſus Chriſt [h] our Lord, [i] both their's and our's:

3 [k] Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

4 [l] I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Jeſus Chriſt;

5 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, [m] in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6 Even as [n] the teſtimony of Chriſt was confirmed in you:

7 So that ye come behind in no gift; [o] waiting for the † coming of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt:

8 [p] Who ſhall alſo confirm you unto the end, [q] that ye may be blameleſs in the day of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

9 [r] God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto [s] the fellowſhip of his Son Jeſus Chriſt our Lord.

10 Now I beſeech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, [t] that ye all ſpeak the ſame thing, and that there be no † diviſions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the ſame mind and in the ſame judgment.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the houſe of Chloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I ſay, [u] that every one of you ſaith, I am of Paul; and I of [x] Apollos; and I of [y] Cephas; and I of Chriſt.

13 [z] Is Chriſt divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but [a] Criſpus and [b] Gaius;

15 Leſt any ſhould ſay that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized alſo the houſhold of [c] Stephanas: beſides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Chriſt ſent me not to baptize, but to preach the goſpel: [d] not with wiſdom of ‖ words, leſt the croſs of Chriſt ſhould be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the croſs is to [e] them that periſh [f] fooliſhneſs; but unto us [g] which are ſaved it is the [h] power of God.

19 For it is written, [i] I will deſtroy the wiſdom of the wiſe, and will bring to nothing the underſtanding of the prudent.

20 [k] Where is the wiſe? where is the ſcribe? where is the diſputer of this world? [l] hath not God made fooliſh the wiſdom of this world?

21 [m] For after that in the wiſdom of God the world by wiſdom knew not God, it pleaſed God by the fooliſhneſs of preaching to ſave them that believe.

22 For the [n] Jews require a ſign, and the Greeks ſeek after wiſdom:

23 But we preach Chriſt crucified, [o] unto the Jews a ſtumbling block, and unto the Greeks [p] fooliſhneſs;

24 But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Chriſt [q] the power of God, and [r] the wiſdom of God.

25 Becauſe the fooliſhneſs of God is wiſer than men; and the weakneſs of God is ſtronger than men.

26 For ye ſee your calling, brethren, how that [s] not many wiſe men after the fleſh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:

27 But [t] God hath choſen the fooliſh things of the world to confound the wiſe; and God hath choſen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty;

28 And baſe things of the world, and things which are deſpiſed, hath God choſen, yea, and [u] things which are not, [x] to bring to nought things that are:

29 [y] That no fleſh ſhould glory in his preſence.

30 But of him are ye in Chriſt Jeſus, who of God is made unto us [z] wiſdom, and [a] righteouſneſs, and [b] ſanctification, and [c] redemption:

31 That, according as it is written, [d] He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul declareth that he uſed not human learning and eloquence in preaching the goſpel to his converts, that their faith, being built on the teſtimony of the ſpirit, and on miracles, might be ſolely aſcribed to God. 6 The goſpel doth contain God's wiſe, but ſecret, counſel for bringing men to glory; which no natural abilities could diſcover, but the Spirit of God only, by which it was revealed to the apoſtles. 14 Upon this account both the doctrine and its teachers are held in diſeſteem by the mere natural man, who is not duly qualified to judge of and diſcern them.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, [a] came not with excellency of ſpeech or of wisdom, declaring unto you [b] the testimony of God.

2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, [c] save Jesus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And [d] I was with you [e] in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 And my speech and my preaching [f] was not with ‖ enticing words of man's wisdom, [g] but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

5 That your faith should not † stand in the wisdom of men, but [h] in the power of God.

6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among them [i] that are perfect: yet not [k] the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, [l] that come to nought:

7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, [m] which God ordained before the world unto our glory:

8 [n] Which none of the princes of this world knew: for [o] had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written, [p] Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 But [q] God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, [r] save the spirit of man which is in him? [s] even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but [t] the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 [u] Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 [x] But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God: [y] for they are foolishness unto him: [z] neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 [a] But he that is spiritual ‖ judgeth all things, yet he himself is ‖ judged of no man.

16 [b] For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he † may instruct him? [c] But we have the mind of Christ.

‖ Or, discerneth. ‖ Or, discerned. [b] Job. 15. 8. Isai. 40. 13. Wisd. 9. 13. Rom. 11. 34. † Gr. shall. [c] John 15. 15.

CHAP. III.

1 Paul sheweth that he could not instruct the Corinthians in the higher doctrines of Christianity because of their carnal mind; 3 which temper discovered itself in their factions. 5 The most eminent preachers of the gospel are but instruments employed by God in building his church. 10 Paul hath laid the only true foundation, Christ Jesus; and others must take heed what they build thereon. 16 Christians are God's temple, not to be defiled. 18 Worldly wisdom is foolishness with God. 21 They that are Christ's must not glory in men.

AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto [a] spiritual, but as unto [b] carnal, even as unto [c] babes in Christ.

2 I have fed you with [d] milk, and not with meat: [e] for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnal: for [f] whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and ‖ divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk † as men?

4 For while one saith, [g] I am of Paul; and another, I am of Apollos; are ye not carnal?

5 Who then is Paul, and who is Apollos, but [h] ministers by whom ye believed, [i] even as the Lord gave to every man?

6 [k] I have planted, [l] Apollos watered; [m] but God gave the increase.

7 So then [n] neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: [o] and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9 For [p] we are labourers together with God: ye are God's ‖ husbandry, ye are [q] God's building.

10 [r] According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid [s] the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But [t] let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For other foundation can no man lay than [u] that is laid, [x] which is Jesus Christ.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13 [y] Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day [z] shall declare it, because [a] it † shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, [b] he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; [c] yet so as by fire.

16 [d] Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man ‖ defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 [e] Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 For [f] the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, [g] He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 And again, [h] The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 Therefore [i] let no man glory in men. For [k] all things are your's;

22 Whether Paul, or Apollos, or Cephas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are your's;

23 And [l] ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

CHAP. IV.

1 Paul sheweth in what account such as he should be held, of whose fidelity it should be left to God to judge. 6 He disclaimeth the Corinthians from valuing themselves in one teacher above another, since all had their respective distinctions from God. 8 To their self-sufficient vanity he opposeth his own despised and afflicted state; 14 warning them, as their only father in Christ, and urging them to follow him. 17 For the same cause he sent Timotheus, and meant soon to follow in person, when he would enquire into the authority of such as opposed him.

LET a man so account of us, as of [a] the ministers of Christ, [b] and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's † judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.

4 For I know nothing by myself; [c] yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 [d] Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, [e] who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and [f] then shall every man have praise of God.

6 And these things, brethren, [g] I have in a figure transferred to myself and to Apollos for your sakes; [h] that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you [i] be puffed up for one against another.

7 For who † maketh thee to differ from another? and [k] what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?

8 Now ye are full, [l] now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath set forth ‖ us the apostles last, [m] as it were appointed to death: for [n] we are made a † spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 [o] We are [p] fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; [q] we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 [r] Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and [s] are naked, and [t] are buffeted, and have no certain dwellingplace;

12 [u] And labour, working with our own hands: [x] being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it:

13 Being defamed, we intreat: [y] we are made as the filth of the earth, and are the offscouring of all things unto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but [z] as my beloved sons I warn you.

15 For though ye have ten thousand instructers in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for [a] in Christ Jesus I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 Wherefore I beseech you, [b] be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause have I sent unto you [c] Timotheus, [d] who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you [e] into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I [f] teach every where [g] in every church.

18 [h] Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19 [i] But I will come to you shortly, [k] if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 For [l] the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? [m] shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAP. V.

1 Paul reproveth a scandalous incest committed and protected from censure in the church at Corinth; 3 and by his authority in Christ excommunicateth the offender. 6 The necessity of purging out the old leaven. 9 Christians guilty of notorious crimes are not to be consorted with.

IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as [a] named among the Gentiles, [b] that one should have his [c] father's wife.

2 [d] And ye are puffed up, and have not rather [e] mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3 [f] For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have ‖ judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed,

4 In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, [g] with the power of our Lord Jesus Christ,

5 [h] To deliver such an one unto [i] Satan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

6 [k] Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that [l] a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even [m] Christ our [n] passover ‖ is sacrificed for us:

8 Therefore [o] let us keep ‖ the feast, [p] not with old leaven, neither [q] with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle [r] not to company with fornicators:

10 [s] Yet not altogether with the fornicators [t] of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go [u] out of the world.

11 But now I have written unto you not to keep company, [x] if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such an one [y] no not to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge [z] them also that are without? do not ye judge [a] them that are within?

13 But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore [b] put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAP. VI.

1 The Corinthians are reproved for bringing their controversies before heathen judges, which they ought to decide among themselves. 7 There would be no occasion for lawsuits, if men acted up to the principles of the gospel, 9 which exclude from the kingdom of God all notorious transgressors of the moral law. 12 All lawful things are not expedient; 15 but fornication is a gross offence against our bodies, which are members of Christ, temples of the Holy Ghost, and not our own to dispose of otherwise than to God's glory.

DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that [a] the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall [b] judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 [c] If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. [g] Why do ye not rather take wrong? why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, [h] and that your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: [i] neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were [s] some of you: [k] but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 [l] All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not ‖ expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 [m] Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but [n] for the Lord; [o] and the Lord for the body.

14 And [p] God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us [q] by his own power.

15 Know ye not that [r] your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of an harlot? God forbid.

16 What? know ye not that he which is joined to an harlot is one body? for [t] two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 [u] But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

18 [x] Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth [y] against his own body.

19 What? [z] know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, [a] and ye are not your own?

20 For [b] ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAP. VII.

1 Marriage is to be used as a remedy against fornication. 10 Christ hath forbidden to dissolve the bond thereof. 12 Directions how to act where one of the parties is an unbeliever. 17 Every man must abide in and fulfil the duties of the state wherein he was called. 25 Directions concerning the marriage of virgins, respecting the distress of the times; 39 and concerning the second marriage of widows.

NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: [1] It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

3 [2] Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 [3] Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that [4] Satan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, [5] and not of commandment.

7 For [6] I would that all men were [7] even as I myself. But [8] every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, [9] It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But [10] if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married I command, [11] yet not I, but the Lord, [12] Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, [13] not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath an husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else [14] were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us [15] † to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt [16] save thy husband? or † how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And [17] so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him [18] not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision: [19] let him not be circumcised.

19 [20] Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but [21] the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is [22] the Lord's † freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is [23] Christ's servant.

23 [24] Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, [25] let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins [c] I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one [d] that hath obtained mercy of the Lord [e] to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present ‖ distress, I say, [f] that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 But [g] this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31 And they that use this world, as not [h] abusing it: for [i] the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without carefulness. [k] He that is unmarried careth for the things † that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman [l] careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38 [m] So then he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

39 [n] The wife is bound by the law as long as her husband liveth; but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will; [o] only in the Lord.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, [p] after my judgment: and [q] I think also that I have the Spirit of God.

CHAP. VIII.

1 The preference of charity to knowledge. 4 An idol is nothing in the esteem of those who have right notions of one God, and of one Lord Jesus Christ. 7 But it is sin in those, who by an indiscreet use of their knowledge, in eating meats offered to idols, tempt weaker consciences to offend.

NOW [a] as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have [b] knowledge. [c] Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

2 And [d] if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, [e] the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that [f] an idol is nothing in the world, [g] and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are [h] called Gods, whether in heaven or in earth, (as there be gods many, and lords many,)

6 But [i] to us there is but one God, the Father, [k] of whom are all things, and we ‖ in him; and [l] one Lord Jesus Christ, [m] by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some [n] with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is [o] defiled.

8 But [p] meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, ‖ are we the better; neither, if we eat not, ‖ are we the worse.

9 But [q] take heed lest by any means this ‖ liberty of your's become [r] a stumbling-block to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in [s] the idol's temple, shall not [t] the conscience of him which is weak be † emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;

11 And [u] through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 But [x] when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Wherefore, [y] if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAP. IX.

1 Paul vindicateth his apostolical character, 3 and right to a maintenance from the churches; 15 though he relinquished that right for the furtherance of the gospel, not content with doing only his indispensable duty; 19 but voluntarily subjecting himself in many points, where he was otherwise free, in order thereby to win over more converts to Christ. 24 Those who contend for a corruptible crown use much labour and abstinence; 26 so doth the apostle strive for one that is incorruptible.

[a] AM I not an apostle? am I not free? [b] have I not seen Jesus Christ our Lord? [c] are not ye my work in the Lord?

2 If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for [d] the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that [a] he that ploweth should plow in hope; and that he that threshеth in hope should be partaker of his hope.

11 [b] If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

12 If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? [p] Nevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, [q] lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 [r] Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things ‖ live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar?

14 Even so [s] hath the Lord ordained [t] that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15 But [u] I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for [x] it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for [y] necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!

17 For if I do this thing willingly, [z] I have a reward: but if against my will, [a] a dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 What is my reward then? Verily that, [b] when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I [c] abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 For though I be [d] free from all men, yet have [e] I made myself servant unto all, [f] that I might gain the more.

20 And [g] unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;

21 [h] To [i] them that are without law, as without law, ([k] being not without law to God, but under the law to Christ,) that I might gain them that are without law.

22 [l] To the weak became I as weak, that I might gain the weak: [m] I am made all things to all men, [n] that I might by all means save some.

23 And this I do for the gospel's sake, that I might be partaker thereof with you.

24 Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? [o] So run, that ye may obtain.

25 And every man that [p] striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we [q] an incorruptible.

26 I therefore so run, [r] not as uncertainly; so fight I, not as one that beateth the air:

27 [s] But I keep under my body, and [t] bring it into subjection: lest that by any means, when I have preached to others, I myself should be [u] a castaway.

CHAP. X.

1 The Jews who came out of Egypt had all sacraments typical of our's, yet many of them perished through sin. 6 Their examples should serve, as they were intended, for our admonition. 13 God will not suffer his servants to be tempted beyond their strength. 14 Christians must flee idolatry, and not by partaking of idol sacrifices own fellowship with devils. 23 Even in the use of things lawful we should consult the good of others, 31 and refer all we do to God's glory, 32 careful to give none offence, after the apostle's own example.

MOreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under [a] the cloud, and all passed through [b] the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea;

3 And did all eat the same [c] spiritual meat;

4 And did all drink the same [d] spiritual drink: for they drank of that spiritual Rock that ‖ followed them: and that Rock was Christ.

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they [e] were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were † our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as [f] they also lusted.

7 [g] Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, [h] The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 [i] Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and [k] fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let us tempt Christ, as [l] some of them also tempted, and [m] were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as [n] some of them also murmured, and [o] were destroyed of [p] the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for ‖ ensamples: and [q] they are written for our admonition, [r] upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore [s] let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you but ‖ such as is common to man: but [t] God is faithful, [u] who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also [x] make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, [y] flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as to [z] wise men; judge ye what I say.

16 [a] The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? [b] The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 For [c] we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold [d] Israel [e] after the flesh: [f] are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? [g] that the idol is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 But I say, that the things which the Gentiles [h] sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 [i] Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and [k] the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers [l] of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

22 Do we [t] provoke the Lord to jealousy? [u] are we stronger than he?

23 [x] All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.

24 [o] Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.

25 [p] Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience sake:

26 For [q] the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27 If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go; [r] whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience sake.

28 But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols, eat not [s] for his sake that shewed it, and for conscience sake: for [t] the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof:

29 Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other: for [u] why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience?

30 For if I by ‖ grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that [z] for which I give thanks?

31 [y] Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 [a] Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the † Gentiles, nor to [a] the church of God:

33 Even as [b] I please all men in all things, [c] not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAP. XI.

1 Paul exhorteth the Corinthians to follow him, as he did Christ. 2 He praiseth them for observing the rules he had given them; 3 and forbiddeth men to pray or prophesy with heads covered, and women with heads uncovered; the covering of the head being a token of subjection. 17 He blameth them for abuses in their religious assemblies, particularly for their divisions, 20 and profanation of the Lord's supper. 23 He remindeth them of the first institution thereof, and sheweth the danger of partaking of it unworthily.

BE [z] ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you, brethren, [b] that ye remember me in all things, and [c] keep the ‖ ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 But I would have you know, that [d] the head of every man is Christ; and [e] the head of the woman is the man; and [f] the head of Christ is God.

4 Every man praying or [g] prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But [h] every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were [i] shaven.

6 For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be [k] a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as [l] he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For [m] the man is not of the woman; but the woman of the man.

9 [n] Neither was the man created for the woman; but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman [o] to have ‖ power on her head [p] because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless [q] neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman; [r] but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a ‖ covering.

16 But [s] if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, [t] neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, [u] I hear that there be ‖ divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 For [z] there must be also ‖ heresies among you, [y] that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, ‖ this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and [z] another is drunken.

22 What? have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye [a] the church of God, and [b] shame ‖ them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For [c] I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, [d] That the Lord Jesus the same night in which he was betrayed took bread:

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat: this is my body, which is broken for you: this do ‖ in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ‖ ye do shew the Lord's death [e] till he come.

27 [f] Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But [g] let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh ‖ damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31 For [h] if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32 But when we are judged, [i] we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

34 And if any man [k] hunger, let him eat at [l] home; that ye come not together unto ‖ condemnation. And the rest [m] will I set in order when [n] I come.

CHAP. XII.

1 Paul teacheth that none can own Christ but by the Holy Ghost; 4 whose gifts are diverse, 7 and dealt out to different persons to profit withal. 12 As many members make up one natural body, so Christians in general form one mystical body: 14 and as every member is equally a part of the natural body, and hath a necessary function allotted it; 27 so is it with Christ's body, the church; to the several members of which God hath assigned different gifts and offices for the general good.

Anno DOMINI 59.

NOW [a] concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know [b] that ye were Gentiles, carried away unto these [c] dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, [d] that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Jesus ‖ accursed: and [e] that no man can say that Jesus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.

4 Now [f] there are diversities of gifts, but [g] the same Spirit.

5 [h] And there are differences of ‖ administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God [i] which worketh all in all.

7 [k] But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit [l] the word of wisdom; to another [m] the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 [n] To another faith by the same Spirit; to another [o] the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 [p] To another the working of miracles; to another [q] prophecy; [r] to another discerning of spirits; to another [s] divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

11 But all these worketh that one and the self-same Spirit, [t] dividing to every man severally [u] as he will.

12 For [x] as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: [y] so also is Christ.

13 For [z] by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, [a] whether we be Jews or † Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and [b] have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath [c] God set the members every one of them in the body, [d] as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we ‖ bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no ‖ schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now [e] ye are the body of Christ, and [f] members in particular.

28 And [g] God hath set some in the church, first [h] apostles, secondarily [i] prophets, thirdly teachers, after that [k] miracles, then [l] gifts of healings, [m] helps, [n] governments, ‖ diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all ‖ workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But [o] covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet shew I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAP. XIII.

1 All gifts, how excellent soever, without charity are nothing worth. 4 The praises of charity, 13 and it's preference to faith and hope.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of [a] prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, [b] so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3 And [c] though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 [d] Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity ‖ vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5 Doth not behave itself unseemly, [e] seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6 [f] Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but [g] rejoiceth ‖ in the truth;

7 [h] Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 [i] For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I ‖ thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For [k] now we see through a glass, † darkly; but then [l] face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, cha-

CHAP. XIV.

1 Prophecy for its greater tendency to edification is preferred before speaking with tongues. 6 Tongues not understood, like indistinct musical sounds, are of no service to the hearers. 12 All gifts should be referred to edification. 21 Tongues are of use for the conviction of unbelievers; 23 but in the assemblies of the church prophecy is more useful. 26 Rules for the orderly exercise of spiritual gifts in the church. 34 Women are forbidden to speak there. 39 An exhortation to use each gift freely, but with decency and order.

[a] ch. 12. 31. [b] Numb. 11. 25, 29. [c] Acts 2. 4. & 10. 46. † Gr. heareth. Acts 22. 9.

FOLLOW after charity, and [a] desire spiritual gifts, [b] but rather that ye may prophesy.

2 For he that [c] speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man † understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6 Now, brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by [d] revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

[d] ver. 26.

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the ‖ sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

‖ Or, tunes.

8 For if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words † easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous † of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

† Gr. of spirits.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: [e] I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing [f] with the understanding also.

[e] Ephes. 5. 19. Col. 3. 16. [f] Ps. 47. 7.

16 Else when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned say Amen [g] at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

[g] ch. 11. 24.

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, [h] be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice [i] be ye children, but in understanding be † men.

[k] John 10. 34. [l] Isai. 28. 11, 12.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, [m] will they not say that ye are mad?

[m] Acts 2. 13.

24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report [n] that God is in you of a truth.

[n] Isai. 45. 14. Zech. 8. 23.

26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, [o] hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. [p] Let all things be done unto edifying.

[o] ver. 6. ch. 12. 8, 9, 10. [p] ch. 12. 7. 2 Cor. 12. 19. Eph. 4. 12.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 Let the prophets speak two or three, and [q] let the other judge.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What? came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

CHAP. XV.

1 From the truth of Christ's resurrection Paul inferreth the necessity of our own. 20 Christ, the firstfruits, being raised, shall be followed in due order by those that are his; 24 till having subdued all enemies he shall give up the kingdom to God the father. 29 If there be no resurrection of the dead, in vain is it for any one to risk his life, as the apostle did, continually. 35 The manner of the resurrection. 51 The change which shall be wrought at the last day in the bodies both of the dead and the living. 58 An exhortation to stedfast faith and perseverance in our duty.

MOreover, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel [a] which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and [b] wherein ye stand;

2 [c] By which also ye are saved, if ye ‖ keep in memory † what I preached unto you, unless [d] ye have believed in vain.

3 For [e] I delivered unto you first of all that [f] which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins [g] according to the scriptures;

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day [h] according to the scriptures:

5 [i] And that he was seen of Cephas, then [k] of the twelve:

6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7 After that, he was seen of James; then [l] of all the apostles.

8 [m] And last of all he was seen of me also, as of ‖ one born out of due time.

9 For I am [n] the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because [o] I persecuted the Church of God.

10 But [p] by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but [q] I laboured more abundantly than they all: [r] yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, [s] then is Christ not risen:

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because [t] we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised:

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; [u] ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.

19 [x] If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now [y] is Christ risen from the dead, and become [z] the firstfruits of them that slept.

21 For [a] since by man came death, [b] by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 But [c] every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up [d] the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power.

25 For he must reign, [e] till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26 [f] The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

27 For he [g] hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, all things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.

28 [h] And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then [i] shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And [k] why stand we in jeopardy every hour?

31 I protest by ‖ [l] your rejoicing which I have in Christ Jesus our Lord, [m] I die daily.

32 If ‖ after the manner of men [n] I have fought with beasts at Ephesus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? [o] let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived: [p] evil communications corrupt good manners.

34 [q] Awake to righteousness, and sin not; [r] for some have not the knowledge of God: [s] I speak this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, [t] How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?

36 Thou fool, [u] that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die:

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars: for one star differeth from another star in glory.

42 [x] So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption; it is raised in incorruption:

43 [y] It is sown in dishonour; it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness; it is raised in power:

44 It is sown a natural body; it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And so it is written, The first man Adam [z] was made a living soul; [a] the last Adam was made [b] a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 [c] The first man is of the earth, [d] earthy: the second man is the Lord [e] from heaven.

48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: [f] and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And [g] as we have borne the image of the earthy, [h] we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that [i] flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Behold, I shew you a mystery; [k] We

NOW concerning [a] the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Galatia, even so do ye.

2 [b] Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

3 And when I come, [c] whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your † liberality unto Jerusalem.

4 [d] And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 Now I will come unto you, [e] when I shall pass through Macedonia: for I do pass through Macedonia.

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may [f] bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, [g] if the Lord permit.

10 Now [k] if Timotheus come, see that he may be with you without fear: for [l] he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 [m] Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth [n] in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother [o] Apollos, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 [p] Watch ye, [q] stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, [r] be strong.

14 [s] Let all your things be done with charity.

15 I beseech you, brethren, (ye know [t] the house of Stephanas, that it is [u] the firstfruits of Achaia, and that they have addicted themselves to [x] the ministry of the saints,)

16 [y] That ye submit yourselves unto such, and to every one that helpeth with us, and [z] laboureth.

17 I am glad of the coming of Stephanas and Fortunatus and Achaicus: [a] for that which was lacking on your part they have supplied.

18 [b] For they have refreshed my spirit and your's: therefore [c] acknowledge ye them that are such.

19 The churches of Asia salute you. Aquila and Priscilla salute you much in the Lord, [d] with the church that is in their house.

20 All the brethren greet you. [e] Greet ye one another with an holy kiss.

The Second Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the CORINTHIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 Paul saluteth the Corinthians; 3 and blesseth God for the comforts and deliverances given him, not solely for his own sake, but for the comfort and encouragement of others also. 8 He telleth them of a deliverance he had lately had from a great danger in Asia, and expresseth his trust in God's protection for the future through their prayers. 12 He calleth both his own conscience and their's to witness his sincerity in preaching the gospel; 15 and excuseth his not coming to them, as not proceeding from lightness, 23 but from lenity toward them.

PAUL, [a] an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, and Timothy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Corinth, [b] with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

2 [c] Grace be to you and peace from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [d] Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble by the comfort, wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as [e] the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, [f] it is for your consolation and salvation, which ‖ is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is stedfast, knowing, that [s] as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of [h] our trouble which came to us in Asia, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the ‖ sentence of death in ourselves, that we should [i] not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 [k] Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us;

11 Ye also [l] helping together by prayer for us, that [m] for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and [n] godly sincerity, [o] not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.

13 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or acknowledge; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, [p] that we are your rejoicing, even as [q] ye also are our's in the day of the Lord Jesus.

15 And in this confidence [r] I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have [s] a second ‖ benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Macedonia, and [t] to come again out of Macedonia unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Judea.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose [u] according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea yea, and nay nay?

18 But as God is true, our ‖ word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 For [x] the son of God, Jesus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Silvanus and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, [y] but in him was yea.

20 [z] For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and [a] hath anointed us, is God;

22 Who [b] hath also sealed us, and [c] given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover [d] I call God for a record upon my soul, [e] that to spare you I came not as yet unto Corinth.

24 Not for [f] that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for [g] by faith ye stand.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul having shewn a motive of tenderness for not coming to Corinth, as also for writing his former epistle, 6 declareth himself satisfied with the censure inflicted on the incestuous person, and desireth them to forgive and comfort him, 10 as he himself had forgiven him in Christ's name. 12 His uneasiness for not finding Titus at Troas had caused him to go forthwith into Macedonia. 14 He blesseth God for the successfulness of his labours every where, 17 professing his sincerity and disinterestedness before God.

BUT I determined this with myself, [a] that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2 For if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, [b] I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; [c] having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; [d] not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But [e] if any have caused grief, he hath not [f] grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6 Sufficient to such a man is this ‖ punishment, which was inflicted [g] of many.

7 [h] So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be [i] obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it ‖ in the person of Christ;

11 Lest Satan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Furthermore, [k] when I came to Troas to preach Christ's gospel, and [l] a door was opened unto me of the Lord,

13 [m] I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother: but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Macedonia.

14 Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest [n] the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, [o] in them that are saved, and [p] in them that perish:

16 [q] To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And [r] who is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which ‖ [s] corrupt the word of God: but as [t] of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we ‖ in Christ.

CHAP. III.

1 To obviate the imputation of vain glory, Paul sheweth that the gifts and graces of the Corinthians were a sufficient commendation of his ministry, 4 the efficacy of which he ascribeth entirely to God. 6 He proveth the superior excellency of the gospel ministry to that of the law; 12 and thereupon justifieth his plain speaking, as under a dispensation of greater light and liberty than that of Moses.

DO [a] we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, [b] epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 [c] Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ [d] ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not [e] in tables of stone, but [f] in fleshy tables of the heart.

4 And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward:

5 [g] Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but [h] our sufficiency is of God;

6 Who also hath made us able [i] ministers of [k] the new testament; not [l] of the letter, but of the spirit: for [m] the letter killeth, [n] but the spirit ‖ giveth life.

7 But if [o] the ministration of death, [p] written and engraven in stones, was glorious, [q] so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away:

8 How shall not [r] the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration [s] of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which was done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we have such hope, [t] we use great ‖ plainness of speech:

13 And not as Moses, [u] which put a vail over his face, that the children of Israel could not stedfastly look to [z] the end of that which is abolished:

14 But [y] their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Moses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16 Nevertheless [z] when it shall turn to the Lord, [a] the vail shall be taken away.

17 Now [b] the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all, with open face beholding [c] as in a glass [d] the glory of the Lord, [e] are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as ‖ by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAP. IV.

1 Paul declareth his unwearied zeal and integrity in preaching the gospel; 3 so that if any see not the truth of it, it must be owing to their corrupt hearts, not to want of clear light. 7 The weakness and sufferings he was exposed to redounded to the praise of God's power. 12 That which animated him in undergoing them for the church's sake was the assurance of a more exceeding and eternal reward.

THerefore seeing we have [a] this ministry, [b] as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2 But have renounced the hidden things of † dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, [c] nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but [d] by manifestation of the truth [e] commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3 But if our gospel be hid, [f] it is hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom [g] the god of this world [h] hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest [i] the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, [k] who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5 [l] For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Jesus the Lord; and [m] ourselves your servants for Jesus' sake.

6 For God, [n] who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, † hath [o] shined in our hearts, to give [p] the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in [q] earthen vessels, [r] that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8 We are [s] troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but ‖ not in despair;

9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; [t] cast down, but not destroyed;

10 [u] Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, [z] that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which live [y] are alway delivered unto death for Jesus' sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then [z] death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 We having [a] the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, [b] I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14 Knowing that [c] he which raised up the Lord Jesus shall raise up us also by Jesus, and shall present us with you.

15 For [d] all things are for your sakes, that [e] the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet [f] the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For [g] our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18 [h] While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul declareth that in assured hope of a blessed immortality hereafter he was indifferent to life, and laboured only to approve himself to Christ: 10 that knowing the general judgment that would follow, and the terrors of it, he was sollicitous to persuade men: 12 that this was said not by way of boasting, but purely to furnish the Corinthians with a reply in his justification against false pretenders: 14 that moved by the love of Christ, he was become dead to all former regards; 17 and all things being now made new by God in Christ reconciling the world to himself, 20 he, as ambassador for Christ, besought men to embrace the offered reconciliation.

FOR we know that if [a] our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 For in this [b] we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3 If so be that [c] being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but [d] clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5 Now [e] he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also [f] hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

7 (For [g] we walk by faith, not by sight:)

8 We are confident, I say, and [h] willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore we ‖ labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10 [i] For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; [k] that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore [l] the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but [m] we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For [n] we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion [o] to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory † in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For [p] whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that [q] if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, [r] that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 [s] Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, [t] yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man [u] be in Christ, ‖ he is [x] a new creature: [y] old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, [z] who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 To wit, that [a] God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath † committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are [b] ambassadors for Christ, as [c] though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For [d] he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made [e] the righteousness of God in him.

CHAP. VI.

1 Paul intreateth the Corinthians not to frustrate God's grace: 3 setting forth his own inoffensive, painful, and patient, demeanour in the discharge of his ministry: 11 of which he telleth them he spake more freely out of the great love he bare them; 13 challenging the like affection from them in return. 14 He dissuadeth from any intimate connexions with unbelievers. 16 Christians are the temples of the living God.

WE then, as [a] workers together with him, [b] beseech you also [c] that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2 (For he saith, [d] I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3 [e] Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all things † approving ourselves [f] as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 [g] In stripes, in imprisonments, ‖ in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by long-suffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 [h] By the word of truth, by [i] the power of God, by [k] the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9 As unknown, and [l] yet well known; [m] as dying, and, behold, we live; [n] as chastened, and not killed;

10 As sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O ye Corinthians, our mouth is open unto you, [o] our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not straitened in us, but [p] ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13 Now for a recompence in the same, (I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 [q] Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for [r] what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for [s] ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, [t] I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 [u] Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you,

18 [x] And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAP. VII.

1 Paul exhorteth the Corinthians to purity of life, 2 and to receive him, who had done nothing to forfeit their esteem: 3 he repeateth the assurance of his love for them, and sheweth what comfort he had received in all his troubles from the report which Titus had brought of their good dispositions toward him: 8 so that upon the whole he did not repent of having grieved them a little by letter, considering the good effects which that godly sorrow had produced. 13 Above all he rejoiced to observe the good impressions which their behaviour, so answerable to his former boastings of them, had left in the mind of Titus.

HAVING [a] therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, [b] we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to condemn you: for [c] I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For, [e] when we were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but [h] we were troubled on every side; [i] without were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless [k] God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by [l] the coming of Titus;

7 And not by his coming only, but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, [m] though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry ‖ after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 For [n] godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: [o] but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, [p] but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Titus, because his spirit [q] was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Titus, is found a truth.

15 And his † inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth [r] the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that [s] I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Paul extolleth the liberal contributions of the Macedonian churches for the relief of the brethren in Judea: 6 and recommendeth the like charity to the Corinthians, as well beseeming their other graces, 9 enforced by Christ's example, 10 consistent with the alacrity they had already expressed therein, 13 and a precedent which might in time be of use to themselves. 16 He letteth them know the willingness of Titus to come and further this good work among them; and commendeth him to their love, together with the brethren, men of special worth, who were sent with him on the same errand.

MOreover, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Macedonia;

2 How that in a great trial of affliction the abundance of their joy and [a] their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their † liberality.

3 For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves;

4 Praying us with much intreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us [b] the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Insomuch that [c] we desired Titus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same ‖ grace also.

7 Therefore, as [d] ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see [e] that ye abound in this grace also.

8 [f] I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, [g] that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein [h] I give my advice: for [i] this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be † [k] forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.

12 For [l] if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that other men be eased, and ye burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want: that there may be equality:

15 As it is written, [m] He that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack.

16 But thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Titus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted [n] the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him [o] the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not that only, but who was also [p] chosen of the churches to travel with us with this ‖ grace, which is administered by us [q] to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us:

21 [r] Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which ‖ I have in you.

23 Whether any do enquire of Titus, he is my partner and fellowhelper concerning you: or our brethren be enquired of, they are [t] the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our [t] boasting on your behalf.

CHAP. IX.

1 Paul sheweth the reason why, though he knew the forwardness of the Corinthians, he had sent the brethren beforehand to make up their collections against his coming. 6 He stirreth them up to give bountifully and cheerfully, as a likely means to increase their store, 12 and as productive of many thanksgivings unto God.

Anno DOMINI 60.

1 FOR as touching [a] the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:

2 For I know [b] the forwardness of your mind, [c] for which I boast of you to them of Macedonia, that [d] Achaia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3 [e] Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest haply if they of Macedonia come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your † bounty, ‖ whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6 [f] But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

7 Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; [g] not grudgingly, or of necessity: for [h] God loveth a cheerful giver.

8 [i] And God is able to make all grace abound toward you; that ye, always having all sufficiency in all things, may abound to every good work:

9 (As it is written, [k] He hath dispersed abroad; he hath given to the poor: his righteousness remaineth for ever.

10 Now he that [l] ministereth seed to the sower both minister bread for your food, and multiply your seed sown, and increase the fruits of your [m] righteousness;)

11 Being enriched in every thing to all ‖ † bountifulness, [n] which causeth through us thanksgiving to God.

12 For the administration of this service not only [o] supplieth the want of the saints, but is abundant also by many thanksgivings unto God;

13 Whiles by the experiment of this ministration they [p] glorify God for your professed subjection unto the gospel of Christ, and for your liberal [q] distribution unto them, and unto all men;

14 And by their prayer for you, which long after you for the exceeding [r] grace of God in you.

15 Thanks be unto God [s] for his unspeakable gift.

CHAP. X.

1 Paul intreateth the Corinthians not to leave him cause to exert against them that spiritual power, with which he was armed, and meant to chastise those, who undervalued his person and apostolical character. 12 He pointeth out the difference between those, who for want of looking beyond themselves were arrogant and vain, intruding into, and taking merit from, the labours of others, and himself, who kept strictly within the province allotted him by God, and avoiding selfcommendation, sought honour from the commendation of Christ.

NOW [a] I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, [b] who ‖ in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2 But I beseech you, [c] that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which ‖ think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 ([d] For the weapons [e] of our warfare are not carnal, but [f] mighty ‖ through God [g] to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5 [g] Casting down ‖ imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringeth into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

6 [i] And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when [k] your obedience is fulfilled.

7 [l] Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? [m] If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are [n] we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more [o] of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, [p] I should not be ashamed:

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters.

10 For his letters, † say they, are weighty and powerful; but [q] his bodily presence is weak, and his [r] speech contemptible.

11 Let such an one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 [s] For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, ‖ are not wise.

13 [t] But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the ‖ rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you: [u] for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, [x] of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be ‖ enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's ‖ line of things made ready to our hand.

17 [y] But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For [z] not he that commendeth himself is approved, but [a] whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAP. XI.

1 Paul unwillingly entereth upon a commendation of himself, out of jealousy lest the Corinthians should be perverted by false apostles from the pure doctrine of Christ. 5 He sheweth that he was in all respects equal to the chiefest apostles; 7 that he declined being chargeable to them not for want of love toward them, but to cut off occa-

ſion from thoſe deceitful workers of taking ſhelter under his example: 16 that he was not inferior to thoſe, whom they ſo patiently ſubmitted to, in any of their boaſted prerogatives, 23 but as a miniſter of Chriſt, in labours and ſufferings for the goſpel's ſake, was abundantly their ſuperior.

WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in [a] my folly: and indeed ‖ bear with me.

2 For I am [b] jealous over you with godly jealouſy: for [c] I have eſpouſed you to one huſband, [d] that I may preſent you [e] as a chaſte virgin to Chriſt.

3 But I fear, leſt by any means, as [f] the ſerpent beguiled Eve through his ſubtilty, ſo your minds [g] ſhould be corrupted from the ſimplicity that is in Chriſt.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Jeſus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another ſpirit, which ye have not received, or [h] another goſpel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear ‖ with him.

5 For I ſuppoſe [i] I was not a whit behind the very chiefeſt apoſtles.

6 But though [k] I be rude in ſpeech, yet not [l] in knowledge; but [m] we have been throughly made manifeſt among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence [n] in abaſing myſelf that ye might be exalted, becauſe I have preached to you the goſpel of God freely?

8 I robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you ſervice.

9 And when I was preſent with you, and wanted, [o] I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me [p] the brethren which came from Macedonia ſupplied: and in all things I have kept myſelf [q] from being burdenſome unto you, and ſo will I keep myſelf.

10 [r] As the truth of Chriſt is in me, † [s] no man ſhall ſtop me of this boaſting in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? [t] becauſe I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that I will do, [u] that I may cut off occaſion from them which deſire occaſion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For ſuch [x] are falſe apoſtles, [y] deceitful workers, transforming themſelves into the apoſtles of Chriſt.

14 And no marvel; for Satan himſelf is transformed into [z] an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his miniſters alſo be transformed as the [a] miniſters of righteouſneſs; [b] whoſe end ſhall be according to their works.

16 [c] I ſay again, Let no man think me a fool; if otherwiſe, yet as a fool ‖ receive me, that I may boaſt myſelf a little.

17 That which I ſpeak, [d] I ſpeak it not after the Lord, but as [i] it were fooliſhly, [e] in this confidence of boaſting.

18 [f] Seeing that many glory after the fleſh, I will glory alſo.

19 For ye ſuffer fools gladly, [g] ſeeing ye yourſelves are wiſe.

20 For ye ſuffer, [h] if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himſelf, if a man ſmite you on the face.

21 I ſpeak as concerning reproach, [i] as though we had been weak. Howbeit [k] whereinſoever any is bold, (I ſpeak fooliſhly,) I am bold alſo.

22 Are they Hebrews? [l] ſo am I. Are they Iſraelites? ſo am I. Are they the ſeed of Abraham? ſo am I.

23 Are they miniſters of Chriſt? (I ſpeak as a fool) I am more; [m] in labours more abundant, [n] in ſtripes above meaſure, in priſons more frequent, [o] in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I [p] forty ſtripes ſave one.

25 Thrice was I [q] beaten with rods, [r] once was I ſtoned, thrice I [s] ſuffered ſhipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep;

26 In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, [t] in perils by mine own countrymen, [u] in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderneſs, in perils in the ſea, in perils among falſe brethren;

27 In wearineſs and painfulneſs, [x] in watchings often, [y] in hunger and thirſt, in faſtings often, in cold and nakedneſs.

28 Beſide thoſe things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, [z] the care of all the churches.

29 [a] Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?

30 If I muſt needs glory, [b] I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 [c] The God and Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, [d] which is bleſſed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 [e] In Damaſcus the governor under Aretas the king kept the city of the Damaſcenes with a garriſon, deſirous to apprehend me:

33 And through a window in a baſket was I let down by the wall, and eſcaped his hands.

CHAP. XII.

1 Paul ſheweth that, though he had been favoured with viſions and revelations, 5 yet for commendation of his apoſtleſhip he choſe rather to glory in his infirmities: 11 blaming the Corinthians, who had ſeen in him all the ſigns of an apoſtle, for forcing him to ſuch vain boaſting. 14 He telleth them of his deſign of viſiting them again with the ſame diſintereſtedneſs and fatherly affection as before. 16 He juſtifieth himſelf from any crafty extortion by his meſſengers; 20 and expreſſeth his fears, leſt, both to his ſorrow and theirs, he ſhould find many notorious diſorders ſtill unredreſſed among them.

IT is not expedient for me doubtleſs to glory. † I will come to viſions and revelations of the Lord.

2 I knew a man [a] in Chriſt about fourteen years ago, (whether in the body, I cannot tell; or whether out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;) ſuch an one [b] caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew ſuch a man, (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell: God knoweth;)

4 How that he was caught up into [c] paradiſe, and heard unſpeakable words, which it is not ‖ lawful for a man to utter.

5 Of ſuch an one will I glory: [d] yet of myſelf I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For [e] though I would deſire to glory, I ſhall not be a fool; for I will ſay the truth: but now I forbear, leſt any man ſhould think of me above that which he ſeeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And leſt I ſhould be exalted above meaſure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a [f] thorn in the fleſh, [g] the meſſenger of Satan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 [h] For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore [i] will I rather glory in my infirmities, [k] that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 Therefore [l] I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: [m] for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become [n] a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for [o] in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though [p] I be nothing.

12 [q] Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 [r] For what is it wherein you were inferior to other churches, except it be that [s] I myself was not burthensome to you? forgive me [t] this wrong.

14 [u] Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: for [x] I seek not your's, but you: [y] for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 And [z] I will very gladly spend and be spent [a] for † you; though [b] the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

16 But be it so, [c] I did not burthen you: nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 [d] Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?

18 [e] I desired Titus, and with him I sent a [f] brother. Did Titus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 [g] Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you? [h] we speak before God in Christ: [i] but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that [k] I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults:

21 And lest, when I come again, my God [l] will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many [m] which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness and [n] fornication and lasciviousness which they have committed.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Paul threateneth to vindicate his authority at his coming by punishing severely unreclaimed offenders. 5 He adviseth the Corinthians to try if they had as good proofs of their faith, as he trusted to have of his mission. 7 He wisheth that by a blameless conversation they might prevent him from using sharpness toward them, whatever became of his proofs. 11 He concludeth with an exhortation, salutation, and prayer.

THIS is [a] the third time I am coming to you. [b] In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 [c] I told you before, and foretel you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them [d] which heretofore have sinned, and to all other, that, if I come again, [e] I will not spare:

3 Since ye seek a proof of Christ [f] speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty [g] in you.

4 [h] For though he was crucified through weakness, yet [i] he liveth by the power of God. For [k] we also are weak ‖ in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 [l] Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, [m] how that Jesus Christ is in you, except ye be [n] reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray to God that ye do no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though [o] we be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad, [p] when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, [q] even your perfection.

10 [r] Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present [s] I should use sharpness, [t] according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewel. Be perfect, be of good comfort, [u] be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love [x] and peace shall be with you.

12 [y] Greet one another with an holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 [z] The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and [a] the communion of the holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

The Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the GALATIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After saluting the churches of Galatia, 6 Paul testifieth his surprise that they should so soon have forsaken the truth of the gospel which he had taught them; 8 and pronounced those accursed who preach any other gospel. 10 He sheweth that his doctrine was not concerted to please men, but came to him by immediate revelation from God. 13 To confirm which he relateth his conversation before his calling, 15 and what steps he had taken immediately thereupon.

PAUL, an apostle, ([a] not of men, neither by man, but [b] by Jesus Christ, and God the Father, [c] who raised him from the dead;)

2 And all the brethren [d] which are with me, [e] unto the churches of Galatia:

3 [f] Grace be to you and peace from God the Father, and from our Lord Jesus Christ,

4 [g] Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us [h] from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

[1] from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:

7 [k] Which is not another; but there be some [l] that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though [m] we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again, If any man preach any other gospel unto you [n] than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For [o] do I now [p] persuade men, or God? or [q] do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 [r] But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

12 For [s] I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but [t] by the revelation of Jesus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that [u] beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and [x] wasted it:

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my † equals in mine own nation, [y] being more exceedingly zealous [z] of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, [a] who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 [b] To reveal his Son in me, that [c] I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with [d] flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Jerusalem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into Arabia, and returned again unto Damascus.

18 Then after three years [e] ‖ I went up to Jerusalem to see Peter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But [f] other of the apostles saw I none, save [g] James the Lord's brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, [h] behold, before God, I lie not.

21 [i] Afterwards I came into the regions of Syria and Cilicia;

22 And was unknown by face [k] unto the churches of Judea which [l] were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they glorified God in me.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul sheweth for what purpose after many years he went to Jerusalem; 3 that Titus, who went with him, was not circumcised, and that on purpose to assert the freedom of the Gentile converts from the bondage of the law; 6 that no new knowledge was added to him in conference with the three chief apostles, but that he received from them a public acknowledgment of his divine mission to the Gentiles; 11 that he openly withstood Peter for dissimulation with respect to Gentile communion, 14 expostulating with him, why he, who believed that justification came by the faith of Christ, acted as though it came by the works of the law; 21 which was in effect to frustrate the grace of God.

A. D. 52. [a] THEN fourteen years after [b] I went up again to Jerusalem with Barnabas, and took Titus with me also.

2 And I went up by revelation, [b] and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gentiles, but ‖ privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means [c] I should run, or had run, in vain.

3 But neither Titus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be circumcised:

4 And that because of [d] false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our [e] liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, [f] that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that [g] the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of those [h] who seemed to be somewhat, whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me: [i] God accepteth no man's person: for they who seemed to be somewhat [k] in conference added nothing to me:

7 But contrariwise, [l] when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision [m] was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Peter;

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Peter to the apostleship of the circumcision, [n] the same was [o] mighty in me toward the Gentiles:)

9 And when James, Cephas, and John, who seemed to be [p] pillars, perceived [q] the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Barnabas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; [r] the same which I also was forward to do.

11 [s] But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James, [t] he did eat with the Gentiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Barnabas also was carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to [u] the truth of the gospel, I said unto Peter [x] before them all, [y] If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gentiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gentiles to live as do the Jews?

15 [z] We who are Jews by nature, and not [a] sinners of the Gentiles,

16 [b] Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but [c] by the faith of Jesus Christ, even we have believed in Jesus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for [d] by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found [e] sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 For I [f] through the law [g] am dead to the law, that I might [h] live unto God.

20 I am [i] crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh [k] I live by the faith of the Son of God, [l] who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God: for [m] if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAP. III.

1 Paul asketh what had moved the Galatians to depend on the law, having already received the spirit through faith. 6 As Abraham was justified by faith, so they who are of faith inherit his blessing. 10 The law brought men under a curse, and could not justify. 13 Christ hath freed us from the curse, and laid open the blessing to all believers. 15 Supposing that the law justified, God's covenant with Abraham would be void. 19 But the law was only a temporary provision against sin till Christ's coming, and in no wise contrary to God's promises: 23 serving as a schoolmaster to prepare men for Christ. 25 But faith being come, the law is at an end, and all believers are without distinction become children of God, and heirs of the promise.

O Foolish Galatians, [a] who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey [b] the truth, before whose eyes Jesus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye [c] the Spirit by the works of the law, [d] or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? [e] having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by [f] the flesh?

4 [g] Have ye suffered ‖ so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 He therefore [h] that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 Even as [i] Abraham believed God, and it was ‖ accounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore that [k] they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 And [l] the scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto Abraham, saying, [m] In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, [n] Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 But [o] that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, [p] The just shall live by faith.

12 And [q] the law is not of faith: but, [r] The man that doeth them shall live in them.

13 [s] Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, [t] Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14 [u] That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ; that we might receive [x] the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; [y] Though it be but a man's ‖ covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 Now [z] to Abraham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is [a] Christ.

17 And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, [b] which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, [c] that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if [d] the inheritance be of the law, [e] it is no more of promise: but God gave it to Abraham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serveth the law? [f] It was added because of transgressions, till [g] the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was [h] ordained by angels in the hand [i] of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one, [k] but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: [l] for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22 But [m] the scripture hath concluded [n] all under sin, [o] that the promise by faith of Jesus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed.

24 Wherefore [p] the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, [q] that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26 For ye [r] are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

27 For [s] as many of you as have been baptized into Christ [t] have put on Christ.

28 [u] There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all [x] one in Christ Jesus.

29 And [y] if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and [z] heirs according to the promise.

CHAP. IV.

1 The Jews were for a while held under the law, as an heir under his guardian till he be of age. 4 But Christ came to redeem those that were under the law, and to give both to Jew and Gentile the adoption, and consequently the freedom, of sons. 8 Paul therefore reproveth the Galatians, who from serving idols had been received of God, for falling back to the bondage of legal observances. 11 He expresseth his fears and tender regard for them, and calleth to mind their former respect and good will to him, from which he admonisheth them not to be seduced in his absence. 21 He allegorically describeth the Jewish and Christian churches under the types of Agar and Sara, and inferreth that we, being children of the freewoman, are free.

NOW I say, That the heir, as long as he [a] is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all;

2 But is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father.

3 Even so we, when we were children, [b] were in bondage under the ‖ elements of the world:

4 But [c] when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, [d] made [e] of a woman, [f] made under the law,

5 [f] To redeem them that were under the law, [g] that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth [h] the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; [i] and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 Howbeit then, [k] when ye knew not God, [l] ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now, [m] after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, [n] how turn ye ‖ again to [o] the weak and beggarly ‖ elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 [p] Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

11 I am afraid of you, [q] lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: [r] ye have not injured me at all.

13 Ye know how [s] through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you [t] at the first.

14 And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me [u] as an angel of God, [x] even as Christ Jesus.

15 ‖ Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, [y] because I tell you the truth?

17 They [z] zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude ‖ you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

19 [a] My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for ‖ I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sons, [b] the one by a bondmaid, [c] the other by a freewoman.

23 But he who was of the bondwoman [d] was born after the flesh; [e] but he of the freewoman was by promise.

24 Which things are an allegory: for these are the two ‖ covenants; the one from the mount † [f] Sina, which gendereth to bondage, which is Agar.

25 For this Agar is mount Sinai in Arabia, and ‖ answereth to Jerusalem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

26 But [g] Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.

27 For it is written, [h] Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath an husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as Isaac was, are [i] the children of promise.

29 But as then [k] he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, [l] even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless what saith [m] the scripture? [n] Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for [o] the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the freewoman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, [p] but of the free.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul exhorteth the Galatians to maintain their Christian liberty, 2 and sheweth that by being circumcised they would forfeit their hopes in Christ. 7 He disclaimeth the preaching of circumcision himself, and condemneth it in others. 13 He adviseth them not to abuse their liberty, but to serve one another in love, which comprehendeth the whole law. 16 The opposition between the flesh and the spirit: 19 The works of the flesh: 22 The fruits of the spirit. 25 Advice to walk in the spirit, and not in vainglorious emulation.

STAND fast therefore in [s] the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again [t] with the yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that [u] if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, [x] that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 [y] Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; [z] ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit [a] wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 For [b] in Jesus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but [c] faith which worketh by love.

7 Ye [d] did run well; [e] ‖ who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion cometh not of him [f] that calleth you.

9 [g] A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 [h] I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but [i] he that troubleth you [k] shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

11 [l] And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, [m] why do I yet suffer persecution? then is [n] the offence of the cross ceased.

12 [o] I would they were even cut off [p] which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only [q] use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but [r] by love serve one another.

14 For [s] all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; [t] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 This I say then, [u] Walk in the Spirit, and ‖ ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 For [x] the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other: [y] so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 But [z] if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now [a] the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that [b] they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

BRethren, [a] ‖ if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye [b] which are spiritual, restore such an one [c] in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, [d] lest thou also be tempted.

2 [e] Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil [f] the law of Christ.

3 For [g] if a man think himself to be something, when [h] he is nothing, he deceiveth himself.

4 But [i] let every man prove his own work, and then shall he have rejoicing in himself alone, and [k] not in another.

5 For [l] every man shall bear his own burden.

6 [m] Let him that is taught in the word communicate unto him that teacheth in all good things.

7 [n] Be not deceived; [o] God is not mocked: for [p] whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 [q] For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 And [r] let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, [s] if we faint not.

10 [t] As we have therefore opportunity, [u] let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of [x] the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair shew in the flesh, [y] they constrain you to be circumcised; [z] only lest they should [a] suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 [b] But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, ‖ by whom the world is [c] crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 For [d] in Christ Jesus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but [e] a new creature.

16 [f] And as many as walk [g] according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon [h] the Israel of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for [i] I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus.

18 Brethren, [k] the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

Anno DOMINI 64.

CHAP. I.

1 After saluting the Ephesians, 3 Paul blesseth God for his spiritual blessings on those whom he had chosen in Christ, and predestinated to the adoption of children; 7 for our redemption by his grace, according to his revealed purpose of gathering together all in one under Christ; 11 for the inheritance already obtained by those who first trusted in Christ; 13 and for the spirit given to after believers, as an earnest of the same. 15 He declareth his continual thankfulness to God for their faith, and his prayers that God would perfect them in the knowledge of those things, which concerned their state in Christ, 20 whom God had raised up, and exalted to be the supreme head of his body the church.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [a] by the will of God, [b] to the saints which are at Ephesus, [c] and to the faithful in Christ Jesus:

2 [d] Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [e] Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly ‖ places in Christ:

4 According as [f] he hath chosen us in him [g] before the foundation of the world, that we should [h] be holy and without blame before him in love:

5 [i] Having predestinated us unto [k] the adoption of children by Jesus Christ to himself, [l] according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, [m] wherein he hath made us accepted in [n] the beloved.

7 [o] In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to [p] the riches of his grace;

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9 [q] Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure [r] which he hath purposed in himself:

10 That in the dispensation of [s] the fulness of times [t] he might gather together in one [u] all things in Christ, both which are in † heaven, and which are on earth; even in him:

CHAP. II.

1 Paul setteth before the Ephesians their former corrupt heathen state, 4 and God's rich mercy in their deliverance. 8 We are saved by grace, not of works, yet so as to be created in Christ unto good works. 11 They who were once strangers, and far from God, are now brought near by Christ's blood, who having abolished the ritual law, the ground of distinction between Jew and Gentile, hath united both in one body, and gained them equal access to the Father. 19 So that the Gentiles are henceforth equally privileged with the Jews, and together with them constitute an holy temple for the habitation of God's Spirit.

AND [a] you hath he quickened, [b] who were dead in trespasses and sins;

2 [c] Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to [d] the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in [e] the children of disobedience:

3 [f] Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in [g] the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling † the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and [h] were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

4 But God, [i] who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 [k] Even when we were dead in sins, hath [l] quickened us together with Christ, (‖ by grace ye are saved;)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together [m] in heavenly places in Christ Jesus:

7 That in the ages to come he might shew the exceeding riches of his grace in [n] his kindness toward us through Christ Jesus.

8 [o] For by grace are ye saved [p] through faith; and that not of yourselves: [q] it is the gift of God:

9 [r] Not of works, lest any man should boast.

10 For we are [s] his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, [t] which God hath before ‖ ordained that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore [u] remember, that ye being in time past Gentiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called [x] the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands;

12 [y] That at that time ye were without Christ, [z] being aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from [a] the covenants of promise, [b] having no hope, [c] and without God in the world:

13 [d] But now in Christ Jesus ye who sometimes were [e] far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For [f] he is our peace, [g] who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

15 [h] Having abolished [i] in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one [k] new man, so making peace;

16 And that he might [l] reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, [m] having slain the enmity ‖ thereby:

17 And came [n] and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to [o] them that were nigh.

18 For [p] through him we both have access [q] by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but [r] fellowcitizens with the saints, and of [s] the household of God;

20 And are [t] built [u] upon the foundation of the [x] apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ himself being [y] the chief corner stone;

21 [z] In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto [a] an holy temple in the Lord:

22 [b] In whom ye also are builded together for an habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAP. III.

1 Paul, in bonds for preaching Christ to the Gentiles, sheweth that the mystery of their calling, heretofore hidden, had been revealed to him, 7 that by his ministry God's gracious purpose might be universally known, and the Gentiles be assured of their acceptance by faith. 13 He desireth his Ephesian converts not to be discouraged at his sufferings on their account; 14 and prayeth that God would strengthen their faith and knowledge of the infinite love of Christ. 20 He giveth glory to God for his power in the church by Christ Jesus.

FOR this cause I Paul, [a] the prisoner of Jesus Christ [b] for you Gentiles,

2 (If ye have heard of [c] the dispensation of the grace of God [d] which is given me to you-ward:

3 [e] How that [f] by revelation [g] he made known unto me the mystery; [h] as I wrote afore in few words;

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge [i] in the mystery of Christ,

5 [k] Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, [l] as it is now revealed unto the holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 That the Gentiles [m] should be fellowheirs, and [n] of the same body, and [o] partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel:

7 [p] Whereof I was made a minister, [q] according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by [r] the effectual working of his power.

8 Unto me, [s] who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that [t] I should preach among the Gentiles [u] the unsearchable riches of Christ;

9 And to make all men see what is the fellowship of [x] the mystery, [y] which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, [z] who created all things by Jesus Christ:

10 [a] To the intent that now [b] unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places [c] might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 [d] According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord:

12 In whom we have boldness and [e] access [f] with confidence by the faith of him.

13 [g] Wherefore I desire that ye faint not at my tribulations [h] for you, [i] which is your glory.

14 For this cause I bow my knees unto the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ,

15 Of whom [k] the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, [l] according to the riches of his glory, [m] to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in [n] the inner man;

17 [o] That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, [p] being rooted and grounded in love,

18 [q] May be able to comprehend with all saints [r] what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled [s] with all the fulness of God.

20 Now [t] unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly [u] above all that we ask or think, [x] according to the power that worketh in us,

21 [y] Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAP. IV.

1 Paul exhorteth to those virtues which become the Christian calling, particularly to unity: 7 declaring that Christ gave his gifts differently, that his body the church might be built up and perfected in the true faith by the cooperation of the several members with one another, and with him their head. 17 He calleth men off from the vain and impure conversation of the heathen world, 22 to renounce the old, and to put on the new, man: 25 to discard lying, 26 and sinful anger; 28 to leave off dishonest practices, and to gain by honest labour what they have occasion for; 29 to use no corrupt talk, 30 nor grieve God's spirit; 31 to put away all expressions of ill will, and to practice mutual kindness and forgiveness.

I Therefore, [a] the prisoner ‖ of the Lord, beseech you that ye [b] walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 [c] With all lowliness and meekness, with longsuffering, forbearing one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit [d] in the bond of peace.

4 [e] There is one body, and [f] one Spirit, even as ye are called in one [g] hope of your calling;

5 [h] One Lord, [i] one faith, [k] one baptism,

6 [l] One God and Father of all, who is above all, and [m] through all, and in you all.

7 But [n] unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, [o] When he ascended up on high, [p] he led ‖ captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 [q] (Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He that descended is the same also [r] that ascended up far above all heavens, [s] that he might ‖ fill all things.)

11 [t] And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, [u] evangelists; and some, [x] pastors and [y] teachers;

12 [z] For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, [a] for the edifying of [b] the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come ‖ in the unity of the faith, [c] and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto [d] a perfect man, unto the measure of the ‖ stature of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we henceforth be no more [e] children, [f] tossed to and fro, and carried about with every [g] wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, [h] whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

15 But [i] ‖ speaking the truth in love, [k] may grow up into him in all things, [l] which is the head, even Christ:

16 [m] From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that [n] ye henceforth walk not as other Gentiles walk, [o] in the vanity of their mind,

18 [p] Having the understanding darkened, [q] being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the [r] ‖ blindness of their heart:

19 [s] Who being past feeling [t] have given themselves over unto lasciviousness, to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so learned Christ;

21 [v] If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Jesus:

22 That ye [w] put off concerning [y] the former conversation [x] the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;

23 And [a] be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye [b] put on the new man, which after God [c] is created in righteousness and ‖ true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying, [d] speak every man truth with his neighbour: for [e] we are members one of another.

26 [f] Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 [g] Neither give place to the devil.

28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather [h] let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have ‖ to give [i] to him that needeth.

29 [k] Let no corrupt communication proceeded out of your mouth, but [l] that which is good ‖ to the use of edifying, [m] that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30 And [n] grieve not the holy Spirit of God, [o] whereby ye are sealed unto day of [p] redemption.

31 [q] Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and [r] evil speaking, be put away from you, [s] with all malice:

32 And [t] be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, [u] forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAP. V.

1 Paul exhorteth to the imitation of God, and of the love of Christ: 3 to avoid fornication and all uncleanness, 5 which exclude from the kingdom of God, and draw down God's wrath on unbelievers: 7 with whose works of darkness Christians, that have better light to inform and influence them, should have no fellowship: 15 to walk with prudence and circumspection; 18 not to drink wine to excess, but to be filled with the spirit, singing psalms, and giving thanks to God; 21 and being in due subordination to one another. 22 The duty of wives toward their husbands, 25 and of husbands toward their wives, enforced by the example of Christ and his church.

BE [a] ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;

2 And [b] walk in love, [c] as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God [d] for a sweetsmelling savour.

3 But [e] fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, [f] let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;

4 [g] Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, [h] which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that [i] no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, [k] who is an idolater, [l] hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6 [m] Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things [n] cometh the wrath of God [o] upon the children of ‖ disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 [p] For ye were sometimes darkness, but now [q] are ye light in the Lord: walk as [r] children of light:

9 (For [s] the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth;)

10 [t] Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11 And [u] have no fellowship with [x] the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather [y] reprove them.

12 [z] For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But [a] all things that are ‖ reproved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14 Wherefore ‖ he saith, [b] Awake thou that sleepest, and [c] arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15 [d] See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,

16 [e] Redeeming the time, [f] because the days are evil.

17 [g] Wherefore be ye not unwise, but [h] understanding [i] what the will of the Lord is.

18 And [k] be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;

19 Speaking to yourselves [l] in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;

20 [m] Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father [n] in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ;

21 [o] Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22 [p] Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, [q] as unto the Lord.

23 For [r] the husband is the head of the wife, even as [s] Christ is the head of the church: and he is the saviour of [t] the body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands [u] in every thing.

25 [x] Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and [y] gave himself for it;

26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it [z] with the washing of water [a] by the word,

27 [b] That he might present it to himself a glorious church, [c] not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; [d] but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:

30 For [e] we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 [f] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they [g] two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

1 The relative duties of children, 4 and parents; 5 of servants, 9 and masters. 10 Paul exhorteth the brethren to resist spiritual enemies by putting on the whole armour of God, 18 and by perseverance in prayer, which he requireth for all saints, and particularly for himself, that he might preach the gospel with due boldness. 21 He commendeth Tychicus, 23 and concludeth with good wishes to all sincere Christians.

CHildren, [a] obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 [b] Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise;

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, [c] ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but [d] bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 [e] Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, [f] with fear and trembling, [g] in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ;

6 [h] Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:

8 [i] Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, [k] whether he be bond or free.

9 And, ye [l] masters, do the same things unto them, ‖ [m] forbearing threatening: knowing that ‖ [n] your Master also is in heaven; [o] neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and [p] in the power of his might.

11 [q] Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

CHAP. I.

1 Paul saluteth the Philippians, 3 and testifieth his thankfulness to God for their uninterrupted fellowship in the gospel: 8 his affection for them, 9 and prayers for their spiritual improvement. 12 He informeth them that his bonds at Rome had turned out to the advancement of the gospel, which many were thereby induced to preach, though with different views: 21 that considering how serviceable his life might be to the cause of Christ, though for himself it were happier to die, he was doubtful in his choice: 25 but that he knew he should soon be at liberty to visit them again for their comfort. 27 He exhorteth them to walk worthy of their profession, and to be steady and unanimous in the faith, for which they had already been fellowsufferers with him.

PAUL and Timotheus, the servants of Jesus Christ, to all the saints [a] in Christ Jesus which are at Philippi, with the bishops and deacons:

‖ are excellent; [p] that ye may be sincere and without offence [q] till the day of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, [r] which are by Jesus Christ, [s] unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;

13 So that my bonds ‖ in Christ are manifest [t] in all ‖ the palace, and ‖ in all other places;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and [u] strife; and some also of good will:

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for [x] the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation [y] through your prayer, and the supply of [z] the Spirit of Jesus Christ,

20 According to my [a] earnest expectation and my hope, that [b] in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that [c] with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23 For [d] I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to [e] depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25 And [f] having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26 That [g] your rejoicing may be more abundant in Jesus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only [h] let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, [i] that ye stand fast in one spirit, [k] with one mind [l] striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28 And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: [m] which is to them an evident token of perdition, [n] but to you of salvation, and that of God.

29 For unto you [o] it is given in the behalf of Christ, [p] not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake;

30 [q] Having the same conflict [r] which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul earnestly recommendeth to the Philippians mutual love and union, 3 lowliness of mind, 4 and that charitable condescension for the good of others, exemplified in the life and death of Christ, 9 for which God had exalted him to be Lord of all. 12 He exhorteth them to carefulness in working out their own salvation, 14 to obey the will of God cheerfully and universally, that so they might distinguish themselves from the rest of the world by a bright example of virtue; 16 and by their steadiness give him cause to rejoice in the success of his labours, who would gladly lay down his life to serve them. 19 He hopeth to send Timothy to them shortly, whom he greatly commendeth; 21 as he doth the affection and zeal of Epaphroditus, whom he sendeth with this epistle.

Anno DOMINI 64.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, [a] if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any [b] bowels and mercies,

2 [c] Fulfil ye my joy, [d] that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3 [e] Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but [f] in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves.

4 [g] Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5 [h] Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus:

6 Who, [i] being in the form of God, [k] thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7 [l] But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form [m] of a servant, and [n] was made in the ‖ likeness of men:

8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and [o] became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9 Wherefore God also [p] hath highly exalted him, and [q] given him a name which is above every name:

10 [r] That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11 And [s] that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore, my beloved, [t] as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with [u] fear and trembling.

13 For [x] it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things [y] without murmurings and [z] disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and ‖ harmless, [a] the sons of God, without rebuke, [b] in the midst of [c] a crooked and perverse nation, among whom ‖ [d] ye shine as lights in the world;

16 Holding forth the word of life; that [e] I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that [f] I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if [g] I be † offered upon the sacrifice [h] and service of your faith, [i] I joy, and rejoice with you all.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19 ‖ But I trust in the Lord Jesus to send [k] Timotheus shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man [l] ‖ likeminded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all [m] seek their own, not the things which are Jesus Christ's.

22 But ye know the proof of him, [n] that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But [o] I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you [p] Epaphroditus, my brother, and companion in labour, and [q] fellowsoldier, [r] but your messenger, and [s] he that ministered to my wants.

26 [t] For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

‖ Or, honour such.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and ‖ [u] hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, [x] to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAP. III.

1 Paul exhorteth to rejoice in the Lord, and to [a] beware of the false teachers of the circumcision: 4 shewing that as a Jew he had better grounds of confidence than they; 7 but that he disclaimed them all, trusting only to the justification which is of God by faith, and hoping to partake of the resurrection through Christ. 12 He acknowledgeth his present imperfection, and that he was still anxiously striving for the prize: 15 exhorting others to be likeminded, 17 and to follow his example; 18 for many were enemies to the gospel, being earthly minded; 20 but his conversation and views were heavenly.

FINALLY, my brethren, [a] rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2 [b] Beware of dogs, beware of [c] evil workers, [d] beware of the concision.

3 For we are [e] the circumcision, [f] which worship God in the spirit, and [g] rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though [h] I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 [i] Circumcised the eighth day, [k] of the stock of Israel, [l] of the tribe of Benjamin, [m] an Hebrew of the Hebrews; as touching the law, [n] a Pharisee;

6 [o] Concerning zeal, [p] persecuting the church; [q] touching the righteousness which is in the law, [r] blameless.

7 But [s] what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.

8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss [t] for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9 And be found in him, not having [u] mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but [x] that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and [y] the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;

11 If by any means I might [z] attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already [a] attained, either were already [b] perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Jesus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, [c] forgetting those things which are behind, and [d] reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14 [e] I press toward the mark for the prize of [f] the high calling of God in Christ Jesus.

15 Let us therefore, as many as be [g] perfect, [h] be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, [i] let us walk [k] by the same rule, [l] let us mind the same thing.

17 Brethren, [m] be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as [n] ye have us for an ensample.

18 (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are [o] the enemies of the cross of Christ:

19 [p] Whose end is destruction, [q] whose God is their belly, and [r] whose glory is in their shame, [s] who mind earthly things.)

20 For [t] our conversation is in heaven; [u] from whence also we [x] look for the Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ:

21 [y] Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, [z] according to the working whereby he is able [a] even to subdue all things unto himself.

Anno DOMINI 64.

CHAP. IV.

1 Paul exciteth to stedfastness in Christ, 2 and after some particular admonitions, 3 exhorteth generally to religious joy, 5 moderation, 6 trust in God with prayer, 8 and to every branch of moral goodness. 10 He testifieth his joy in the care shewn by the Philippians for his supply in prison, though being always content he was above want; 15 and commendeth their former liberality to him, not for his own sake, but for the good that would redound to them from it. 18 He acknowledgeth the receipt of their late bounty, assuring them that God would both accept and reward it. 20 He giveth glory to God, and concludeth with salutations, and a blessing.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved and [a] longed for, [b] my joy and crown, so [c] stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I beseech Euodias, and beseech Syntyche, [d] that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I intreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which [e] laboured with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellowlabourers, whose names are in [f] the book of life.

4 [g] Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice.

5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. [h] The Lord is at hand.

6 [i] Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

9 [m] Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and [n] the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last [o] your care of me ‖ hath flourished again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, [p] therewith to be content.

12 [q] I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: every where and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things [r] through Christ which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding ye have well done, that ye did communicate with my affliction.

15 Now, ye Philippians, know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Macedonia, [t] no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thessalonica ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17 Not because I desire a gift: but I desire [u] fruit that may abound to your account.

18 But ‖ I have all, and abound: I am full, having received [x] of Epaphroditus the things which were sent from you, [y] an odour of a sweet smell, [z] a sacrifice acceptable, well-pleasing to God.

19 But my God [a] shall supply all your need [b] according to his riches in glory by Christ Jesus.

20 [c] Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Jesus. The brethren [d] which are with me greet you.

22 All the saints salute you, [e] chiefly they that are of Cesar's household.

23 [f] The grace of of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

The Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the COLOSSIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 After saluting the saints at Colosse, 3 Paul testifieth his thankfulness to God for the good account he had heard of their faith and love; 9 and his continual prayers for their improvement in spiritual knowledge, right practice, and thanksgiving to God for the benefits of redemption by his Son. 15 He sheweth them the exalted nature and mediatorial office of Christ, 21 by whom they, who were once enemies, were now reconciled, if they continued true to the gospel, 23 whereof he Paul was made a minister to preach it to the Gentiles.

PAUL, [a] an apostle of Jesus Christ] by the will of God, and Timotheus our brother,

2 To the saints [b] and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Colosse: [c] Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [d] We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, praying always for you,

4 [e] Since we heard of your faith in Christ Jesus, and of [f] the love which ye have to all the saints,

5 For the hope [g] which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, [h] as it is in all the world; and [i] bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew [k] the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of [l] Epaphras our dear fellowservant, who is for you [m] a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also declared unto us your [n] love in the Spirit.

9 [o] For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire [p] that ye might be filled with [q] the knowledge of his will [r] in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 [s] That ye might walk worthy of the Lord [t] unto all pleasing, [u] being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 [x] Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, [y] unto all patience and longsuffering [z] with joyfulness;

12 [a] Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of [b] the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from [c] the power of darkness, [d] and hath translated us into the kingdom of † his dear Son:

14 [e] In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

15 Who is [f] the image of the invisible God, [g] the firstborn of every creature:

16 For [h] by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or [i] dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created [k] by him, and for him:

17 [l] And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

18 And [m] he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, [n] the firstborn from the dead; that ‖ in all things he might have the preeminence.

19 For it pleased the Father that [o] in him should all fulness dwell;

20 And, ‖ [p] having made peace through the blood of his cross, [q] by him to reconcile [r] all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, [s] that were sometime alienated and enemies ‖ in your mind [t] by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled

CHAP. II.

1 Paul testifieth his sollicitude for the churches which had not seen him, that they might be united in love, and attain a perfect knowledge of the Christian revelation, 4 not being seduced from their stedfastness in the faith, 8 nor corrupted through philosophy and human traditions. 9 He sheweth that they were already complete in Christ, having attained the true circumcision figured in baptism; 13 that God had quickened them with Christ, and both abolished the law of ordinances, that was against them, 15 and also spoiled principalities and powers. 16 He therefore urgeth them not to submit to legal ordinances, which were but a shadow of Christ; nor to the worship of angels, and other vain practices of human devising.

FOR I would that ye knew what great ‖ [a] conflict I have for you, and for them at Laodicea, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 [b] That their hearts might be comforted, [c] being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, [d] to the acknowledgement of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;

3 ‖ [e] In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, [f] lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For [g] though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding [h] your order, and the [i] stedfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 [k] As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 [l] Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 [m] Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after [n] the tradition of men, after the ‖ [o] rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.

9 For [p] in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

10 [q] And ye are complete in him, [r] which is the head of all [s] principality and power:

11 In whom also ye are [t] circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in [u] putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ:

12 [x] Buried with him in baptism, wherein also [y] ye are risen with him through [z] the faith of the operation of God, [a] who hath raised him from the dead.

13 [b] And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

14 [c] Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And [d] having spoiled [e] principalities and powers, he made a shew of them openly, triumphing over them ‖ in it.

16 Let no man therefore [f] judge you ‖ [g] in meat, or in drink, or ‖ in respect [h] of an holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:

17 [i] Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

18 [k] Let no man ‖ beguile you of your reward † in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things [l] which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind,

19 And not holding [m] the head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 Wherefore if ye be [n] dead with Christ from [o] the ‖ rudiments of the world, [p] why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

21 (Touch not; taste not; handle not;

22 Which all are to perish with the using;) [r] after the commandments and doctrines of men?

CHAP. III.

1 The apostle exhorteth to be heavenly minded, 5 to mortify carnal lusts, and to put away all malice and ill dealing in respect of one another, as becometh Christians; 12 he recommendeth brotherly kindness, charity, and other general duties. 18 The relative duties of wives, 19 and husbands: 20 of children, 21 and parents: 22 and of servants toward their masters.

IF ye then [a] be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where [b] Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your ‖ affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 [c] For ye are dead, [d] and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 [e] When Christ, who is [f] our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him [g] in glory.

5 [k] Mortify therefore [l] your members which are upon the earth; [k] fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, [l] evil concupiscence, and covetousness, [m] which is idolatry:

God cometh on [o] the children of disobedience:

7 [p] In the which ye also walked some time, when ye lived in them.

8 [q] But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, [r] filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 [s] Lie not one to another, [t] seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

10 And have put on the new man, which [u] is renewed in knowledge [x] after the image of him that [y] created him:

11 Where there is neither [z] Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Barbarian, Scythian, bond nor free: [a] but Christ is all, and in all.

12 [b] Put on therefore, [c] as the elect of God, holy and beloved, [d] bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;

13 [e] Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a ‖ quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14 [f] And above all these things [g] put on charity, which is the [h] bond of perfectness.

15 And let [i] the peace of God rule in your hearts, [k] to the which also ye are called [l] in one body; [m] and be ye thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another [n] in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing [o] with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And [p] whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, [q] giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 [r] Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, [s] as it is fit in the Lord.

19 [t] Husbands, love your wives, and be not [u] bitter against them.

20 [x] Children, obey your parents [y] in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.

21 [z] Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22 [a] Servants, obey [b] in all things your masters [c] according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 [d] And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24 [e] Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: [f] for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and [g] there is no respect of persons.

CHAP. IV.

1 The duty of masters toward their servants. 2 A general exhortation to perseverance in prayer, 5 discreet conduct, 6 and well ordered speech. 7 The apostle commendeth Tychicus and Onesimus, by whom he sent this epistle: 10 and concludeth with divers salutations, and a blessing.

Anno DOMINI 64.

MAsters, [a] give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 [b] Continue in prayer, and watch in the same [c] with thanksgiving;

3 [d] Withal praying also for us, that God would [e] open unto us a door of utterance, to speak [f] the mystery of Christ, [g] for which I am also in bonds:

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 [h] Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, [i] redeeming the time.

6 Let your speech be alway [k] with grace, [l] seasoned with salt, [m] that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7 [n] All my state shall Tychicus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellowservant in the Lord:

8 [o] Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;

9 With [p] Onesimus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

10 [q] Aristarchus my fellowprisoner saluteth you, and [r] Marcus, sister's son to Barnabas, (touching whom ye received commandments: if he come unto you, receive him;)

11 And Jesus, which is called Justus, who are of the circumcision. These only are my fellowworkers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12 [s] Epaphras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always ‖ [t] labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand [u] perfect and ‖ complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in Laodicea, and them in Hierapolis.

14 [x] Luke, the beloved physician, and [y] Demas, greet you.

15 Salute the brethren which are in Laodicea, and Nymphas, and [z] the church which is in his house.

16 And when [a] this epistle is read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the Laodiceans; and that ye likewise read the epistle from Laodicea.

17 And say to [b] Archippus, Take heed to [c] the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 [d] The salutation by the hand of me Paul. [e] Remember my bonds. [f] Grace be with you. Amen.

The First Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the THESSALONIANS.

CHAP. I.

1 The salutation. 2 Paul sheweth his thankful remembrance of the Thessalonians in his prayers on account of their faith, charity, and patience; 5 applauding them for their exemplary reception of the gospel, and improvement under it.

Anno DOMINI 54.

PAUL, and [a] Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians which is in God the Father and in the Lord Jesus Christ: [b] Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

[a] 2 Cor. 1. 19. [a] Thess. 1. 1. [a] Pet. 5. 12. [b] Eph. 1. 2.

Anno DOMINI 64.

2 [a] We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 [d] Remembering without ceasing [e] your work of faith, [f] and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4 Knowing, brethren ‖ beloved, [g] your election of God.

5 For [h] our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and [i] in the Holy Ghost, [k] and in much assurance; as [l] ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And [m] ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, [n] with joy of the Holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Macedonia and Achaia.

8 For from you [o] sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Macedonia and Achaia, but also [p] in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves shew of us [q] what manner of entering in we had unto you, [r] and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God;

10 And [s] to wait for his Son [t] from heaven, [u] whom he raised from the dead, even Jesus, which delivered us [x] from the wrath to come.

2 Pet. 3 12. Rev. 1. 7. [t] Acts 1. 11. ch. 4. 16. 2 Thes. 1. 7. [x] Matth. 3. 7. Rom. 5 9. ch. 5. 9.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul setteth forth in what manner he had preached the gospel to the Thessalonians, 13 and they had received and suffered for it. 17 He sheweth his desire of coming to them, and the cause which had hitherto prevented him; 19 testifying his joy and satisfaction in them.

FOR [a] yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at [b] Philippi, [c] we were bold in our God [d] to speak unto you the gospel of God [e] with much contention.

3 [f] For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as [g] we were allowed of God [h] to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; [i] not as pleasing men, but God, [k] which trieth our hearts.

5 For [l] neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloke of covetousness; [m] God is witness:

6 [n] Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when [o] we might have ‖ been [p] burdensome, [q] as the apostles of Christ.

7 But [r] we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing [s] to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also [t] our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for [u] labouring night and day, [x] because we would not be chargeable unto any of you, we preached unto you the gospel of God.

10 [r] Ye are witnesses, and God also, [s] how holily and justly and unblameably we behaved ourselves among you that believe:

11 As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,

12 [a] That ye would walk worthy of God, [b] who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thank we God [c] without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it [d] not as the word of men, but as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers [e] of the churches of God which in Judea are in Christ Jesus: for [f] ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, [g] even as they have of the Jews:

15 [h] Who both killed the Lord Jesus, and [i] their own prophets, and have ‖ persecuted us; and they please not God, [k] and are contrary to all men:

16 [l] Forbidding us to speak to the Gentiles that they might be saved, [m] to fill up their sins alway: [n] for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time [o] in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly [p] to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but [q] Satan hindered us.

19 For [r] what is our hope, or joy, or [s] crown of ‖ rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Jesus Christ [t] at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

13. & 15. 22. [r] 2 Cor. 1. 14. Phil. 2. 16. & 4. 1. [s] Prov. 16. 31. ‖ Or, glorying. [t] 1 Cor. 15. 23. ch. 3. 13. Rev. 1. 7. & 22. 12.

CHAP. III.

1 The apostle sheweth that out of his great care for the Thessalonians he had sent Timothy to comfort and strengthen them in the faith; 6 whose good report of them had been a great consolation to him in his distresses. 9 He testifieth his thankfulness to God, and earnest desire to see them; 11 praying God to guide him to them, and for their increase in love and holiness unto the end.

WHEREFORE [a] when we could no longer forbear, [b] we thought it good to be left at Athens alone;

2 And sent [c] Timotheus, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 [d] That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that [e] we are appointed thereunto.

4 [f] For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5 For this cause, [g] when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, [h] lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and [i] our labour be in vain.

6 [k] But now when Timotheus came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, [l] as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, [m] we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye [a] stand fast in the Lord.

9 [b] For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10 [c] Night and day [d] praying exceedingly [e] that we might see your face, [f] and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Jesus Christ, ‖ [g] direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord [h] make you to increase and abound in love [i] one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13 To the end he may [k] stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ [l] with all his saints.

CHAP. IV.

1 Paul exhorteth the Thessalonians to proceed in their endeavours to please God by a holy and just conversation. 9 He commendeth their love to one another, intreating them to abound in it, 11 and quietly to follow their respective callings. 13 And that they might not sorrow for the dead, as men without hope, he briefly describeth the resurrection of the just, and Christ's second coming.

FUrthermore then we ‖ beseech you, brethren, and ‖ exhort you by the Lord Jesus, [a] that as ye have received of us [b] how ye ought to walk [c] and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Jesus.

3 For this is [d] the will of God, even [e] your sanctification, [f] that ye should abstain from fornication:

4 [g] That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5 [h] Not in the lust of concupiscence, [i] even as the Gentiles [k] which know not God:

6 [l] That no man go beyond and ‖ defraud his brother ‖ in any matter: because the Lord [m] is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, [n] but unto holiness.

8 [o] He therefore that ‖ despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, [p] who hath also given unto us his holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly love [q] ye need not that I write unto you: for [r] ye yourselves are taught of God [s] to love one another.

10 [t] And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Macedonia: but we beseech you, brethren, [u] that ye increase more and more;

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and [x] to do your own business, and [y] to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12 [z] That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack ‖ of nothing.

13 But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, [a] even as others [b] which have no hope.

14 For [c] if we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so [d] them also which sleep in Jesus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you [e] by the word of the Lord, that [f] we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For [g] the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with [h] the trump of God: [i] and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17 [k] Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them [l] in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so [m] shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 [n] Wherefore ‖ comfort one another with these words.

CHAP. V.

1 The apostle proceedeth to shew that Christ's coming will be sudden, exhorting Christians to watch and be sober, so as not to be taken by surprize. 12 He beseecheth them to respect their spiritual guides; 14 and giveth divers other precepts; 23 concluding with a prayer and salutations.

BUT of [a] the times and the seasons, brethren, [b] ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly that [c] the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then [d] sudden destruction cometh upon them, [e] as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 [f] But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day shall overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all [g] the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 [h] Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but [i] let us watch and be sober.

7 For [k] they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken [l] are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, [m] putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for an helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For [n] God hath not appointed us to wrath, [o] but to obtain salvation by our Lord Jesus Christ,

10 [p] Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 [q] Wherefore ‖ comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, [r] to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. [s] And be at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we ‖ exhort you, brethren, [t] warn them that are ‖ unruly, [u] comfort the feebleminded, [x] support the weak, [y] be patient toward all men.

15 [z] See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever [a] follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

16 [b] Rejoice evermore.

17 [c] Pray without ceasing.

The Second Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the THESSALONIANS.

Anno DOMINI 54.

CHAP. I.

1 The salutation. 3 Paul certifieth the Thessalonians of the good opinion which he had of their faith, love, and patience; 6 of the righteous judgment of God in punishing their enemies, and recompensing their sufferings; 11 and of his prayers that God would fulfil his gracious purpose in them.

PAUL, [a] and Silvanus, and Timotheus, unto the church of the Thessalonians [b] in God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 [c] Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ.

3 [d] We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;

4 So that [e] we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God [f] for your patience and faith [g] in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:

5 Which is [h] a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, [i] for which ye also suffer:

6 [k] Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7 And to you who are troubled [l] rest with us, when [m] the Lord Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with † his mighty angels,

8 [n] In flaming fire ‖ taking vengeance on them [o] that know not God, and [p] that obey not the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ:

9 [q] Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and [r] from the glory of his power;

10 [s] When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, [t] and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would ‖ [u] count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and [x] the work of faith with power:

12 [y] That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul warneth the Thessalonians against a groundless surmise that the day of Christ was near at hand; 3 shewing that it would be preceded by a great apostasy, and that the man of sin would be first revealed, and by his wicked impostures draw many into perdition. 13 He repeateth his good hopes concerning them, 15 exhorting them to stand fast in his doctrine, and praying God to comfort and stablish them in all goodness.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, [a] by the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, [b] and by our gathering together unto him,

2 [c] That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 [d] Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, [e] except there come a falling away first, and [f] that man of sin be revealed, [g] the son of perdition;

4 Who opposeth and [h] exalteth himself [i] above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himself that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what ‖ withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For [k] the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, [l] whom the Lord shall consume [m] with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy [n] with the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him, whose coming is [o] after the working of Satan with all power and [p] signs and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in [q] them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

11 And [r] for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, [s] that they should believe a lie:

12 That they all might be damned who believed not the truth, but [t] had pleasure in unrighteousness.

13 But [u] we are bound to give thanks alway to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God [x] hath [y] from the beginning chosen you to salvation [z] through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth:

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to [a] the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, [b] stand fast, and hold [c] the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16 [d] Now our Lord Jesus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, [e] which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and [f] good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, [g] and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAP. III.

1 The Apostle desireth the Thessalonians to pray for him, 3 testifying his confidence in them, 5 and praying God to direct them. 6 He censureth the idle and disorderly, and requireth others to abstain from their company: 16 concluding with prayer and salutation.

FINALLY, brethren, [a] pray for us, that the word of the Lord † may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2 And [b] that we may be delivered from † unreasonable and wicked men: [c] for all men have not faith.

3 But [d] the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and [e] keep you from evil.

4 And [f] we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5 And [g] the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and ‖ into the patient waiting for Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, [h] that ye withdraw yourselves [i] from every brother that walketh [k] disorderly, and not after [l] the tradition which he received of us.

7 For yourselves know [m] how ye ought to follow us: for [n] we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but [o] wrought with labour

9 [r] Not because we have not power, but to make [s] ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, [t] that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11 For we hear that there are some [u] which walk among you disorderly, [x] working not at all, but are busybodies.

12 [y] Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, [z] that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, [a] ‖ be not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word ‖ by this epistle, note that man, and [b] have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15 [c] Yet count him not as an enemy, [d] but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now [e] the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17 [f] The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 [g] The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

The First Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to TIMOTHY.

Anno DOMINI 65.

CHAP. I.

1 The salutation. 3 Timothy is put in mind of the charge before given him by Paul. 5 The end of the commandment is charity, from which some had turned aside to teach the law which they understood not. 8 The scope of the law was to condemn wickedness, which is the design of the gospel also. 12 Paul blesseth God for calling him to the ministry notwithstanding his great demerit, whereby all penitent sinners that believe are assured of mercy through Christ. 18 He urgeth Timothy to a due discharge of his trust, warning him of some who had deserted the truth, of whom Hymeneus and Alexander had been delivered by him unto Satan.

PAUL, an apostle of Jesus Christ [a] by the commandment [b] of God our Saviour, and Lord Jesus Christ, [c] which is our hope;

2 Unto [d] Timothy, [e] my own son in the faith: [f] Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Jesus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, [g] when I went into Macedonia, that thou mightest charge some [h] that they teach no other doctrine,

4 [i] Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, [k] which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.

5 Now [l] the end of the commandment is charity [m] out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some ‖ having swerved have turned aside unto [n] vain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; [o] understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that [p] the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

[a] Acts 9. 15. Gal. 1. 1, 11. [b] ch. 2. 3. & 4. 10. Tit. 1. 3. & 2. 10. & 3. 4. Jude 25. [c] Col. 1. 27. [d] Acts 16. 1. 2 Cor. 4. 17. Phil. 2. 19. 2 Thes. 3. 2. [e] Tit. 1. 4. 9 [q] Knowing this, that the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary [r] to sound doctrine;

11 According to the glorious gospel of [s] the blessed God, [t] which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Jesus our Lord, [u] who hath enabled me, [x] for that he counted me faithful, [y] putting me into the ministry;

13 [z] Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because [a] I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

14 [b] And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant [c] with faith [d] and love which is in Christ Jesus.

15 [e] This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that [f] Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit for this cause [g] I obtained mercy, that in me first Jesus Christ might shew forth all long suffering, [h] for a pattern to them which should hereafter believe on him to life everlasting.

17 Now unto [i] the King eternal, [k] immortal, [l] invisible, [m] the only wise God, [n] be honour and glory for ever and ever. Amen.

19 [r] Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith [s] have made shipwreck:

20 Of whom is [t] Hymeneus and [u] Alexander; whom I have [x] delivered unto Satan, that they may learn not to [y] blaspheme.

CHAP. II.

1 Paul exhorteth to pray and give thanks for all men, for kings and magistrates especially. 4 God willeth the salvation of all men. 7 Paul's commission to teach the Gentiles. 8 He directeth how women should be attired; 11 permitteth them not to teach; 15 but promiseth that they shall be saved in childbearing on certain conditions.

I ‖ Exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

2 [a] For kings, and [b] for all that are in ‖ authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is [c] good and acceptable in the sight [d] of God our Saviour;

4 [e] Who will have all men to be saved, [f] and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5 [g] For there is one God, and [h] one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus;

6 [i] Who gave himself a ransom for all, [k] ‖ to be testified [l] in due time.

7 [m] Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, (["] I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not;) [o] a teacher of the Gentiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that men pray [p] every where, [q] lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9 In like manner also, that [r] women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with ‖ broidered hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 [s] But (which becometh women professing godliness) with good works.

11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

12 But [t] I suffer not a woman to teach, [u] nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

13 For [x] Adam was first formed, then Eve.

14 And [y] Adam was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with sobriety.

CHAP. III.

1 The office of a bishop is to be esteemed a good work. 2 The qualifications requisite in a bishop, 8 and in deacons. 14 Why Paul wrote these instructions to Timothy. 16 The important truths of the Christian revelation.

THIS [a] is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a [b] bishop, he desireth a good [c] work.

2 [d] A bishop then must be blameless, [e] the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, ‖ of good behaviour, given to hospitality, apt to teach;

3 [f] ‖ Not given to wine, [h] no striker, [i] not greedy of filthy lucre; but [k] patient, not a brawler, nor covetous;

4 One that ruleth well his own house, [l] having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 (For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?)

6 Not ‖ a novice, lest being lifted up with pride [m] he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover he must have a good report [n] of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach [o] and the snare of the devil.

8 Likewise must [p] the deacons be grave, not doubletongued, [q] not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9 [r] Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

11 [s] Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.

13 For [t] they that have ‖ used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Jesus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself [u] in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and ‖ ground of the truth.

16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: [x] God was † manifest in the flesh, [y] justified in the Spirit, [z] seen of angels, [a] preached unto the Gentiles, [b] believed on in the world, [c] received up into glory.

CHAP. IV.

1 Paul foretelleth and describeth a great apostasy to happen in the latter times. 6 He directeth Timothy what doctrines to teach, 12 and by what rules to regulate his conduct, so as to save both himself and his hearers.

NOW the Spirit [a] speaketh expressly, that [b] in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed [c] to seducing spirits, [d] and doctrines of devils;

2 [e] Speaking lies in hypocrisy; [f] having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 [g] Forbidding to marry, [h] and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created [i] to be received [k] with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4 For [l] every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Jesus Christ, [m] nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But [n] refuse profane and old wives' fables, and [o] exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8 For [p] bodily exercise profiteth ‖ little: [q] but godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 This is a faithful saying and worthy of all acceptation.

10 For therefore we both labour and suffer reproach, because we trust in the living God, who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 These things command and teach.

12 Let no man despise thy youth; but be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee by prophecy, with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear ‖ to all.

16 Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both save thyself, and them that hear thee.

CHAP. V.

1 Directions to Timothy how to admonish persons of different conditions. 3 Concerning widows. 17 Elders, if they do well, are to be doubly honoured; 19 and are not to be censured without full proof; and then openly and impartially. 22 A caution not to ordain any one precipitately. 23 Advice respecting Timothy's health. 24 Some men's characters are more easily discerned than those of others.

REbuke not an elder, but intreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2 The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, with all purity.

3 Honour widows that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to shew ‖ piety at home, and to requite their parents: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and continueth in supplications and prayers night and day.

6 But she that liveth ‖ in pleasure is dead while she liveth.

7 And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own ‖ house, he hath denied the faith, and is worse than an infidel.

9 Let not a widow be ‖ taken into the number under threescore years old, having been the wife of one man,

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have lodged strangers, if she have washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry;

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busy bodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, give none occasion to the adversary † to speak reproachfully.

15 For some are already turned aside after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve them that are widows indeed.

17 Let the elders that rule well be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the scripture saith, Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but ‖ before two or three witnesses.

20 Them that sin rebuke before all, that others also may fear.

21 I charge thee before God, and the Lord Jesus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things ‖ without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 Lay hands suddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 Drink no longer water, but use a little wine for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

24 Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

25 Likewise also the good works of some are manifest beforehand; and they that are otherwise cannot be hid.

CHAP. VI.

1 The duty of servants. 3 Those who teach not according to the apostle's doctrine are to be avoided, as corrupters of Christianity. 6 The gain of godliness with content. 9 The evil of covetousness. 11 What Timothy is to flee, and what to follow and perform. 17 A charge to the rich not to be proud and confident in their riches, but to be beneficent and liberal. 20 Timothy is injoined to adhere to the true faith, and to shun profane and vain controversies.

LET as many servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are ‖ faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man teach otherwise, and consent not to wholsome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

4 He is ‖ proud, knowing nothing, but ‖ doting about questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

5 ‖ Perverse disputings of men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, supposing that gain is godliness: from such withdraw thyself.

6 But godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 And having food and raiment let us be therewith content.

The Second Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to TIMOTHY.

CHAP. I.

1 Paul affectionately saluteth Timothy, 3 assuring him of his constant prayers for him, and remembrance of that sincere faith which had been derived to Timothy from his mother and grandmother. 6 He exhorteth him to stir up the gift of God which was in him; 8 and not to be ashamed of the testimony of the gospel, but to be ready to suffer for it according to his example: 13 and to hold fast the form of sound words which he had learned. 15 He putteth him in mind of the general defection of the converts in Asia, 16 and commendeth Onesiphorus for his repeated kindness toward him.

Anno DOMINI 66.

PAUL, [a] an apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, according to [b] the promise of life which is in Christ Jesus,

2 [c] To Timothy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Jesus our Lord.

3 [d] I thank God, [e] whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that [f] without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 [g] Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 When I call to remembrance [h] the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lois, and [i] thy mother Eunice; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance [k] that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For [l] God hath not given us the spirit of fear; [m] but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 [n] Be not thou therefore ashamed of [o] the testimony of our Lord, nor of me [p] his prisoner: [q] but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;

9 [r] Who hath saved us, and [s] called us with an holy calling, [t] not according to our works, but [u] according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Jesus [x] before the world began;

10 But [y] is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Jesus Christ, [z] who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 [a] Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gentiles.

12 [b] For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed: [c] for I know whom I have ‖ believed, and am persuaded that he is able to [d] keep that which I have committed unto him [e] against that day.

13 [f] Hold fast [g] the form of [h] sound words, [i] which thou hast heard of me, [k] in faith and love which is in Christ Jesus.

14 [l] That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost [m] which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that [n] all they which are in Asia be [o] turned away from me; of whom are Phygellus and Hermogenes.

16 The Lord [p] give mercy unto [q] the house of Onesiphorus; [r] for he oft refreshed me, and [s] was not ashamed of [t] my chain:

17 But, when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him [u] that he may find mercy of the Lord [x] in that day: and in how many things he [y] ministered unto me at Ephesus, thou knowest very well.

CHAP. II.

1 Timothy is exhorted to constancy and perseverance in the discharge of his duty, as a good soldier of Christ, looking for a certain reward of his fatigues and sufferings; 15 to divide the word of truth rightly, and to shun profane and vain babblings. 17 The dangerous error of Hymeneus and Philetus. 19 The foundation of God standeth sure. 20 Of vessels honourable and dishonourable. 22 Timothy is taught what to flee, and what to follow, and how the servant of Christ must behave toward all men.

Anno DOMINI 66.

THOU therefore, [a] my son, [b] be strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus.

2 [c] And the things that thou hast heard of me ‖ among many witnesses, [d] the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be [e] able to teach others also.

3 [f] Thou therefore endure hardness, [g] as a good soldier of Jesus Christ.

4 [h] No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And [i] if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 [k] The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Jesus Christ [l] of the seed of David [m] was raised from the dead [n] according to my gospel:

9 [o] Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, [p] even unto bonds; [q] but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore [r] I endure all things for the elect's sakes, [s] that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Jesus with eternal glory.

11 [t] It is a faithful saying: For [u] if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:

12 [x] If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: [y] if we deny him, he also will deny us:

13 [z] If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: [a] he cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, [b] charging them before the Lord [c] that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But [d] shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a ‖ canker: of whom is [e] Hymeneus and Philetus;

18 Who [f] concerning the truth have erred, [g] saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless [h] the foundation of God standeth ‖ sure, having this seal, The Lord [i] knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.

20 [k] But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; [l] and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 [m] If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and [n] prepared unto every good work.

22 Flee also youthful lusts: but [o] follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that [p] call on the Lord [q] out of a pure heart.

23 But [r] foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And [s] the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, [t] apt to teach, ‖ patient,

25 [u] In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; [x] if God peradventure will give them repentance [y] to the acknowledging of the truth;

26 And that they may † recover themselves [z] out of the snare of the devil, who are † taken captive by him at his will.

CHAP. III.

1 The apostle foretelleth the evil characters that should appear in the last days. 6 He describeth the enemies of the truth: 10 propoundeth unto Timothy his own example, 14 and exhorteth him to abide in the doctrine he had learned, commending unto him the manifold use of the holy scriptures.

THIS know also, that [a] in the last days perilous times shall come.

2 For men shall be [b] lovers of their own selves, [c] covetous, [d] boasters, [e] proud, [f] blasphemers, [g] disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 [h] Without natural affection, [i] truce-breakers, ‖ false accusers, [k] incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 [l] Traitors, heady, highminded, [m] lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 Having a form of godliness, but [n] denying the power thereof: [o] from such turn away.

6 For [p] of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able [q] to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 [r] Now as Jannes and Jambres withstood Moses, so do these also resist the truth: [s] men of corrupt minds, [t] ‖ reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, [u] as their's also was.

10 [x] But ‖ thou hast fully known my doctrine, manner of life, purpose, faith, longsuffering, charity, patience,

11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came unto me [y] at Antioch, [z] at Iconium, [a] at Lystra; what persecutions I endured: but [b] out of them all the Lord delivered me.

12 Yea, and [c] all that will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution.

13 [d] But evil men and seducers shall wax worse and worse, deceiving, and being deceived.

14 But [e] continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them;

15 And that from a child thou hast known [f] the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus.

16 [g] All scripture is given by inspiration of God, [h] and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness:

17 [i] That the man of God may be perfect, ‖ [k] throughly furnished unto all good works.

CHAP. IV.

The Epistle of PAUL to TITUS.

CHAP. I.

1 The salutation. 5 For what end Titus was left in Crete. 6 How they should be qualified who are ordained to the ministry. 10 The mouths of evil teachers must be stopped. 12 The bad character of the Cretians.

PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Jesus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and [a] the acknowledging of the truth [b] which is after godliness;

2 ‖ [c] In hope of eternal life, which God, [d] that cannot lie, promised [e] before the world began;

3 [f] But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, [g] which is committed unto me [h] according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4 To [i] Titus, [k] mine own son after [l] the common faith: [m] Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Jesus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest [n] set in order the things that are ‖ wanting, and [o] ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6 [p] If any be blameless, [q] the husband of one wife, [r] having faithful children, not accused of riot, or unruly.

7 For a bishop must be blameless, as [s] the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, [t] not given to wine, no striker, [u] not given to filthy lucre;

8 [x] But a lover of hospitality, a lover of ‖ good men, sober, just, holy, temperate;

9 [y] Holding fast [z] the faithful word ‖ as he hath been taught, that he may be able [a] by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For [b] there are many unruly and vain talkers and [c] deceivers, [d] specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, [e] who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, [f] for filthy lucre's sake.

12 [g] One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cretians are alway liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true. [h] Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be [i] sound in the faith;

14 [k] Not giving heed to Jewish fables, and [l] commandments of men, that turn from the truth.

15 [m] Unto the pure all things are pure: but [n] unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They profess that they know God; but [o] in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, [p] and unto every good work ‖ reprobate.

CHAP. II.

1 Directions given to Titus both for his doctrine and life. 9 The duty of servants. 11 The gospel teacheth all men to renounce wickedness, and to lead sober, righteous, and godly, lives.

BUT speak thou the things which become [a] sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be ‖ sober, grave, temperate, [b] sound in faith, in charity, in patience.

3 [c] The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh ‖ holiness, not ‖ false accusers, not given to much wine, teachers of good things;

4 That they may teach the young women to be ‖ sober, [d] to love their husbands, to love their children,

5 To be discreet, chaste, keepers at home, good, [e] obedient to their own husbands, [f] that the word of God be not blasphemed.

6 Young men likewise exhort to be ‖ sober minded.

7 [g] In all things shewing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine shewing uncorruptness, gravity, [h] sincerity,

8 [i] Sound speech, that cannot be condemned; [k] that he that is of the contrary part [l] may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 Exhort [m] servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well [n] in all things; not ‖ answering again;

10 Not purloining, but shewing all good fidelity; [o] that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For [p] the grace of God ‖ that bringeth salvation [q] hath appeared to all men,

12 Teaching us [r] that, denying ungodliness [s] and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;

13 [t] Looking for that blessed [u] hope, and the glorious [x] appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ;

14 [y] Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, [z] and purify unto himself [a] a peculiar people, [b] zealous of good works.

15 These things speak, and [c] exhort, and rebuke with all authority. [d] Let no man despise thee.

Anno DOMINI 65.

CHAP. III.

1 Christians are admonished to be subject to civil powers, and of a peaceable and quiet demeanour. 3 They are saved from their sins by God's mercy through Christ, but must maintain good works. 9 Genealogies and contentions about the law are to be avoided; 10 and obstinate hereticks to be rejected. 12 Paul appointeth Titus when and where to come to him; 14 recommendeth acts of mercy to Christians; 15 and concludeth with salutations and a benediction.

PUT them in mind [a] to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, [b] to be ready to every good work,

2 [c] To speak evil of no man, [d] to be no brawlers, but [e] gentle, shewing all [f] meekness unto all men.

3 For [g] we ourselves also were sometimes foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4 But after that [h] the kindness and ‖ love of [i] God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 [k] Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by [l] the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;

6 [m] Which he shed on us † abundantly through Jesus Christ our Saviour;

7 [n] That being justified by his grace, [o] we should be made heirs [p] according to the hope of eternal life.

8 [q] This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful [r] to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

9 But [s] avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; [t] for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 A man that is an heretick [u] after the first and second admonition [x] reject;

11 Knowing that he that is such is subverted, and sinneth, [y] being condemned of himself.

12 When I shall send Artemas unto thee, or [z] Tychicus, be diligent to come unto me to Nicopolis: for I have determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas the lawyer and [a] Apollos on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14 And let our's also learn [b] to ‖ maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be [c] not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

The Epistle of PAUL to PHILEMON.

1 The salutation. 4 Paul declareth his joy in hearing of the love and faith of Philemon; 8 earnestly intreating him to receive into his favour his once fugitive servant Onesimus, now become a faithful Christian. 22 He desireth him to provide a lodging for himself, who was in expectation of a speedy release; 23 and concludeth with salutations and a benediction.

2 And to our beloved Apphia, and [c] Archippus [d] our fellow soldier, and to [e] the church in thy house:

ledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Jesus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints [k] are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, [l] though I might be much bold in Christ to injoin thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such an one as Paul the aged, [m] and now also a prisoner of Jesus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son [n] Onesimus, [o] whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:

13 Whom I would have retained with me, [p] that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:

14 But without thy mind would I do nothing; [q] that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 [r] For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, [s] a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, [t] both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore [u] a partner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee ought, put that on mine account;

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: [x] refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 [y] Having confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22 But withal prepare me also a lodging: for [z] I trust that [a] through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 There salute thee [b] Epaphras, my fellowprisoner in Christ Jesus;

24 [c] Marcus, [d] Aristarchus, [e] Demas, [f] Lucas, my fellowlabourers.

25 [g] The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

¶ Written from Rome to Philemon, by Onesimus a servant.

The Epistle of PAUL the Apostle to the HEBREWS.

CHAP. I.

1 The essential dignity of the Son, by whom God hath revealed himself in these last days: 4 his preeminence above the angels in office.

GOD, who at sundry times and [a] in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2 Hath [b] in these last days [c] spoken unto us by his Son, [d] whom he hath appointed heir of all things, [e] by whom also he made the worlds;

3 [f] Who being the brightness of his glory, and the express image of his person, and [g] upholding all things by the word of his power, [h] when he had by himself purged our sins, [i] sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as [k] he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, [l] Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, [m] I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 ‖ And again, when he bringeth in [n] the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, [o] And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And † of the angels he saith, [p] Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, [q] Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of † righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, [r] hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, [s] Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the works of thine hands.

11 [t] They shall perish; but thou remainest: and they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, [u] Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 [x] Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be [y] heirs of salvation?

CHAP. II.

1 The obligation we are under to give more earnest heed to the gospel doctrine. 5 The dominion of the world to come was not granted to angels, but to the Son of man, whom it behoved to undergo a previous course of humiliation and suffering.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should † let them slip.

2 For if the word [a] spoken by angels was stedfast, and [b] every transgression and disobedience received a just recompence of reward;

3 [c] How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; [d] which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was [e] confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 [f] God also bearing them witness, [g] both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and ‖ [h] gifts of the Holy Ghost, [i] according to his own will?

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection [k] the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying, [l] What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him ‖ a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 [m] Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now [n] we see not yet all things put under him.

9 But we see Jesus, [o] who was made a little lower than the angels ‖ for the suffering of death, [p] crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death [q] for every man.

10 [r] For it became him, [s] for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make [t] the captain of their salvation [u] perfect through sufferings.

11 For [x] both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified [y] are all of one: for which cause [z] he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

12 Saying, [a] I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, [b] I will put my trust in him. And again, [c] Behold I and the children [d] which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he [e] also himself likewise took part of the same; [f] that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;

15 And deliver them who [g] through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily † he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of Abraham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behoved him [h] to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be [i] a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 [k] For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ is shewed to be more worthy than Moses: 7 we must be careful therefore not to follow the example of the obstinate and unbelieving Israelites in the wilderness.

WHerefore, holy brethren, partakers of [a] the heavenly calling, consider [b] the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Jesus;

2 Who was faithful to him that † appointed him, as also [c] Moses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Moses, inasmuch as [d] he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but [e] he that built all things is God.

5 [f] And Moses verily was faithful in all his house, as [g] a servant, [h] for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;

6 But Christ as [i] a son over his own house; [k] whose house are we, [l] if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore (as [m] the Holy Ghost saith, [n] To day if ye will hear his voice,

8 Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do alway err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11 So I sware in my wrath, † They shall not enter into my rest.)

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, [o] if we hold the beginning of our confidence stedfast unto the end;

15 While it is said, [p] To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 [q] For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, [r] whose carcases fell in the wilderness?

18 And [s] to whom sware he that they should not enter in his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 [t] So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAP. IV.

1 The rest of Christians to be attained by faith. 12 The power of God's word. 14 Having Jesus the Son of God for our high priest, we must hold fast our profession, and come boldly unto the throne of grace.

LET [a] us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but † the word preached did not profit them, ‖ not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3 [b] For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, [c] As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, [d] And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, [e] and they to whom ‖ it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 (Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in David, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, [f] To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if ‖ Jesus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a ‖ rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.)

11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall [z] after the same example of ‖ unbelief.

12 For the word of God is [a] quick, and powerful, and [b] sharper than any [c] two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is [d] a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 [e] Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked [f] and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have [g] a great high priest, [h] that is passed into the heavens, Jesus the Son of God, [i] let us hold fast our profession.

15 For [k] we have not an high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but [l] was in all points tempted like as we are, [m] yet without sin.

16 [n] Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAP. V.

1 Concerning the office of high priests taken from among men: 5 wherewith Christ's priesthood is compared, and it's privileges set forth: 11 a farther account of which is deferred, and for what reason.

FOR every high priest taken from among men [a] is ordained for men [b] in things pertaining to God, [c] that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 [d] Who ‖ can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that [e] he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3 And [f] by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 [g] And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as [h] was Aaron.

5 [i] So also Christ glorified not himself to be made an high priest; but he that said unto him, [k] Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, [l] Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had [m] offered up prayers and supplications [n] with strong crying and tears unto him [o] that was able to save him from death, and was heard ‖ [p] in that he feared;

8 [q] Though he were a Son, yet learned he [r] obedience by the things which he suffered;

9 And [s] being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God an high priest [t] after the order of Melchisedec.

11 Of whom [u] we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are [x] dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be [y] the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of [z] milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk † is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is [a] a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are ‖ of full age, even those who by reason ‖ of use have their senses exercised [b] to discern both good and evil.

CHAP. VI.

1 The higher doctrines of Christianity are proposed to be treated of. 4 The guilt and danger of apostasy. 10 Charitable deeds will not be forgotten of God. 11 An exhortation diligently to imitate the faith and patience of those who inherit the promises. 13 The promise of God to Abraham a sure ground of hope.

THEREFORE [a] leaving ‖ the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance [b] from dead works, and of faith toward God,

2 [c] Of the doctrine of baptisms, [d] and of laying on of hands, [e] and of resurrection of the dead, [f] and of eternal judgment.

3 And this will we do, [g] if God permit.

4 For [h] it is impossible for those [i] who were once enlightened, and have tasted of [k] the heavenly gift, and [l] were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of [m] the world to come,

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; [n] seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them ‖ by whom it is dressed, [o] receiveth blessing from God:

8 [p] But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10 [q] For [r] God is not unrighteous to forget [s] your work and labour of love, which ye have shewed toward his name, in that ye have [t] ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11 And we desire that [u] every one of you do shew the same diligence [x] to the full assurance of hope unto the end:

12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience [y] inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to Abraham, because he could swear by no greater, [z] he sware by himself,

14 Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thee.

15 And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily swear by the greater: and [a] an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God, willing more abundantly to shew unto [b] the heirs of promise [c] the immutability of his counsel, † confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope [d] set before us:

19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and stedfast, [e] and which entereth into that within the veil ‖

CHAP. VII.

Christ, a priest after the order of Melchisedec, is proved to be of a more excellent order than that of Aaron, 1 from the character of Melchisedec, and his confessed superiority to Abraham and Levi; 11 from the imperfection of the Levitical priesthood, which induced the necessity of a change to one more perfect; 20 from the confirmation of Christ's priesthood by an oath; 23 from the unchangeableness, 26 and spotless innocence, of the person.

[a] Gen. 14. 18, &c.

FOR this [a] Melchisedec, king of Salem, priest of the most high God, who met Abraham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

2 To whom also Abraham gave a tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Salem, which is, King of peace;

† Gr. without pedigree.

3 Without father, without mother, † without descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.

[b] Gen. 14. 20.

4 Now consider how great this man was, [b] unto whom even the patriarch Abraham gave the tenth of the spoils.

[c] Numb. 18. 21, 26.

5 And verily [c] they that are of the sons of Levi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of Abraham:

‖ Or, pedigree.

6 But he whose ‖ descent is not counted from them received tithes of Abraham, [d] and blessed [e] him that had the promises.

[d] Gen. 14. 19.
[e] Rom. 4. 13. Gal. 3. 16.

7 And without all contradiction the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, [f] of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

[f] ch. 5. 6. & 6. 20.

9 And as I may so say, Levi also, who receiveth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham.

10 For he was yet in the loins of his father, when Melchisedec met him.

[g] Gal. 2. 21. ver. 18, 19. ch. 8. 7

11 [g] If therefore perfection were by the Levitical priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Melchisedec, and not be called after the order of Aaron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law.

[h] Mat. 12. 1. Matth. 1. 3. Luke 3. 33. Rom. 1. 3. Rev. 5. 5.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that [h] our Lord sprang out of Juda; of which tribe Moses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that after the similitude of Melchisedec there ariseth another priest,

16 Who is made, not after the law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, [i] Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Melchisedec.

18 For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before for [k] the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

‖ Or, but it was the bringing in,

19 For [l] the law made nothing perfect, ‖ but the bringing in of [m] a better hope did; by the which [n] we draw nigh unto God.

24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath ‖ an unchangeable priesthood.

‖ Or, evermore.

[z] ch. 2. 10. & 5. 9.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ, our great high priest in the heavens, hath a more excellent ministry than the priests on earth: 6 as he is also the mediator of a better covenant than that which was given to Moses.

NOW of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such an high priest, [a] who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

[a] Eph. 1. 20. Col. 3. 1. ch. 1. 3. & 10. 12. & 12. 2.

2 A minister ‖ of [b] the sanctuary, and of [c] the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

‖ Or, of holy things.
[b] ch. 9. 8, 12, 24.
[c] ch. 9. 11.

3 For [d] every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore [e] it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

[d] ch. 5. 1.
[e] Eph. 5. 2. ch. 9. 14.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that ‖ there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:

‖ Or, they are priests.

5 Who serve unto the example and [f] shadow of heavenly things, as Moses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: [g] for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern shewed to thee in the mount.

[f] Col. 2. 17. ch. 9. 23. & 10. 1.
[g] Exod. 25. 40. & 26. 30. & 27. 8. Numb. 8, 4. Acts 7. 44.

6 But now [h] hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better ‖ covenant, which was established upon better promises.

[h] 2 Cor. 3. 6, 8, 9. ch. 7. 22.
‖ Or, testament.

7 [i] For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

[i] ch. 7. 11, 18.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, [k] Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Israel and with the house of Judah:

[k] Jer. 31. 31, 32, 33, 34.

9 Not according to the covenant that I made with their fathers in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of Egypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For [i] this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those days, saith the Lord; I will † put my laws into their mind, and write them ‖ in their hearts: and [m] I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

[i] ch. 10. 16.
† Gr. give.
‖ Or, upon.
[m] Zech. 8. 8.

Anno DOMINI 64.

11 And [n] they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousnesses, [o] and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 [p] In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is ready to vanish away.

CHAP. IX.

1 The service and sacrifices of the first tabernacle were far less perfect and efficacious to purge the conscience than the blood of Christ. 15 The necessity of Christ's death for the confirmation of the new covenant: 23 and of better sacrifices than those legal ones to purify the heavenly things. 25 Christ was offered once for all.

THEN verily the first covenant had also ‖ ordinances of divine service, and [a] a worldly sanctuary.

2 [b] For there was a tabernacle made; the first, [c] wherein was [d] the candlestick, and [e] the table, and the shewbread; which is called ‖ the sanctuary.

3 [f] And after the second veil, the tabernacle which is called the Holiest of all;

4 Which had the golden censer, and [g] the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was [h] the golden pot that had manna, and [i] Aaron's rod that budded, and [k] the tables of the covenant;

5 And [l] over it the cherubims of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, [m] the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high priest alone [n] once every year, not without blood, [o] which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8 [p] The Holy Ghost this signifying, that [q] the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, [r] that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience;

10 Which stood only in [s] meats and drinks, and [t] divers washings, [u] and carnal ‖ ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come [x] an high priest [y] of good things to come, [z] by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12 Neither [a] by the blood of goats and calves, but [b] by his own blood; he entered in [c] once into the holy place, [d] having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13 For if [e] the blood of bulls and of goats, and [f] the ashes of an heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more [g] shall the blood of Christ, [h] who through the eternal Spirit [i] offered himself without ‖ spot to God, [k] purge your conscience from [l] dead works [m] to serve the living God?

15 [n] And for this cause [o] he is the mediator of the new testament, [p] that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, [q] they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity ‖ be the death of the testator.

17 For [r] a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 [s] Whereupon neither the first testament was ‖ dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, [t] he took the blood of calves and of goats, [u] with water, and ‖ scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book, and all the people,

20 Saying, [x] This is the blood of the testament which God hath injoined unto you.

21 Moreover [y] he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and [z] without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was therefore necessary that [a] the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For [b] Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of [c] the true; but into heaven itself, now [d] to appear in the presence of God for us:

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as [e] the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now [f] once [g] in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 [h] And as it is appointed unto men once to die, [i] but after this the judgment:

28 So [k] Christ was once [l] offered to bear the sins [m] of many; and unto them that [n] look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAP. X.

1 The sacrifices of the law, being often repeated, could not take away sins. 5 The abolition of them, and substitution of Christ's body in their stead, foretold by the Psalmist: 10 by the offering of which body once for all we obtain perfect remission. 19 An exhortation to stedfastness in the faith, and to love and good works. 26 The danger of a wilful relapse after having received the knowledge of the truth; 32 and of forfeiting the reward of a good beginning for want of perseverance.

FOR the law having [a] a shadow [b] of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, [c] can never with those sacrifices which they offered year by year continually make the comers thereunto [d] perfect.

2 For then ‖ would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 [e] But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For [f] it is not poſſible that the blood of bulls and of goats ſhould take away ſins.

5 Wherefore when he cometh into the world, he ſaith, [g] Sacrifice and offering thou wouldeſt not, but a body ‖ haſt thou prepared me:

6 In burnt offerings and ſacrifices for ſin thou haſt had no pleaſure.

7 Then ſaid I, Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me,) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above when he ſaid, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for ſin thou wouldeſt not, neither hadſt pleaſure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then ſaid he, Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the firſt, that he may eſtabliſh the ſecond.

10 [h] By the which will we are ſanctified [i] through the offering of the body of Jeſus Chriſt once for all.

11 And every prieſt ſtandeth [k] daily miniſtering and offering oftentimes the ſame ſacrifices, [l] which can never take away ſins:

12 [m] But this man, after he had offered one ſacrifice for ſins, for ever ſat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting [n] till his enemies be made his footſtool.

14 For by one offering [o] he hath perfected for ever them that are ſanctified.

15 Whereof the Holy Ghoſt alſo is a witneſs to us: for after that he had ſaid before,

16 [p] This is the covenant that I will make with them after thoſe days, ſaith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 † And their ſins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remiſſion of theſe is, there is no more offering for ſin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, [q] ‖ boldneſs to enter [r] into the holieſt by the blood of Jeſus,

20 By [s] a new and living way, which he hath ‖ conſecrated for us, [t] through the veil, that is to ſay, his fleſh;

21 And having [u] an high prieſt over [x] the houſe of God;

22 [y] Let us draw near with a true heart [z] in full aſſurance of faith, having our hearts ſprinkled [a] from an evil conſcience, and [b] our bodies waſhed with pure water.

23 [c] Let us hold faſt the profeſſion of our faith without wavering; for [d] he is faithful that promiſed:

24 And let us conſider one another to provoke unto love and to good works:

25 [e] Not forſaking the aſſembling of ourſelves together, as the manner of ſome is; but exhorting one another: and [f] ſo much the more, as ye ſee [g] the day approaching.

26 For [h] if we ſin wilfully [i] after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more ſacrifice for ſins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and [k] fiery indignation, which ſhall devour the adverſaries.

28 [l] He that deſpiſed Moſes' law died without mercy [m] under two or three witneſſes:

29 [n] Of how much ſorer puniſhment, ſuppoſe ye, ſhall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and [o] hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was ſanctified, an unholy thing, [p] and hath done deſpite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath ſaid, [q] Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompenſe, ſaith the Lord. And again, [r] The Lord ſhall judge his people.

31 [s] It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But [t] call to remembrance the former days, in which, [u] after ye were illuminated, ye endured [x] a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilſt ye were made [y] a gazingſtock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilſt [z] ye became companions of them that were ſo uſed.

34 For ye had compaſſion of me [a] in my bonds, and [b] took joyfully the ſpoiling of your goods, knowing ‖ in yourſelves that [c] ye have in heaven a better and an enduring ſubſtance.

35 Caſt not away therefore your confidence, [d] which hath great recompence of reward.

36 [e] For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, [f] ye might receive the promiſe.

37 For [g] yet a little while, and [h] he that ſhall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now [i] the juſt ſhall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my ſoul ſhall have no pleaſure in him.

39 But we are not of them [k] who draw back unto perdition; but of them that [l] believe to the ſaving of the ſoul.

CHAP. XI.

The nature of faith, and it's acceptableneſs with God, ſet forth in the examples of many excellent perſons of old time.

NOW faith is the ‖ ſubſtance of things [a] hoped for, the evidence [b] of things not ſeen.

2 For [c] by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we underſtand that [d] the worlds were framed by the word of God, ſo that things which are ſeen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith [e] Abel offered unto God a more excellent ſacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witneſs that he was righteous, God teſtifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead [f] ‖ yet ſpeaketh.

5 By faith [g] Enoch was tranſlated that he ſhould not ſee death; and was not found, becauſe God had tranſlated him: for before his tranſlation he had this teſtimony, that he pleaſed God.

6 But without faith it is impoſſible to pleaſe him: for he that cometh to God muſt believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently ſeek him.

7 By faith [h] Noah, being warned of God of things not ſeen as yet, ‖ moved with fear, [i] prepared an ark to the ſaving of his houſe; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of [k] the righteouſneſs which is by faith.

8 By faith [l] Abraham, when he was called to go out into a place which he ſhould after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he ſojourned in the land of promiſe, as in a ſtrange country, [m] dwelling in tabernacles with Iſaac and Jacob, [m] the heirs with him of the ſame promiſe:

10 For he looked for [n] a city which hath foundations, [o] whoſe builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith alſo [p] Sara herſelf received ſtrength to conceive ſeed, and [q] was delivered of a child when ſhe was paſt age, becauſe ſhe judged him [r] faithful who had promiſed.

12 Therefore ſprang there even of one, and [s] him as good as dead, [t] ſo many as the ſtars of the ſky in multitude, and as the ſand which is by the ſea ſhore innumerable.

13 Theſe all died † in faith, [u] not having received the promiſes, but [x] having ſeen them afar off, and were perſuaded of them, and embraced them, and [y] confeſſed that they were ſtrangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that ſay ſuch things [z] declare plainly that they ſeek a country.

15 And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned.

16 But now they deſire a better country, that is, an heavenly: wherefore God is not aſhamed [a] to be called their God: for [b] he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith [c] Abraham, when he was tried, offered up Iſaac: and he that had received the promiſes [d] offered up his only begotten ſon,

18 ‖ Of whom it was ſaid, [e] That in Iſaac ſhall thy ſeed be called:

19 Accounting that God [f] was able to raiſe him up, even from the dead; from whence alſo he received him in a figure.

20 By faith [g] Iſaac bleſſed Jacob and Eſau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Jacob, when he was a dying, [h] bleſſed both the ſons of Joſeph; and [i] worſhipped, leaning upon the top of his ſtaff.

22 By faith [k] Joſeph, when he died, ‖ made mention of the departing of the children of Iſrael; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 By faith [l] Moſes, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, becauſe they ſaw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's [m] commandment.

24 By faith [n] Moſes, when he was come to years, refuſed to be called the ſon of Pharaoh's daughter;

25 [o] Chooſing rather to ſuffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleaſures of ſin for a ſeaſon;

26 Eſteeming [p] the reproach ‖ of Chriſt greater riches than the treaſures in Egypt: for he had reſpect unto [q] the recompence of the reward.

27 By faith [r] he forſook Egypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as [s] ſeeing him who is inviſible.

28 Through faith [t] he kept the paſſover, and the ſprinkling of blood, leſt he that deſtroyed the firſtborn ſhould touch them.

29 By faith [u] they paſſed through the Red ſea as by dry land: which the Egyptians aſſaying to do were drowned.

30 By faith [x] the walls of Jericho fell down, after they were compaſſed about ſeven days.

31 By faith [y] the harlot Rahab periſhed not with them ‖ that believed not, when [z] ſhe had received the ſpies with peace.

32 And what ſhall I more ſay? for the time would fail me to tell of [a] Gedeon, and of [b] Barak, and of [c] Samſon, and of [d] Jephthae; of [e] David alſo, and [f] Samuel, and of the prophets:

33 Who through faith ſubdued kingdoms, wrought righteouſneſs, [g] obtained promiſes, [h] ſtopped the mouths of lions,

34 [i] Quenched the violence of fire, [k] eſcaped the edge of the ſword, [l] out of weakneſs were made ſtrong, waxed valiant in fight, [m] turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 [n] Women received their dead raiſed to life again: and others were [o] tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better reſurrection:

36 [p] And others had trial of cruel mockings and ſcourgings, yea, moreover [q] of bonds and impriſonment:

37 [r] They were ſtoned, they were ſawn aſunder, were tempted, were ſlain with the ſword: [s] they wandered about [t] in ſheepſkins and goatſkins; being deſtitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 (Of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deſerts, and in mountains, and [u] in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And theſe all, [x] having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promiſe:

40 God having ‖ provided [y] ſome better thing for us, that they without us ſhould not be [z] made perfect.

our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto [n] the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us ‖ after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, [o] that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless afterward it yieldeth [p] the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore [q] lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;

13 [r] And make ‖ straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; [s] but let it rather be healed.

14 [t] Follow peace with all men, and holiness, [u] without which no man shall see the Lord:

17 For ye know how that afterward, [c] when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: [d] for he found no ‖ place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto [e] the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard [f] intreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 (For they could not endure that which was commanded, [g] And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

21 [h] And so terrible was the sight, that Moses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:)

22 But ye are come [i] unto mount Sion, [k] and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, [l] and to an innumerable company of angels,

23 To the general assembly and church of [m] the firstborn, [n] which are ‖ written in heaven, and to God [o] the Judge of all, and to the spirits of just men [p] made perfect,

24 And to Jesus [q] the mediator of the new ‖ covenant, and to [r] the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things [s] than that of Abel.

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh. For [t] if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26 [u] Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, [x] Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth [y] the removing of those things that ‖ are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, ‖ let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29 For [z] our God is a consuming fire.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Exhortations to charity, 2 hospitality, 3 pity for the afflicted, 4 chastity, 5 contentment; 7 to regard the preachers of God's word; 9 to avoid strange doctrines; 10 to confess Christ; 15 to offer up our praises to God by him; 16 to do good and to communicate; 17 to obey spiritual rulers; 18 and to pray for the apostle. 20 The epistle endeth with a prayer and salutations.

LET [a] brotherly love continue.

2 [b] Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby [c] some have entertained angels unawares.

3 [d] Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4 Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: [e] but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5 Let your conversation be without covetousness; and [f] be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, [g] I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.

6 So that we may boldly say, [h] The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7 [i] Remember them which ‖ have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: [k] whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation:

8 Jesus Christ [l] the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

9 [m] Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines. For it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; [n] not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10 [o] We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11 For [p] the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

12 Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, [q] suffered without the gate.

13 Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing [r] his reproach.

14 [s] For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15 [t] By him therefore let us offer [u] the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, [x] the fruit of our lips † giving thanks to his name.

16 [y] But to do good and to communicate forget not: for [z] with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

17 [a] Obey them that ‖ have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for [b] they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18 [c] Pray for us: for we trust we have [d] a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19 But I beseech you [e] the rather to do

The general Epistle of JAMES.

CHAP. I.

1 The apostle's address to the dispersed Jews. 2 He recommendeth patience and joy in afflictions, 5 and prayer with faith. 9 He giveth advice to the poor and to the rich. 12 The reward of those that are proof under trial. 13 Our own lusts, and not God, tempt us to sin. 17 God is the unchangeable author of all good to his creatures. 19 We must receive the word with purity and meekness, and not only hear, but do it. 26 The necessity of governing the tongue. 27 The essential duties of true religion.

JAMES, [b] a servant of God and of the Lord Jesus Christ, [c] to the twelve tribes [d] which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, [e] count it all joy [f] when ye fall into divers temptations;

3 [g] Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5 [h] If any of you lack wisdom, [i] let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and [k] it shall be given him.

6 [l] But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering. For he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 [m] A double minded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree ‖ rejoice in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, in that he is made low: because [n] as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 [o] Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive [p] the crown of life, [q] which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with ‖ evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is tempted, when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then [r] when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, [s] bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 [t] Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, [u] with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 [x] Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, [y] that we should be a kind of [z] firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, [a] let every man be swift to hear, [b] slow to speak, [c] slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore [d] lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, [e] which is able to save your souls.

22 But [f] be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For [g] if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth what manner of man he was.

25 But [h] whoso looketh into the perfect [i] law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, [k] this man shall be blessed in his ‖ deed.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and [l] bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, [m] To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, [n] and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAP. II.

1 It is not agreeable to the christian profession to regard the rich, and despise the poor. 10 The guilt of any one breach of the law. 13 The obligation to mercy. 14 Faith without works is dead. 20 We are justified, as Abraham and Rahab were, by works, and not by faith only.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Jesus Christ, [a] the Lord of glory, with [b] respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your † assembly a man with a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here ‖ in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

[a] 1 Cor. 2. 8. [b] Lev. 19. 15. Deut. 1. 17. & 16. 19. Prov. 24. 23. & 28. 21. Matth. 22. 16. ver. 9. Jude 16. † Gr. synagogue. ‖ Or, well, or, seemly.

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, [c] Hath not God chosen the poor of this world [d] rich in faith, and heirs of ‖ the kingdom [e] which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But [f] ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, [g] and draw you before the judgment seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, [h] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But [i] if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, [k] he is guilty of all.

11 For ‖ he that said, [l] Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by [m] the law of liberty.

13 For [n] he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath shewed no mercy; and [o] mercy ‖ rejoiceth against judgment.

14 [p] What doth it profit, my brethren, though a man say he hath faith, and have not works? can faith save him?

15 [q] If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And [r] one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being † alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: shew me thy faith ‖ without thy works, [s] and I will shew thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: [t] the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father justified by works, [u] when he had offered Isaac his son upon the altar?

22 ‖ Seest thou [x] how faith wrought with his works, and by works was faith made perfect?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, [y] Abraham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called [z] the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also [a] was not Rahab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For as the body without the ‖ spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAP. III.

1 We must not rashly take upon ourselves to reprove others. 2 The importance, difficulty, and duty, of governing the tongue. 13 True wisdom will shew itself in meekness, peaceableness, and charity, in opposition to strife and envying.

MY brethren, [a] be not many masters, [b] knowing that we shall receive the greater ‖ condemnation.

2 For [c] in many things we offend all. [d] If any man offend not in word, [e] the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, [f] we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so [g] the tongue is a little member, and [h] boasteth great things. Behold, how great ‖ a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 And [i] the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that [k] it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the † course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every † kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of † mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is an unruly evil, [l] full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, [m] which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same ‖ place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

13 Who is a wise man and endued with knowledge among you? let him shew out of a good conversation [o] his works [p] with meekness of wisdom.

14 But if ye have [q] bitter envying and strife in your hearts, [r] glory not, and lie not against the truth.

15 [s] This wisdom descendeth not from above, but is earthly, ‖ sensual, devilish.

16 For [t] where envying and strife is, there is † confusion and every evil work.

17 But [u] the wisdom that is from above is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easy to be intreated, full of mercy and good fruits, ‖ without partiality, [x] and without hypocrisy.

18 [y] And the fruit of righteousness is sown in peace of them that make peace.

CHAP. IV.

1 Our evil lusts and passions tend to breed quarrels among ourselves, and to set us at enmity with God. 7 The way to overcome them, and recover God's favour. 11 Against detraction and censoriousness. 13 We must not presume on the future, but commit ourselves to God's providence.

FROM whence come wars and ‖ fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your ‖ lusts [a] that war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye ‖ kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 [b] Ye ask, and receive not, [c] because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your ‖ lusts.

4 [d] Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that [e] the friendship of the world is enmity with God? [f] whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

6 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, [h] God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. [i] Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 [k] Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. [l] Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and [m] purify your hearts, ye [n] double minded.

9 [o] Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 [p] Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 [q] Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, [r] and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one lawgiver, [s] who is able to save and to destroy: [t] who art thou that judgest another?

13 [u] Go to now, ye that say, To day or to morrow we will go into such a city, and continue there a year, and buy and sell, and get gain:

14 Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? ‖ [x] It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

15 For that ye ought to say, [y] If the Lord will, we shall live, and do this, or that.

16 But now ye rejoice in your boastings: [z] all such rejoicing is evil.

17 Therefore [a] to him that knoweth to do good, and doeth it not, to him it is sin.

CHAP. V.

1 Wicked rich men are warned of God's impending judgments. 7 The brethren are exhorted to patience after the example of the prophets and of Job: 12 to abstain from swearing; 13 to pray in affliction and sickness, and sing psalms in prosperity: 16 to acknowledge mutually their faults, and to pray for one another: 19 and to endeavour to reclaim sinners.

[a] GO [b] to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 Your riches are corrupted, and [b] your garments are motheaten.

3 Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. [c] Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4 Behold, [d] the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and [e] the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of sabaoth.

5 [f] Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 [g] Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you.

7 ‖ Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive [h] the early and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: [i] for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 [k] ‖ Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge [l] standeth before the door.

10 [m] Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, [n] we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of [o] the patience of Job, and have seen [p] the end of the Lord; that [q] the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, [r] swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? [s] let him sing psalms.

14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let them pray over him, [t] anointing him with oil in the name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; [u] and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. [x] The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 Elias was a man [y] subject to like passions as we are, and [z] he prayed ‖ earnestly that it might not rain: [a] and it rained not on the earth by the space of three years and six months.

18 And [b] he prayed again, and the heaven gave rain, and the earth brought forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, [c] if any of you do err from the truth, and one convert him;

20 Let him know, that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way [d] shall save a soul from death, and [e] shall hide a multitude of sins.

The First Epistle general of PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 The apostle's address to the strangers elect in Christ, dispersed throughout the lesser Asia. 3 He blesseth God for having raised them to the hope of a blessed immortality. 10 He sheweth that their salvation in Christ had been foretold by the prophets of old; 13 and exhorteth them to a vigilant and holy conversation, suitable to their calling, and redemption by the blood of Christ; 22 and to mutual love.

PETER, an apostle of Jesus Christ, to the strangers [a] scattered throughout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia,

2 [b] Elect [c] according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, [c] through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and [e] sprinkling of the blood of Jesus Christ: [f] Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

[a] John 7. 35. Acts 2. 5, 9, 10. Jam. 1. 1. [b] Eph. 1. 4. ch. 2. 9. [c] Rom. 8. 29. & 11. 2. [d] 2 Thess. 2. 13. [e] Hebr. 10. 22. & 12. 24. [f] Rom. 1. 7. 2 Pet. 1. 2. Jude 2.

3 [e] Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which [h] according to his † abundant mercy [i] hath begotten us again unto a lively hope [k] by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, [l] and that fadeth not away, [m] reserved in heaven ‖ for you,

5 [n] Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 [o] Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now [p] for a season, if need be, [q] ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7 That [r] the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though [s] it be tried with fire, [t] might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Jesus Christ:

8 [u] Whom having not seen, ye love; [x] in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9 Receiving [y] the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10 [z] Of which salvation the prophets have enquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time [a] the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand [b] the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 [c] Unto whom it was revealed, that [d] not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with [e] the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; [f] which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore [g] gird up the loins of your mind, [h] be sober, and hope † to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you [i] at the revelation of Jesus Christ;

14 As obedient children, [k] not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts [l] in your ignorance:

15 [m] But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, [n] Be ye holy; for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, [o] who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, [p] pass the time of your [q] sojourning here in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know [r] that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation [s] received by tradition from your fathers;

19 But [t] with the precious blood of Christ, [u] as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20 [x] Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest [y] in these last times for you,

21 Who by him do believe in God, [z] that raised him up from the dead, and [a] gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing ye [b] have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned [c] love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23 [d] Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, [e] by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 ‖ For [f] all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 [g] But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. [h] And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAP. II.

1 The apostle exhorteth the Christian converts to lay aside all uncharitableness. 4 He sheweth their privileges through Christ the chief corner stone. 11 He beseecheth them to abstain from fleshly lusts, and by their good conversation to promote God's glory among the Gentiles. 13 He enforceth obedience to magistrates; 18 and teacheth servants to obey their masters, and to suffer patiently for well doing, after the example of Christ.

WHerefore [a] laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 [b] As newborn babes, desire the sincere [c] milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If so be ye have [d] tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, [e] disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 [f] Ye also, as lively stones, ‖ are built up [g] a spiritual house, [h] an holy priesthood, to offer up [i] spiritual sacrifices, [k] acceptable to God by Jesus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the scripture, [l] Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which believe he is ‖ precious: but unto them which be disobedient, [m] the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 [n] And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, [o] even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: [p] whereunto also they were appointed.

9 But ye are [q] a chosen generation, [r] a royal priesthood, [s] an holy nation, [t] ‖ a peculiar people; that ye should shew forth the ‖ praises of him who hath called you out of [u] darkness into his marvellous light:

10 [x] Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you [y] as strangers and pilgrims, [z] abstain from fleshly lusts, [a] which war against the soul;

12 [b] Having your conversation honest among the Gentiles: that, ‖ whereas they speak against you as evildoers, [c] they may

CHAP. III.

1 The apostle teacheth the duty of wives and husbands; 8 exhorting all men to unity and love, and to return good for evil: 14 to suffer boldly for righteousnes' sake, and to give a reason of their hope with meekness and fear; 18 taking especial care to suffer, as Christ did, for well-doing, and not for evildoing. 19 The preaching of Christ by his spirit to the old world. 21 After what manner Christian baptism saveth us.

LIkewise, [a] ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, [b] they also may without the word [c] be won by the conversation of the wives;

2 [d] While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 [e] Whose adorning let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4 But let it be [f] the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6 Even as Sara obeyed Abraham, [g] calling him lord: whose † daughters ye are, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 [h] Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, [i] as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; [k] that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, [l] be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another, [m] ‖ love as brethren, [n] be pitiful, be courteous:

9 [o] Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, [p] that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For [q] he that will love life, and see good days, [r] let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11 Let him [s] eschew evil, and do good; [t] let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, [u] and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is † against them that do evil.

13 [x] And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 [y] But and if ye suffer for righteousnes' sake, happy are ye: and [z] be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and [a] be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and ‖ fear:

16 [b] Having a good conscience; [c] that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

18 For Christ also hath [d] once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, [e] being put to death [f] in the flesh, but [g] quickened by the Spirit:

19 By which also he went and [h] preached unto the spirits [i] in prison;

20 Which sometime were disobedient, [k] when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while [l] the ark was a preparing, [m] wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

21 [n] The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of [o] the filth of the flesh, [p] but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) [q] by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Who is gone into heaven, and [r] is on the right hand of God; [s] angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAP. IV.

1 The apostle exhorteth to cease from sin, in regard of Christ's having suffered for it, and of a future judgment. 7 From the approaching end of all things he urgeth to sobriety, watchfulness, and prayer; 8 to charity, 9 hospitality, 10 and a right use of spiritual gifts. 12 Sundry motives of comfort under persecution.

FOrasmuch then [a] as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for [b] he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

[a] ch. 3. 18.
[b] Rom. 6. 2, 7. Gal. 5. 24. Col. 3. 5.

2 [c] That he no longer [d] should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, [e] but to the will of God.

3 [f] For the time past of our life may suffice us [g] to have wrought the will of the Gentiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, [h] speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready [i] to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For for this cause [k] was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But the end of all things is at hand: [m] be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 [n] And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for [o] charity ‖ shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 [p] Use hospitality one to another [q] without grudging.

10 [r] As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, [s] as good stewards of [t] the manifold grace of God.

11 [u] If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; [x] if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth: that [y] God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ; [z] to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning [a] the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 [b] But rejoice, inasmuch as [c] ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; [d] that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 [e] If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: [f] on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But [g] let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evildoer, [h] or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; [i] but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 For the time is come [k] that judgment must begin at the house of God: and [l] if it first begin at us, [m] what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 [n] And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore let them that suffer according to the will of God [o] commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAP. V.

1 The elders are exhorted to feed the flock of Christ conscientiously, looking to the chief Shepherd for a reward. 5 The younger are required to submit to the elder, and all to practise humility toward each other; 6 with resignation to God; 8 to be sober, watchful, and stedfast in the faith, resisting the devil. 10 The epistle is concluded with a prayer and benediction.

THE elders which are among you I exhort, who am also [a] an elder, and [b] a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also [c] a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 [d] Feed the flock of God ‖ which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, [e] not by constraint, but willingly; [f] not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3 Neither as ‖ [g] being lords over [h] God's heritage, but [i] being ensamples to the flock.

4 And when [k] the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive [l] a crown of glory [m] that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, [n] all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for [o] God resisteth the proud, and [p] giveth grace to the humble.

6 [q] Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 [r] Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 [s] Be sober, be vigilant; because [t] your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 [u] Whom resist stedfast in the faith, [x] knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, [y] who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered [z] a while, [a] make you perfect, [b] stablish, strengthen, settle you.

11 [c] To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 [d] By Silvanus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have [e] written briefly, exhorting, and testifying [f] that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13 The church that is at Babylon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth [g] Marcus my son.

14 [h] Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. [i] Peace be with you all that are in Christ Jesus. Amen.

The Second Epistle general of PETER.

CHAP. I.

1 The apostle, saluting the Christians, admonisheth them of the gifts and promises of the gospel, and their tendency to promote a godly life. 5 He exhorteth them to add to their faith such virtues as would make it fruitful; 10 and thereby to make their calling and election sure. 12 He is careful to remind them hereof, knowing his dissolution to be near; 16 and urgeth the evidence of what he had seen and heard in the holy mount in confirmation of Christ's second coming, together with the word of prophecy, which he recommendeth to their regard.

† Gr. of our God and Saviour.
Tit. 2. 13.

2 [b] Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, [c] through the knowledge of him [d] that hath called us ‖ to glory and virtue:

4 [e] Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be [f] partakers of the divine nature, [g] having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And beside this, [h] giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue [i] knowledge;

6 And to knowledge temperance; and to temperance patience; and to patience godliness;

7 And to godliness brotherly kindness; and [k] to brotherly kindness charity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be † barren [l] nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things [m] is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was [n] purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence [o] to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, [p] ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore [q] I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, [r] though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, [s] as long as I am in this tabernacle, [t] to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;

14 [u] Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as [x] our Lord Jesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 Moreover I will endeavour that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed [y] cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but [z] were eyewitnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, [a] This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in [b] the holy mount.

19 We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto [c] a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and [d] the day star arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that [e] no prophecy of the scripture is of any private interpretation.

21 For [f] the prophecy came not ‖ in old time by the will of man: [g] but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAP. II.

1 The apostle foretelleth the appearance of false teachers, the impiety of them and their followers, and the judgments that would overtake them. 7 The godly shall be delivered, as Lot was out of Sodom. 10 The wicked principles and manners of these seducers described. 20 The mischief of relapsing into sin.

BUT [a] there were false prophets also among the people, even as [b] there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even [c] denying the Lord [d] that bought them, [e] and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their ‖ pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And [f] through covetousness shall they with feigned words [g] make merchandise of you: [h] whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 For if God spared not [i] the angels [k] that sinned, but [l] cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved [m] Noah the eighth person, [n] a preacher of righteousness, [o] bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 And [p] turning the cities of Sodom and Gomorrha into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, [q] making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And [r] delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, [s] in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds;)

9 [t] The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptations, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly [x] them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise ‖ government. [y] Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 Whereas [z] angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation ‖ against them before the Lord.

12 But these, [a] as natural brute beasts, made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption:

13 [b] And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure [c] to riot in the day time. [d] Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while [e] they feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of † adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: [f] an heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of [g] Balaam the son of Bosor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbad the madness of the prophet.

17 [h] These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when [i] they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that [k] were [‖] clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them [l] liberty, they themselves are [m] the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For [n] if after they [o] have escaped the pollutions of the world [p] through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For [q] it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, [r] The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and the sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAP. III.

1 The apostle declareth it to be the design of both his epistles to remind the brethren of Christ's coming to judgment, in opposition to scoffers. 8 No argument can be drawn against it from the delay, which is designed to leave men room for repentance. 10 He describeth the day of the Lord, and exhorteth to holiness of life in expectation of it. 15 He sheweth that Paul had taught the like in his epistles: 17 and concludeth with advice to beware of seduction, and to grow in christian grace and knowledge.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which [a] I stir up your pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, [b] and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 [c] Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, [d] walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, [e] Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that [f] by the word of God the heavens were of old, and the earth † [g] standing out of the water and in the water:

6 [h] Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

Anno DOMINI 66.

7 But [i] the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto [k] fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and [l] a thousand years as one day.

9 [m] The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but [n] is longsuffering to us-ward, [o] not willing that any should perish, but [p] that all should come to repentance.

10 But [q] the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which [r] the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall be dissolved, what manner of persons ought ye to be [s] in all holy conversation and godliness,

12 [t] Looking for and [‖] hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall [u] be dissolved, and the elements shall [x] melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for [y] new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent [z] that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that [a] the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you;

16 As also in all his epistles, [b] speaking in them of these things; in which are some things hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable wrest, as they do also the other scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, [c] seeing ye know these things before, [d] beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own stedfastness.

18 [e] But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. [f] To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

CHAP. I.

1 The apostle professeth to declare what he had formerly seen and known of the Word of life, to the end that others might have fellowship with him. 5 The substance of his doctrine is, That to have fellowship with God, we must be holy as he is holy; and that if we confess our sins, we shall be forgiven through the blood of Christ.

THAT [a] which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, [b] which we have looked upon, and [c] our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

2 (For [d] the life [e] was manifested, and we have seen it, [f] and bear witness, [g] and shew unto you that eternal life, [h] which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;)

3 [i] That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly [k] our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, [l] that our joy may be full.

5 [m] This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that [n] God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 [o] If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and [p] the blood of Jesus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 [q] If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, [r] and the truth is not in us.

9 [s] If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to [t] cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ is our advocate with the Father, and a propitiation for the sins of the whole world. 3 Rightly to know God is to keep his commandments: 7 the chief of which is to love one another. 12 The apostle addresseth Christians of all ages severally, 15 and warneth them against an inordinate love of this world: 18 and against deceivers, who were many. 20 He sheweth the means they had of knowing the truth, and of distinguishing false teachers; and pointeth out their obligation to abide in the truth which they had been taught. 29 He that doeth righteousness is born of God.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, [a] we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous:

2 And [b] he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for our's only, but [c] also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 [d] He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, [e] is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But [f] whoso keepeth his word, [g] in him verily is the love of God perfected: [h] hereby know we that we are in him.

6 [i] He that saith he abideth in him [k] ought himself also to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, [l] I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment [m] which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, [n] a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: [o] because the darkness is past, and [p] the true light now shineth.

9 [q] He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10 [r] He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and [s] there is none † occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and [t] walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because [u] your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him [x] that is from the beginning. I write unto you, young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because [y] ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15 [z] Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. [a] If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, [b] and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And [c] the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 [d] Little children, [e] it is the last time: and as ye have heard that [f] antichrist shall come, [g] even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know [h] that it is the last time.

19 [i] They went out from us, but they were not of us; for [k] if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, [l] that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20 But [m] ye have an unction [n] from the Holy One, and [o] ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 [p] Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 [q] Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: [but] [r] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, [s] which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, [t] ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 [u] And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26 These things have I written unto you [x] concerning them that seduce you.

27 But [y] the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and [z] ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing [a] teacheth you of all things, and is true, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in ‖ him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him; that, [b] when he shall appear, we may have confidence, [c] and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 [d] If ye know that he is righteous, ‖ ye know that [e] every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAP. III.

1 It is a mark of God's singular love toward us, that we are now called his sons, and designed for farther happiness hereafter: 3 and therefore we must obediently keep his commandments, 11 and love one another with true brotherly kindness and actual beneficence.

BEhold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that [a] we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, [b] because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, [c] now are we the sons of God, and [d] it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, [e] we shall be like him; for [f] we shall see him as he is.

3 [g] And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for [h] sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know [i] that he was manifested [k] to take away our sins; and [l] in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: [m] whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, [a] let no man deceive you: [b] he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 [c] He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, [d] that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 [e] Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for [f] his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: [g] whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, [h] neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 For [i] this is the ‖ message that ye heard from the beginning, [k] that we should love one another.

12 Not as [l] Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, my brethren, if [m] the world hate you.

14 [n] We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. [o] He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.

15 [p] Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that [q] no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 [r] Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But [s] whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, [t] how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 My little children, [u] let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know [x] that we are of the truth, and shall † assure our hearts before him.

20 [y] For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 [z] Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, [a] then have we confidence toward God.

22 And [b] whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, [c] and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 [d] And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Jesus Christ, [e] and love one another, [f] as he gave us commandment.

24 And [g] he that keepeth his commandments [h] dwelleth in him, and he in him. And [i] hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAP. IV.

1 The apostle warneth to try by certain rules the spirits that pretend to come from God. 7 He presseth the obligation of mutual love upon Christians from the example and commandment of God.

BEloved, [a] believe not every spirit, but [b] try the spirits whether they are of God: because [c] many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: [d] Every spirit that confesseth that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:

3 And [e] every spirit that confesseth not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and [f] even now already is it in the world.

4 [g] Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than [h] he that is in the world.

5 [i] They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and [k] the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: [l] he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we [m] the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 [n] Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not [o] knoweth not God; for [p] God is love.

9 [q] In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, [r] that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, [s] not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son [t] to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, [u] if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 [x] No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and [y] his love is perfected in us.

13 [z] Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And [a] we have seen and do testify that [b] the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 [c] Whosoever shall confess that Jesus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. [d] God is love; and [e] he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is † our love made perfect, that [f] we may have boldness in the day of judgment: [g] because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth [h] is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he first loved us.

20 [i] If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God [k] whom he hath not seen?

21 And [l] this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAP. V.

1 He that loveth God loveth God's children, and keepeth his commandments. 4 A true faith will enable us to overcome the world. 6 The witnesses of our faith. 11 God hath given to believers eternal life through his Son: 14 and will hear and grant their petitions made according to his will. 18 God's children are distinguished from the world by abstaining from sin, and by a right knowledge. 21 A caution against idolatry.

WHosoever [a] believeth that [b] Jesus is the Christ is [c] born of God: [d] and every one that loveth him that begat loveth him also that is begotten of him.

[a] John 1. 12. [b] ch. 2. 22, 23. & 4. 2, 15. [c] John 1. 13. ch. 3. 9. [d] John 15. 23.

2 By this we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3 [c] For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and [d] his commandments are not grievous.

4 For [e] whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but [h] he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came [i] by water and blood, even Jesus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. [k] And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, [l] the Word, and the Holy Ghost: [m] and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive [n] the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: [o] for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God [p] hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God [q] hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 [r] And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and [s] this life is in his Son.

12 He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

13 [t] These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; [v] that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have ‖ in him, that, [x] if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and [y] he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. [z] There is a sin unto death: [a] I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 [b] All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that [c] whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God [d] keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and [e] the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and [f] hath given us an understanding, [g] that we may know him that is true, and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. [h] This is the true God, [i] and eternal life.

21 Little children, [k] keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

The Second Epistle of JOHN.

1 The apostle testifieth his regard and good wishes for a certain pious matron and her children, and his joy in their good behaviour: 5 he exhorteth them to persevere in Christian love and belief, that they lose not their full reward: 10 and to have nothing to do with those seducers that bring not the true doctrine of Christ. 12 He hopeth to see them shortly, and concludeth with salutations.

THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, [a] whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known [b] the truth;

2 For the truth's sake, which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3 [c] Grace † be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father, [d] in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children [e] walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, [f] not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, [g] that we love one another.

6 And [h] this is love, that we walk after his commannments. This is the commandment, That, [i] as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For [k] many deceivers are entered into the world, [l] who confess not that Jesus Christ is come in the flesh. [m] This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8 [n] Look to yourselves, [o] that we lose not those things which we ‖ have wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 [p] Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, [q] neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.

12 [r] Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak † face to face, [s] that ‖ our joy may be full.

13 [t] The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

The Third Epistle of JOHN.

1 The apostle, after a kind salutation to Gaius, testifieth his joy in his piety, 5 commending his hospitality toward the preachers of the gospel. 9 He censureth Diotrephes, and threateneth him for his ambitious opposition. 11 The ill example of such is not to be followed. 12 He heareth testimony to the good character of Demetrius. 13 He hopeth to see Gaius shortly, and concludeth with salutations.

THE elder unto the well beloved Gaius, [a] whom I love ‖ in the truth.

2 Beloved, I ‖ wish above all things that thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

4 I have no greater joy than to hear that [c] my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey † after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, [d] taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellowhelpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Diotrephes, who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: and not content therewith, neither doth he himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11 Beloved, [e] follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. [f] He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 Demetrius [g] hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record; [h] and ye know that our record is true.

13 [i] I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

The general Epistle of JUDE.

Anno DOMINI cir. 66.

1 After a general address, Jude exhorteth Christians to constancy in the received faith. 4 He foretelleth the punishment of certain false teachers crept into the church, and describeth their evil doctrine and manners. 20 He exhorteth true Christians to persevere in the right faith, and in the love of God; 22 and to seek the reformation of others. 24 He concludeth with ascribing glory to God.

JUDE, the servant of Jesus Christ, and [a] brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and [b] preserved in Jesus Christ, and [c] called:

2 Mercy unto you, and [d] peace, and love, be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you [e] of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that [f] ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

4 [g] For there are certain men crept in unawares, [h] who were before of old ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, [i] turning [k] the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and [l] denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Jesus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that [m] the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of Egypt, afterward [n] destroyed them that believed not.

6 And [o] the angels which kept not their ‖ first estate, but left their own habitation, [p] he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness [q] unto the judgment of the great day.

7 Even as [r] Sodom and Gomorrha, and the cities about them in like manner, giving themselves over to fornication, and going after † strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 [s] Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and [t] speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet [u] Michael the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Moses, [x] durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, [y] The Lord rebuke thee.

10 [z] But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way [a] of Cain, and [b] ran greedily after the error of Balaam for reward, and perished [c] in the gainsaying of Core.

12 [d] These are spots in your [e] feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: [f] clouds they are without water, [g] carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, [h] plucked up by the roots;

13 [i] Raging waves of the sea, [k] foaming out their own shame; wandering stars, [l] to whom is reserved the blackness of darkness for ever.

14 And Enoch also, [m] the seventh from Adam, prophesied of these, saying, Behold, [n] the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his saints,

15 To execute judgment upon all, and to convince all that are ungodly among them of all their ungodly deeds which they have ungodly committed, and of all their [o] hard speeches which ungodly sinners have spoken against him.

16 These are murmurers, complainers, walking after their own lusts; and [p] their mouth speaketh great swelling words, [q] having men's persons in admiration because of advantage.

17 [r] But, beloved, remember ye the words which were spoken before of the apostles of our Lord Jesus Christ;

18 How that they told you [s] there should be mockers in the last time, who should walk after their own ungodly lusts.

19 These be they [t] who separate themselves, [u] sensual, having not the Spirit.

20 But ye, beloved, [x] building up yourselves on your most holy faith, [y] praying in the Holy Ghost,

21 Keep yourselves in the love of God, [z] looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life.

22 And of some have compassion, making a difference:

23 And others [a] save with fear, [b] pulling them out of the fire; hating even [c] the garment spotted by the flesh.

24 [d] Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and [e] to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 [f] To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

CHAP. I.

1 The preface. 4 John's salutation to the seven churches of Asia. 7 The coming of Christ; 8 his eternal majesty. 9 John relateth his vision of the Son of man with the seven stars and the seven golden candlesticks.

THE Revelation of Jesus Christ, [a] which God gave unto him, to shew unto his servants things which [b] must shortly come to pass; and [c] he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John:

2 [d] Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things [e] that he saw.

3 [f] Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for [g] the time is at hand.

4 JOHN to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him [h] which is, and [i] which was, and which is to come; [k] and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne;

5 And from Jesus Christ, [l] who is the faithful witness, and the [m] first begotten of the dead, and [n] the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him [o] that loved us, [p] and washed us from our sins in his own blood,

6 And hath [q] made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; [r] to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

7 [s] Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and [t] they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen.

8 [u] I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, [x] which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty.

9 I John, who also am your brother, and [y] companion in tribulation, and [z] in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, [a] for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.

10 [b] I was in the Spirit on [c] the Lord's day, and heard behind me [d] a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, [e] I am Alpha and Omega, [f] the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, [g] I saw seven golden candlesticks;

13 [h] And in the midst of the seven candlesticks [i] one like unto the Son of man, [k] clothed with a garment down to the foot, and [l] girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and [m] his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and [n] his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 [o] And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and [p] his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 [q] And he had in his right hand seven stars: and [r] out of his mouth went a sharp two edged sword: [s] and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And [t] when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And [u] he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; [x] I am the first and the last:

18 [y] I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, [z] I am alive for evermore, Amen; and [a] have the keys of hell and of death.

19 Write [b] the things which thou hast seen, [c] and the things which are, [d] and the things which shall be hereafter;

20 The mystery [e] of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, [f] and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are [g] the angels of the seven churches: and [h] the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

CHAP. II.

What John was commanded to write in commendation or reproof to the angels of the churches of 1 Ephesus, 8 Smyrna, 12 Pergamos, 18 Thyatira.

UNTO the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith [a] he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, [b] who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2 [c] I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and [d] thou hast tried them [e] which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast [f] not fainted.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; [g] or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of [h] the Nicolaitanes, which I also hate.

7 [i] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give [k] to eat of [l] the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8 And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write; These things saith [m] the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9 [n] I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art [o] rich) and I know the blasphemy of [p] them which say they are Jews, and are not, [q] but are the synagogue of Satan.

10 [r] Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: [s] be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee [t] a crown of life.

11 [u] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of [x] the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith [y] he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13 [z] I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even [a] where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of [b] Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, [c] to eat things sacrificed unto idols, [d] and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine [e] of the Nicolaitanes, which thing I hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and [f] will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 [g] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone [h] a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; These things saith the Son of God, [i] who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19 [k] I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman [l] Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants [m] to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space [n] to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that [o] I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and [p] I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; [q] I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But [r] that which ye have already hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth [s] my works unto the end, [t] to him will I give power over the nations:

27 [u] And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father.

28 And I will give him [x] the morning star.

29 [y] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAP. III.

What John was commanded to write in commendation or reproof to the angels of the churches of 1 Sardis, 7 Philadelphia, 14 and Laodicea.

AND unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he [a] that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; [b] I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, [c] and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 [d] Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and [e] repent. [f] If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast [g] a few names even in Sardis which have not [h] defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me [i] in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, [k] the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not [l] blot out his name out of the [m] book of life, but [n] I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 [o] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write; These things saith [p] he that is holy, [q] he that is true, he that hath [r] the key of David, [s] he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and [t] shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 [u] I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee [x] an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make [y] them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, [z] I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, [a] I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon [b] all the world, to try them that dwell [c] upon the earth.

11 Behold, [d] I come quickly: [e] hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take [f] thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh will I make [g] a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and [h] I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is [i] new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: [k] and I will write upon him my new name.

13 [l] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 And unto the angel of the church ‖ of the Laodiceans write; [m] These things saith the Amen, [n] the faithful and true witness, [o] the beginning of the creation of God;

15 [p] I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, [q] I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

18 I counsel thee [r] to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and [s] white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

19 [t] As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, [u] I stand at the door, and knock: [x] if any man hear my voice, and open the door, [y] I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.

21 To him that overcometh [z] will I grant

10 And they sung a new song, saying, [n] Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: [o] for thou wast slain, and [p] hast redeemed us to God by thy blood [q] out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

11 And [r] hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

12 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels [s] round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was [t] ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

13 Saying with a loud voice, [u] Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under [q] the altar [r] the souls of them that were slain [s] for the word of God, and for [t] the testimony which they held:

1 John seeth four angels holding the four winds; 2 and another angel coming to seal the servants of God in their foreheads. 4 The number of them that were sealed out of each of the tribes of Israel. 9 An innumerable multitude out of all other nations stand before the throne in white robes, with palms in their hands, praising God and the Lamb. 11 The angels, elders, and beasts, worship and glorify God. 13 One of the elders sheweth John who they are that are clad in white robes, and what is their blessedness for ever.

AND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, [a] holding the four winds of the earth, [b] that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, [c] Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have [d] sealed the servants of our God [e] in their foreheads.

4 [f] And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed [g] an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nepthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and, lo, [h] a great multitude, which no man could number, [i] of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, [k] clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, [l] Salvation to our God [m] which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 [n] And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 [o] Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in [p] white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, [q] These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have [r] washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall [s] dwell among them.

16 [t] They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; [u] neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne [x] shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: [y] and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

1 The seventh seal opened. 2 Seven angels receive seven trumpets. 3 An angel presenteth the prayers of the saints with incense on the golden altar before the throne. 6 Four of the angels sound their trumpets, and great plagues severally follow.

AND [a] when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 [b] And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; [c] and to them were given seven trumpets.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it ‖ into the earth: and [g] there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, [h] and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, [i] and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast [k] upon the earth: and the third part [l] of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, [m] and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: [n] and the third part of the sea [o] became blood;

9 [p] And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, [q] and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, [r] and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters;

11 [s] And the name of the star is called Wormwood: [t] and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 [u] And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, [x] and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, [y] Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabiters of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAP. IX.

1 At the sounding of the fifth angel a star falleth from heaven, to whom is given the key of the bottomless pit: 2 he opens the pit, and there come forth locusts like scorpions, who have power to hurt men for a time. 12 The first woe past. 13 At the sounding of the sixth angel four angels which were bound are loosed, and bring great plagues on the earth for a limited time.

AND the fifth angel sounded, [a] and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of [b] the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; [c] and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke [d] locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, [e] as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them [f] that they should not hurt [g] the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not [h] the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, [i] but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days [k] shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them.

7 And [l] the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; [m] and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, [n] and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and [o] their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was [p] as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: [q] and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 [r] And they had a king over them, which is [s] the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name ‖ Apollyon.

12 [t] One woe is past; and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound [u] in the great river Euphrates.

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared ‖ for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And [x] the number of the army [y] of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: [z] and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: [a] and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: [b] for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues [c] yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship [d] devils, [e] and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Neither repented they of their murders, [f] nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAP. X.

1 A mighty angel appeareth with a book open in his hand; 5 and sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that there shall be no more time. 8 John is commanded to take and eat the book, and to prophesy.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: [a] and a rainbow was upon his head, and [b] his face was as it were the sun, and [c] his feet as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: [d] and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, [e] seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, [f] Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth [g] lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, [h] who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, [i] that there should be time no longer:

7 But [k] in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And [l] the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, [m] Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; [n] and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, [o] my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAP. XI.

1 John is commanded to measure the temple, all but the outer court. 3 The two witnesses that shall prophesy: 5 their power: 7 the beast shall fight against them, and kill them: 8 they shall lie unburied three days and a half, 11 and then rise again, and ascend into heaven. 13 A great earthquake. 14 The second woe past. 15 The seventh trumpet sounded: the heavenly choir celebrate the glories of God's kingdom.

AND there was given me [a] a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, [b] Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But [c] the court which is without the temple † leave out, and measure it not; [d] for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they [e] tread under foot forty and two months.

3 And ‖ I will give power unto my two [g] witnesses, [h] and they shall prophesy [i] a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the [k] two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, [l] fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: [m] and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These [n] have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and [o] have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they [p] shall have finished their testimony, [q] the beast that ascendeth [r] out of the bottomless pit [s] shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of [t] the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, [u] where also our Lord was crucified.

9 [x] And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, [y] and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 [z] And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, [a] and shall send gifts one to another; [b] because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 [c] And after three days and an half [d] the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. [e] And they ascended up to heaven [f] in a cloud; [g] and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour [h] was there a great earthquake, [i] and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain † of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, [k] and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 [l] The second woe is past; and, behold, the third woe cometh quickly.

15 And [m] the seventh angel sounded; [n] and there were great voices in heaven, saying, [o] The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; [p] and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And [q] the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, [r] which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, [s] and hast reigned.

18 [t] And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, [u] and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, [x] small and great; [y] and shouldest destroy them which ‖ destroy the earth.

19 And [z] the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and [a] there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, [b] and great hail.

CHAP. XII.

1 A woman clothed with the sun travaileth. 3 A great red dragon standeth ready to devour her child. 5 She is delivered, and fleeth into the wilderness. 7 Michael and his angels fight with the dragon, who is cast out of heaven with his angels. 10 the victory proclaimed in heaven. 13 The dragon cast down to the earth persecuteth the woman.

AND there appeared a great ‖ wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, [a] travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another ‖ wonder in heaven; and behold [b] a great red dragon, [c] having seven heads and ten horns, [d] and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And [e] his tail drew the third part [f] of the stars of heaven, [g] and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood [h] before the woman which was ready to be delivered, [i] for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

God, that they should feed her there [m] a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: [n] Michael and his angels fought [o] against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven.

9 And [p] the great dragon was cast out, [q] that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, [r] which deceiveth the whole world: [s] he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, [t] Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, [u] which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And [x] they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; [y] and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore [z] rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. [a] Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, [b] because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted [c] the woman which brought forth the man child.

14 [d] And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, [e] that she might fly [f] into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished [g] for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent [h] cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, [i] and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, [k] which keep the commandments of God, and have [l] the testimony of Jesus Christ.

CHAP. XIII.

1 A beast with seven heads and ten horns riseth out of the sea, to whom the dragon giveth his power, wherewith he blasphemeth God, and vexeth the saints. 11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth, which supporteth the worship of the former beast. 18 The number of the beast.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw [a] a beast rise up out of the sea, [b] having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the ‖ name of blasphemy.

2 [c] And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, [d] and his feet were as the feet of a bear, [e] and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and [f] the dragon gave him his power, [g] and his seat, [h] and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads [i] as it were † wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and [k] all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, [l] Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him [m] a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him ‖ to continue [n] forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, [o] and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him [p] to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: [q] and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, [r] whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain [s] from the foundation of the world.

9 [t] If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 [u] He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: [x] he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. [y] Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast [z] coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, [a] whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And [b] he doeth great wonders, [c] so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And [d] deceiveth them that dwell on the earth [e] by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, [f] and did live.

15 And he had power to give † life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, [g] and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he caused all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, [h] † to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or [i] the name of the beast, [k] or the number of his name.

18 [l] Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count [m] the number of the beast: [n] for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

CHAP. XIV.

1 The Lamb with his company standing on mount Sion; 6 an angel preacheth the gospel; 8 another proclaimeth the fall of Babylon; 9 and a third the punishment of them that worship the beast. 13 The blessedness of those that die in the Lord. 14 The harvest of the world. 17 The vintage and winepress of God's wrath.

AND I looked, and, lo, [a] a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him [b] an hundred forty and four thousand, [c] having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, [d] as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of [e] harpers harping with their harps:

3 And [f] they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song [g] but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women; [h] for they are virgins. These are they [i] which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These † [k] were redeemed from among men, [l] being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And [m] in their mouth was found no guile: for [n] they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel [o] fly in the midst of heaven, [p] having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, [q] and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, [r] Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: [s] and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, [t] Babylon is fallen, is fallen, [u] that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, [x] If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same [y] shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is [z] poured out without mixture into [a] the cup of his indignation; and [b] he shall be tormented with [c] fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And [d] the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 [e] Here is the patience of the saints: [f] here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, [g] Blessed are the dead [h] which die in the Lord ‖ from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, [i] that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat [k] like unto the Son of man, [l] having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel [m] came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, [n] Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest [o] of the earth is ‖ ripe.

16 And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, [p] which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, [q] Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into [r] the great winepress of the wrath of God.

20 And [s] the winepress was trodden [t] without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, [u] even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAP. XV.

1 The seven angels with the seven last plagues.
2 The song of them which overcome the beast.
5 The seven angels receive the seven golden vials full of the wrath of God.

AND [a] I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, [b] seven angels having the seven last plagues; [c] for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were [d] a sea of glass [e] mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, [f] and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, [g] having the harps of God.

3 And they sing [h] the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, [i] Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; [k] just and true are thy ways, thou King of ‖ saints.

4 [l] Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for [m] all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and, behold, [n] the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 [o] And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, [p] clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 [q] And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, [r] who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And [s] the temple was filled with smoke [t] from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The seven angels are commanded to pour out their vials on the earth. 2 Great plagues follow thereupon. 15 Christ cometh suddenly as a thief: blessed are they that watch.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple saying [a] to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials [b] of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial [c] upon the earth; and [d] there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men [e] which had the mark of the beast, and upon them [f] which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial [g] upon the sea; and [h] it became as the blood of a dead man: [i] and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial [k] upon the rivers and fountains of waters; [l] and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, [m] Thou art righteous, O Lord, [n] which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For [o] they have shed the blood [p] of saints and prophets, [q] and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, [r] Lord God Almighty, [s] true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial [t] upon the sun; [u] and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were ‖ scorched with great heat, and [x] blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: [y] and they repented not [z] to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial [a] upon the seat of the beast; [b] and his kingdom was full of darkness; [c] and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And [d] blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and [e] their sores, [f] and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial [g] upon the great river Euphrates; [h] and the water thereof was dried up, [i] that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unclean [k] spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of [l] the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of [m] the false prophet.

14 [n] For they are the spirits of devils, [o] working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth [p] and of the whole world, to gather them to [q] the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 ¶ [r] Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, [s] lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 [t] And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, [u] It is done.

18 And [x] there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; [y] and there was a great earthquake, [z] such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And [a] the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon [b] came in remembrance before God, [c] to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And [d] every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 [e] And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and [f] men blasphemed God because of [g] the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAP. XVII.

1 John's vision of the great whore, sitting upon the scarlet coloured beast, arrayed in purple and scarlet, with a golden cup in her hand. 5 Her name. 6 She is drunken with the blood of saints. 7 The interpretation of the mystery of the beast, and of his seven heads and ten horns; 18 and of the woman.

AND there came [a] one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; [b] I will shew unto thee the judgment of [c] the great whore [d] that sitteth upon many waters:

2 [e] With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and [f] the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the spirit [g] into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit [h] upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of [i] names of blasphemy, [k] having seven heads and [l] ten horns.

4 And the woman [m] was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, [n] and † decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, [o] having a golden cup in her hand [p] full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5 And upon her forhead was a name written, [q] MYSTERY, BABYLON [r] THE GREAT, [s] THE MOTHER OF ‖ HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw [t] the woman drunken [u] with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of [x] the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and [y] shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and [z] go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth [a] shall wonder, [b] whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And [c] here is the mind which hath wisdom. [d] The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, [e] and goeth into perdition.

12 And [f] the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 [g] These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: [h] for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: [i] and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, [k] The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, [l] are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, [m] these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate [n] and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and [o] burn her with fire.

17 [p] For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, [q] until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest [r] is that great city, [s] which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 A mighty angel declareth the fall of Babylon. 4 God's people commanded to depart out of her. 8 Her judgment. 9 The kings of the earth, 11 and the merchants, 17 and mariners, lament over her. 20 The saints are excited to rejoice over her. 21 A milstone cast into the sea denoteth her irrecoverable fall.

AND [a] after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; [b] and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, [c] Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and [d] is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and [e] a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations [f] have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, [g] and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the ‖ abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, [h] Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 [i] For her sins have reached unto heaven, and [k] God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 [l] Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: [m] in the cup which she hath filled [n] fill to her double.

7 [o] How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a [p] queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come [q] in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and [r] she shall be utterly burned with fire: [s] for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And [t] the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, [u] shall bewail her, and lament for her, [x] when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, [y] Alas, alas that great city Babylon, that mighty city! [z] for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11 And [a] the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 [b] The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all ‖ thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13 And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and ‖ slaves, and [c] souls of men.

14 And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.

15 [d] The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas that great city, [e] that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17 [f] For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And [g] every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off, 18 [h] And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, [i] What city is like unto this great city!

19 And [k] they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! [l] for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 [m] Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for [n] God hath avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, [o] Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and [p] shall be found no more at all.

22 [q] And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee;

23 [r] And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; [s] and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for [t] thy merchants were the great men of the earth; [u] for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24 And [x] in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that [y] were slain upon the earth.

CHAP. XIX.

1 God is praised in heaven for judging the great whore, and avenging the blood of his saints. 6 The triumph because of the marriage of the Lamb. 10 The angel, who shewed John these things, refuseth to be worshipped. 11 The vision of the Word of God sitting upon a white horse, and followed by his armies. 17 The fowls called to feast on the flesh of those that took part with the beast. 20 The beast and false prophet cast into the lake of fire and brimstone; and the rest slain.

AND after these things [a] I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; [b] Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For [c] true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and [d] hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia. And [e] her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And [f] the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, [g] Amen; Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, [h] Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, [i] both small and great.

6 [k] And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for [l] the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for [m] the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 And [n] to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and ‖ white: [o] for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 And he saith unto me, Write, [p] Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, [q] These are the true sayings of God.

10 And [r] I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, [s] See thou do it not: I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren [t] that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 [u] And I saw heaven opened, and behold [x] a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called [y] Faithful and True, and [z] in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 [a] His eyes were as a flame of fire, [b] and on his head were many crowns; [c] and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

13 [d] And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called [e] The Word of God.

14 [f] And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, [g] clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And [h] out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and [i] he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and [k] he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And [l] he hath on his vesture and on

18 [d] That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 [e] And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 [f] And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and [g] them that worshipped his image. [h] These both were cast alive into a lake of fire [i] burning with brimstone.

1 Satan bound for a thousand years. 4 The first resurrection. 7 Satan again let loose gathereth Gog and Magog to battle, who are devoured with fire. 10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 11 The general resurrection, and last judgment.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, [a] having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on [b] the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, [c] and bound him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and [d] set a seal upon him, [e] that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw [f] thrones, and they sat upon them, and [g] judgment was given unto them: and I saw [h] the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and [i] which had not worshipped the beast, [k] neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and [l] reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such [m] the second death hath no power, but they shall be [n] priests of God and of Christ, [o] and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, [p] Satan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall go out [q] to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, [r] Gog and Magog, [s] to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 [t] And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 [u] And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, [x] where the beast and the false prophet are, and [y] shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face [z] the earth and the heaven fled away; [a] and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, [b] small and great, stand before God; [c] and the books were opened: and another [d] book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, [e] according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; [f] and death and ‖ hell delivered up the dead which were in them: [g] and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And [h] death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. [i] This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life [k] was cast into the lake of fire.

1 A new heaven and a new earth. 2 The new Jerusalem. 3 The blessedness of God's people; 8 The judgment of the wicked. 9 A description of the heavenly Jerusalem.

AND [a] I saw a new heaven and a new earth; [b] for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw [c] the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared [d] as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, [e] the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 [f] And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and [g] there shall be no more death, [h] neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And [i] he that sat upon the throne said, [k] Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for [l] these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, [m] It is done. [n] I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. [o] I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit ‖ all things; and [p] I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 [q] But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in [r] the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of [s] the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee [t] the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away [u] in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me [x] that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 [y] Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had [z] twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel,

13 [a] On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations; and [b] in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me [c] had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 [d] And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolyte; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: [e] and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 [f] And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 [g] And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 [h] And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 [i] And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for [k] there shall be no night there.

26 [l] And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And [m] there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's [n] book of life.

CHAP. XXII.

1 The river and tree of life: 3 The glorious state of the servants of God. 8 John is forbidden by the angel to worship him; 10 and commanded to seal up the prophecy. 12 Christ's coming and eternity. 14 The blessedness of them that do God's commandments. 18 Nothing must be added to or taken from this prophecy. 21 The concluding benediction.

AND he shewed me [o] a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 [p] In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there [q] the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were [r] for the healing of the nations.

3 And [s] there shall be no more curse: [t] but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him:

4 And [u] they shall see his face; and [v] his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 [w] And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun, for [x] the Lord God giveth them light: [y] and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, [z] These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets [a] sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 [b] Behold, I come quickly: [c] blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, [d] I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, [e] See thou do it not: for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 [f] And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: [g] for the time is at hand.

11 [h] He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 [i] And, behold, I come quickly; and [k] my reward is with me, [l] to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 [m] I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 [n] Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right [o] to the tree of life, [p] and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For [q] without are [r] dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 [s] I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. [t] I am the root and the offspring of David, and [u] the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and [x] the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. [y] And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, [z] If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, [a] God shall take away his part ‖ out of the book of life, and out of [b] the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, [c] Surely I come quickly; [d] Amen. [e] Even so, come, Lord Jesus.

21 [f] The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen.

		The third Age of the World.
1921.	Geneſis XII. 1, 2, 3,	ABRAM, after his father's deceaſe, in the 75th year of his age, is commanded by God to enter upon the land of Canaan, which God promiſeth to give unto his ſeed, and that in his ſeed (viz. Chriſt Jeſus our Lord) all the families of the earth ſhould be bleſſed.
1920.	10.	In the year following a famine in the
	Gal. III. 17.	land of Canaan forceth Abram with his family to go into Egypt. From this firſt
	Exodus XII. 40	coming into Egypt to the departure of the children of Iſrael out of it are reckoned 430 years.
	Geneſis XIII.	Abram and Lot in this ſame year return into Canaan; but the land not being ſufficient for both their flocks, they part aſunder. Lot goeth to Sodom. God reneweth his promiſe to Abram; he removeth to Hebron, and there buildeth an altar.
1913.	XIV. 4,	Bera the king of Sodom with four other kings rebel againſt Chedorlaomer, but are overcome by him in the valley of Siddim. Sodom, Gomorrah, and all the cities in the vale of Siddim, with all the inhabitants of them, are for the moſt horrible ſins deſtroyed by fire and brimſtone from Heaven. The Dead Sea remains a monument thereof unto this day. Lot's wife for looking back upon Sodom, contrary to God's command, is turned into a pillar of ſalt; and Lot himſelf, fearing to continue at Zoar, leaves the plain country, and betakes himſelf to the mountain, carrying his two daughters with him.

		The fourth Age of the World.
1491.	Exodus XII. 11,	UPON the fourteenth day of the first month, (which was May the fourth, upon Monday with us) in the evening, the passover is instituted.
	29, 41.	Upon the fifteenth of the same month, at midnight, the firstborn of Egypt being all slain, Pharaoh and his servants make haste to send away the Israelites; and they, the selfsame day wherein they were let go out of bondage, being the complete term of 430 years from the first pilgrimage of their ancestor's, reckoning from Abraham's departure out of Charran, take their journey, and march away, being 600,000 men, beside children, and come to Rameses, from
	Numb. XXXIII.	whence by several encampings they come to the Red sea, the Lord conducting them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire bynight. They carry Joseph's bones with them.
	Exodus XIV.	At the Red sea Pharaoh with his host overtakes them; Moses divides the waters with his rod, and the children of Israel pass through on dry ground unto the desert of Etham; whom when Pharaoh and his army would needs follow, they are all overwhelmed by the waters coming together at the dawning of the day, whereby the Israelites are wholly freed from the bondage of the Egyptians; whose carcases when they see floating all the
	XV.	sea over, and cast upon the shore, they sing a song of praise and thanksgiving unto God.
	Exodus XVI.	Upon the fifteenth of the second month (our June the 4th, being Thursday) the Israelites come to the wilderness of Zin, which lieth betwcen Elyma and Sinai, where for want of food they murmur against God and their leaders: about the eventide God sends them quails, and the next morning rains upon them manna from heaven; and upon that kind of bread they lived afterward by the space of forty years, even till they came to the borders of the land of Promise. An omer of it is preserved for a memorial.
	XVII. 1,	At Rephidim, which was the eleventh place of their encamping, the people murmur for want of water: Moses gives them water by striking the hard rock in Horeb with his rod.

XXIV. proposeth them to the people: which done, rising early in the morning, he builds an altar at the foot of the mountain, and sets up 12 statues, according to the 12 tribes of Israel, and sends 12 young men of the firstborn (whom the Lord hath consecrated to himself as ministers of those holy things, before the Levitical Priesthood was ordained) which offer sacrifice, first for sin, and then for thanksgiving, to the Lord: and when Moses had read the Book of the Covenant, he takes the blood of the calves and goats so offered, and with water, scarlet wool, and hyssop, sprinkles the book therewith, and all the people, or those 12 statues representing them; and so performs a solemn Covenant between God and his people.
9, 18. Moses and Aaron, Nadab and Abihu, and 70 Men of the elders of Israel, go up into the mount, and there behold the glory of God: the rest returning, Moses with his servant Joshua abides there still, and waits six days, and upon the seventh day God speaks unto him, and there he continues 40 days and 40 nights (reckoning those six days which he waited for the appearance of the Lord) eating no meat all that while, nor drinking water; (Deut. IX. 9.) where he receives God's command touching the frame of the Tabernacle, the Priests' garments, their

18. At the end of 40 days God gives Moses the two tables of the Law in stone, made by God's own hand, and written with his own finger; bidding him withal quickly to get him down, for that the people had already made to themselves a molten calf to worship.
XXXII. Moses by prayer pacifieth God, and goes down from the mount, and seeing the people keeping a festival in honour of their idol in the camp, he breaks the tables of the law at the foot of the mount: for which the Jews keep a solemn fast unto this day.
20, 28. Moses, having burnt and defaced the idol, puts 3000 of the idolaters to death by the hands of the Levites.
XXXIV. God commands Moses to frame new Tables of stone, and to bring them with him into the mount: Moses brings them the next morning, and whilst he stands in the cleft of a rock, God passeth by, and sheweth him a glimpse of his glory.
Exodus XXXIV. 10. God renews his Covenant with his people, and upon certain conditions gives them his Laws again.
1490. XXXIX. In the first six months of this year, the tabernacle, the ark of the covenant, the altar, the table of shewbread, the priests' garments, the holy ointments, the candlestick, and other utensils and vessels belonging to the sacrifices, are finished in the desert at mount Sinai, and are brought unto Moses.
XL. The tabernacle is set up and anointed with holy oil. Aaron and his sons are consecrated for the priesthood.
Lev. X. Nadab and Abihu for offering strange fire are struck dead in the place by fire from heaven.
Numb. VII. The princes of the tribes present their offerings toward the dedication of the tabernacle. God speaketh to Moses from the mercy seat.
IX. The second passover is instituted.
X. 29. Jethro, who is also called Hobab, brings
Exodus XVIII. his daughter Zipporah, with her two sons, Gershon and Eliezer, which were left with him, to his son in law Moses: and having congratulated his and the whole people of Israel's deliverance out of bondage, he openly declares his faith and devotion toward the true God. By his advice Moses imparts the government of the people to some others, and ordains magistrates for the deciding of lesser causes.
Numb. XI. Moses complains to God of the over great burden of his government; God, to ease him of his charge, gives him for assistance the court of 70 Elders.
31. The people lust for flesh, God gives them quails in wrath; and sends withal a most grievous plague among them.
XII. God rebukes the sedition of Miriam and Aaron, and maintaineth Moses his right.

Before CHRIST 1490. Numb. XIII. From the wilderness of Paran, near Kadesh-barnea, 12 men are sent (among whom are Caleb and Joshua) to discover the land of Canaan. Returning, they bring with them a branch of a vine, with a cluster of grapes upon it; ten of the twelve so sent speak ill of the country, declare it barren, and magnify the cities for their strength, and the giantly stature of the inhabitants.
XIV. The people, terrified with this relation, are about to return into Egypt, from which Caleb and Joshua endeavouring to dissuade them are like to be stoned. At this God is so provoked, that he threatens to destroy them; but is prevailed upon by Moses his prayers to spare them. Nevertheless he denounceth that all who are now 20 years old and upward (except Caleb and Joshua) shall die in the wilderness. The men who raised the evil report are all destroyed by sudden death. Some endeavouring to enter upon the promised land, contrary to the command of God, are smitten by the Amalekites and Canaanites.
1489. Deut. I. 46. In this place, viz. Kadesh-barnea, the Israelites continue many days; but that in some places they continued many years, appeareth, for that in the space of 37 years there are but 17 encampings mentioned.
Numb. XXXIII. To their long continuance in Kadesh, and the encampings from thence, all that we find delivered in the xvth and four next ensuing Chapters of Numbers seems to refer; as how 1471. XVI. Korah, Dathan, and Abiram, for raising a mutiny against Moses and Aaron, were swallowed alive into the earth, and 250 of their associates; and how the people, murmuring against Moses and Aaron for the calamity which had befallen their brethren, were destroyed by God to the number of 14,700
XVII. men; and how 12 rods being brought by 12 princes, and laid in the sanctuary, Aaron's rod only budded, and brought forth almonds, and was laid up before the Ark, for a memorial to those who should afterwards be given to rebellion.
1452. XX. In these 37 years the Israelites by 17 encampings having compassed the hill country of Seir and Edom, they come to the wilderness of Zin in the first month of the 40th year after their departure out of Egypt.
1, Here Miriam, the Sister of Moses and Aaron, dieth.
2, The people again for want of water murmur against Moses and Aaron, whom when God had commanded to call water out of the rock only by speaking to it, Moses, being moved in his mind through impatience and diffidence of the thing, speaks something, whatever it was, unadvisedly with his lips, and strikes the rock thrice with Aaron's
12, rod, and thereby draws water from it; but for transgressing God's command they are both debarred from entering into the land of Canaan.
23, 28. In the fifth month of this year Aaron dieth at Mosera, on the top of mount Hor, at the age of 123 years, leaving his son Eleazar his successor in the high priesthood.
XXI. 5, 9. The people murmuring are plagued with fiery serpents, whereof many die; upon their Numb. XXI. About the latter end of this year, all those who at Kadesh-barnea mutinied against God being wholly extinct and dead, the Israelites pass over Zared, and come to the borders of Moab at Ar, and at length they arrive at Bamoth, a valley in the country of the Moabites, and pitch at mount Pisgah.

21, Sihon king of the Amorites, refusing them passage through his country, is slain, and the Israelites possess his land.
33. Og the king of Basan, coming out against Israel, is destroyed with all his people, not one left alive, and his country possessed by the Israelites.
XXII. 1, After these victories the Israelites set forward, and encamp in the plains of Moab.
2, 3. Balak king of Moab, considering what the Israelites had done to the Amorites, fears, lest under pretence of passing through his country they should possess themselves of his whole kingdom; takes council with the princes of the Midianites his neighbours, and Joshua XXIV. sends for Balaam a soothsayer out of Mesopurposing afterwards to make war upon them.

Balaam, forewarned of God, refuseth at first to come; but being sent for a second time, he importuneth God to let him go, and goes with a purpose indeed to curse Israel; but God, offended thereat, makes the dumb ass of this wizard, on which he rode, speaking in a man's voice, to reprove his folly.

Numb. XXIII. Deut. XXIII. 5. Joshua XXIV. 10. Numb. XXV. 1, 2, 3, &c. Deut. IV. 3. Psalm. CVI. 28 Rev. II. 14. 1 Cor. X. 8. Numb. XXV. Psalm CVI. 30. Numb. XXV. 13, 17. Numb. XXVI.

Balaam twice offers sacrifice, and would fain have cursed Israel, to gratify Balak therein; but being forced thereto by the Spirit of God, instead of cursing, he blesseth them altogether; foretelling what felicity attended them, and what calamities should befal their enemies.

By his advice the women of Moab and Midian are set on work to turn the Israelites away to idolatry. Wherefore God commands Moses first to take all the ringleaders of this disorder, and to hang them up before the sun, and then gives order to the judges to put to death all such as had joined themselves to Baal-peor. Last of all God sends a plague upon the people, whereof die 23,000 men in one day: which added to them which were hanged and killed with the sword amount in all to 24,000.

Phinehas the son of Eleazar, by killing Zimri, the chief of his father's family, and Cozbi the daughter of Zur, a prince of the Midianites, appeaseth the wrath of God, and the plague ceaseth. God therefore settleth the high priesthood for ever upon the house of Phinehas, and commands that war be made upon the Midianites.

Moses and Eleazar, by God's command, in the plain of Moab, near unto Jordan, over against Jericho, number the people from twenty years old and upwards, and find them to be 601,730 men, beside the Levites, whose number, reckoning them from one month old and upwards, come to 23,000; and then Moses receives command for the parting the land of promise among the Israelites.

XXVII. 1, 2, 12, 23. Deut. III. 26, 27, 28.

The daughters of Zelophehad have their father's land parted among them, for want of issue male; this occasions the law for succession in heritages to be made.

God signifies to Moses that he shall die; and Joshua thereupon is declared to be his successor; upon whom Moses lays his hands, and gives him instructions. Several laws are made.

Numb. XXXI. Joshua XIII. 21, 22.

Twelve thousand of the Israelites under the command of Phinehas vanquish the Midianites, and put to the sword all the males among them with their five princes, and among them Zur, the father of Cozbi, and Balaam the wizard; but they save the women alive; at which Moses is wroth, and commands that every male child, and all the women, except such as be virgins, be killed.

Numb. XXXII. Deut. III. Joshua XIII, & XXII.

The lands which belonged to Sihon and Og, namely, all from the river Arnon to mount Hermon, Moses divides, and gives to the tribes of Reuben and Gad, and the half tribe of Manasseh; so that their possessions lay on this side Jordan; nevertheless they assist the rest of the tribes in all their wars, till they have subdued the Canaanites, and possessed the promised land.

Deut. XXVII.

Moses commands the people, that in their passage over Jordan they shall set up great stones, and engrave the Ten Commandments on them, with the form of blessing upon mount Gerizim, and of cursing on XXVIII. mount Ebal; exhorting them to observe the law of God, by setting before their eyes the benefits that would ensue thereon.

XXIX. He also renews the covenant made by God with them and their children on mount Horeb, and again persuades them to keep that covenant by all the blessings and curses, which would undoubtedly follow the keepers or breakers of it: yet with a promise of pardon and deliverance, if at any time, having

XXX. broken it, they shall repent them of their sin; and tells them further, that God had therefore thus declared his will unto them, to the end that none hereafter offending shall pretend ignorance.

XXXI. Moses, having written this law, delivers it to the priests the sons of Levi, and the elders

XXXII. of the people, to be kept; the same day also he writes his most excellent song, and teaches the same to the children of Israel to be sung; and having finished the book of the law, he takes order to have it laid up in the side of the ark.

Before CHRIST 1451. XXXIII. XXXIV.

Moses, now drawing near to his end, blesseth every tribe in particular by way of prophecy, save only the tribe of Simeon.

In the 12th month of this year he goes up to mount Nebo, and from thence beholds the land of promise, and there dieth, aged 120 years; the body of Moses God translates out of the place where he died into a valley of the land of Moab, over against Beth-peor, and there buriеth it; nor doth any man know the place where he laid it unto this day. The Israelites mourn for him 30 days.

Here ends the Pentateuch, or five books of Moses, containing the history of 2552 years and an half, from the beginning of the world; and the book of Joshua begins with the 41st year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

Josh. II. III.

Joshua, being confirmed in his government by God, sends forth spies from Shittim to the city of Jericho, who, being harboured by Rahab, are privily sent away, when search is made for them.

Upon the tenth day of the first month, (April 30) to wit, the same day that the Paschal Lamb was to be chosen out of the flock, the Israelites under the conduct of Joshua, a type of Jesus Christ, go up out of the river Jordan into the promised land of Canaan, a type of a more heavenly country. They pass through the river on dry ground,

IV. the waters being for that present divided; for a memorial of which miraculous passage Joshua sets up 12 stones in the very channel of Jordan, and taking 12 other stones out of the midst thereof sets them up at Gilgal, the place where they next encamp.

V. The day following Joshua renews the use of circumcision, which had been omitted 40 years.

10, Upon the 14th day of the same month, in the evening, the Israelites celebrate their first passover in the land of Canaan.

11, 12, 13. Next day after the Passover Manna ceaseth.

Our Lord Jesus, Captain of his Father's host, appears to Joshua, the typical Jesus, before Jericho, with a drawn sword in his hand,

VI. and promiseth there to defend his people.

Jericho, the ark of the Lord having been carried round about it, is taken the seventh day, the walls thereof falling down at the sound of the priests' trumpets; all the inhabitants are put to the sword, except Rahab and her family.

VII. The Israelites besiege Ai, and are smitten by their enemies, God having abandoned them for sacrilege committed by Achan; Achan's sin being discovered by the casting of lots, and himself found guilty, he is stoned

VIII. to death, and together with his children and cattle, burned with fire. God being pacified hereby, Ai is taken by ambushment, and utterly destroyed.

30, 35. On mount Ebal, according to the law made, is an altar erected, and the Ten Commandments engraven on it; the blessings and cursings are repeated on mount Ebal and mount Gerizim, and the book of

IX. the law read in the ears of the people.

The kings of Canaan combine against Israel; only the Gibeonites craftily find a way to save their own lives, by making a league with them; but are afterwards deputed to the servile offices of the house of God.

Josh. X. Adoni-zedek king of Jerusalem, with the kings of Hebron, Jarmuth, Lachish, and Eglon, hearing that Gibeon is fallen off from them, join their forces together, and besiege it; but Joshua raiseth the siege, pursueth those five kings, and smiteth them as far as Azekah, the Lord in the mean while killing more with hailstones from heaven, than the Israelites with their swords. Joshua commands the sun to stand still over Gibeon, and the moon over the valley of Ajalon, by the space almost of one whole day, until the Israelites are fully avenged of their enemies. The five kings hide themselves in a cave at Makkedah; from whence they are brought forth, scornfully used, and hanged.

Exodus XXIII. 10, 11. 1450. From the autumn of this year, wherein, after the failing of Manna, they began to till the ground, the rise of the sabbatical years is to be taken.

Josh. XIII. 1445. Joshua, now grown old, is commanded by God to divide all the land on the west of Jordan among the nine tribes remaining, and the other half tribe of Manasseh. The Lord and his sacrifices are the inheritance of Levi.

After the decease of Joshua, and the elders who outlived him, and who remembered the wonders which God had wrought for Israel, there succeeds a generation of men which forget God, and mingle themselves with the Canaanites by marriage, and worship their idols. In this time of anarchy and confusion, when every man did that which seemed right in his own eyes, all those disorders were committed, which are reported in the five last chapters of the Book of Judges; to wit, the idolatry of Micah, and the children of Dan; the war of the Benjamites, and the cause thereof. God, being highly provoked, gives them up into the hands

	9,	Othniel, the son of Kenaz, and son in law to Joshua, stirred up by God as a judge

1343.	12,	Othniel dying, the Israelites fall again to sin against God, and are given over into the hands of Eglon king of Moab, who, joining with the Ammonites and the Amalekites, overthrows the Israelites, and takes Jericho; and this second oppression continueth 18 years.
1325.	15,	Ehud the son of Gera is raised up by God
	30,	to be an avenger of his people; for feigning a message to Eglon, he runs him into the belly with his dagger; then getting away, he gathers all Israel into a body on mount Ephraim, and slays 10,000 of the most valiant men of Moab: and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtained by Othniel.

For a memorial of which victory Deborah composeth a song; and the land resteth 40 years after the former rest obtained by Ehud.

After which great victories the Israelites offering to settle the kingdom upon him and his posterity, he refuseth it; but receiving their golden earrings, he makes thereof an ephod, which afterwards proves an occasion of idolatry. The Midianites being thus vanquished, the land enjoys rest 40 years, after the former rest restored to them by Deborah and Barak.

1206.	8.	The Israelites, forsaking again the true God, fall to worship the gods of several nations, and are given up into the hands of the Philistines and Ammonites; which fifth thraldom lasteth 18 years. Upon their repentance, and abandoning their idols, at length they obtain mercy.

1187.	XI.	Jephthah the Gileadite, being made captain of the host of Israel, subdues the Ammonites; before the battle he vows his daughter unawares to be offered in sacrifice, and afterwards performs it. 1156.	1 Sam. IV. 18.	Eli the high priest (in whom the high priesthood was translated from the family of Eleazar to Ithamar's) succeeds Abdon, and judgeth Israel 40 years. The Israelites again provoke the Lord to anger, and he delivers them into the hands of the Philistines. This sixth thraldom begins seven months after Eli's entering upon the government, and lasteth 40 years, even till seven months after his death, when the ark was brought back again.
	Judges XIII. 1, 2,
1155.	24.	Samson the Nazarite, as an angel had foretold, is born at Zora.
1137.	XIV. 4.	Whilst Eli the high priest executeth the office of a judge in civil causes under the Philistines, Samson takes an occasion to quarrel with them, by marrying a woman of Timnath; for having on the day of his betrothing propounded a riddle to the Philistines, and laid a wager, his wife tells them the meaning of it: enraged hereat, he goes and slays 30 men of Askelon, and gives them the suits of raiment which he had stript off their bodies, in performance of the wager which he had lost, and returns home to his father.
1136.	XV.	Samson again in harvest time goes to present his wife with a kid at her father's house, but finds her given away in marriage to another man; Samson resolves to be revenged; he catcheth 300 foxes, and tying firebrands to their tails turns them all into the cornfields of the Philistines, and into

The Philistines take Samson's wife and father in law, and burn them; Samson in revenge slays a great multitude of them, and sits down upon the rock Etam, from whence being taken by 3000 of the Jews, and by them delivered into the hands of the Philistines, he slays of them a thousand men with the jawbone of an ass; in which place he is miraculously refreshed, when thirsty and ready to faint.
1117.	Judges XVI.	Samson is betrayed by Delilah his concubine, bereaved of the hair of his Nazariteship, and delivered to the Philistines; who put out his eyes, and bind him with chains of brass. The Philistines gather together to offer sacrifice to Dagon their god, and Samson is brought to make them sport; whose hair being grown, and his strength in a great measure restored, he takes hold of the two chief pillars whereon the house stood (wherein were the princes of the Philistines, and a great multitude of people) and pulls down the house, killing more men at his death, than he did in all his life time. So he died, having judged Israel in the days of the Philistines 20 years.
1116.	1 Sam. IV.	The Israelites take up arms against the Philistines, but with very ill success, for they lose 4000 men in one battle. Then they send for the ark of the covenant from Shiloh, and cause it to be brought into the camp. The Philistines, seeing now all lie at stake, encourage one another to behave themselves like men that day; and so falling on, they slay of the Israelites 30,000 men. The ark of God is taken, and Hophni and Phinehas, priests, and sons of Eli, are slain. Of all which when tidings are brought to old Eli, frighted thereat, he falls from his chair, and breaks his neck, in the 98th year of his age.
	V.	The Philistines, having brought the ark into Ashdod, set it in the house of Dagon their god. But when Dagon had been found two several times fallen groveling before it, and broken in pieces, and the inhabitants of the place sorely plagued, they remove it from thence to Gath, and from thence to Ekron. But the same plagues and judgments following wherever it went, after 7 months, by the advice of their priests, they send home the ark again with presents and gifts into the land of the Israelites, and it is brought to Beth-shemesh, where, 50,070 men are smitten for looking into the ark. From hence it is carried to the house of Abinadab in Kirjath-jearim, who sanctifieth his son Eleazar to keep it.
1096.		After 20 years the Israelites by Samuel's persuasion solemnly repent at Mizpeh, and upon their conversion God by thunder from heaven delivers them from the invasion of the Philistines, who are subdued, the hand of the Lord being against them all the days of Samuel.
1095.	VIII.	Samuel being grown old takes for his assistants in the government his sons; by whose ill management of affairs, the Israelites require a king to be given them; whereupon God gives them a king in his wrath, to wit, Saul the son of Kish, after Samuel had judged Israel 21 years. Saul is privately anointed by Samuel, and afterward publickly proclaimed king at Mizpeh. About a month after Jabesh-gilead is besieged by Nahash king of the Amorites, and the siege raised by Saul: whereupon the whole congregation of Israel, coming together at Gilgal, again proclaim Saul king.
1085.	XVII.	David the son of Jesse the Ephrathite born at Beth-lehem-judah 30 years before he succeeded Saul in the kingdom. He was his father's youngest son.
1063.	XVI.	God rejects Saul, and sends Samuel to Beth-lehem, there to anoint David king, whom Saul ever after extremely persecuteth.
	XVIII.	Yet Jonathan, Saul's son, loveth him, and oftentimes rescueth him from Saul's cruelty.
	XXIV.	David having Saul twice in his power forbears to hurt him.
1060.	XXVI. XXVII.	David, fearing he may sometime or other fall into the hands of Saul, flies to Gath unto king Achish, carrying with him 600 men; and having obtained of him the town of Ziklag to dwell in, he continueth one year and four months in the land of the Philistines: from whence he invadeth the countries of the Geshurites, Gezrites, and Amalekites, and puts to the sword all, both men and women, not leaving one alive to carry the news thereof to king Achish.
1055.	1 Sam. XXVIII. 1 Chro. XII.	Achish, proposing to make war upon the Israelites, takes David along with him in that expedition, to whom, whilst he is upon his march with his 600 men, repair a great many others of the tribe of Manasseh, and join with him.
	1 Sam. XXVIII.	Saul, seeing the army of the Philistines, is in great fear, and (Samuel being now dead) goes to Endor to consult with a witch there; the woman raiseth an apparition of Samuel, and Saul receives from it that dreadful doom, The Lord will deliver Israel, together with thyself, into the hands of the Philistines.
	XXIX.	The princes of the Philistines growing jealous of David, he and his company early the next morning leave the army, and return to Ziklag.
	XXXI.	The armies join battle; and the Israelites are defeated; the three sons of Saul are slain, and he himself falls on his own sword.
	2 Sam. I.	Three days after an Amalekite brings Saul's crown, and the bracelet that was upon his arm, and presents them to David, professing that, finding him fallen upon his sword, he had killed him outright, and taken the crown from off his head: whereupon David causeth him to be put to death for stretching forth his hand to slay the Lord's anointed, and lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan his son in a funeral song.
	II.	David, having asked counsel of God, goes up to Hebron with those that are about him, where he is anointed king by the men of Judah, his own tribe, in the 30th year of his age; and there he reigns seven years and six months.
	1 Chron. XII. 23.
	2 Sam. II. 8,	Abner, who was captain of the host to Saul, carries Ishbosheth Saul's son to Mahanaim, and there makes him king over the rest of Israel.
1053.	12.	After two years there arise frequent and mortal skirmishes between a party of men on David's side, headed by Joab David's nephew, and another party on Ishbosheth's side, whereof Abner is chief; but the former still grows stronger and stronger.
1048.	III. 6,	Abner affronted by Ishbosheth revolteth to David, and deals with the chief men of Israel to transfer the whole kingdom unto him, and this in the hearing of the Benjamites.
	22.	He comes to David, and is kindly received; returning he is treacherously murdered by Joab. David much laments his untimely death, and buries him at Hebron.
	IV. 2.	Baanah and Rechab murder their lord and master Ishbosheth, as he lieth resting himself upon his bed. They bring his head to David, who in detestation of their treason causeth them immediately to be put to death.
	V.	The captains and elders of all the tribes coming to Hebron anoint David a third time, and make him king over all Israel.

1017.	XXIV.	David, tempted by Satan, commandeth Joab to number the people: God, offended thereat, ſends a prophet to put three plagues to his choice, viz. the famine, ſword, or peſtilence. David chooſeth to fall into the hands of a merciful God, rather than into the hands of men. So God ſends a peſtilence; whereof 70,000 men die in one day. The angel being about to deſtroy Jeruſalem, God bids him hold his hand; for he beholds David repenting in ſackcloth, and intreating him to ſpare the innocent people, and to turn his hand upon himſelf, and upon his father's houſe.

So Ahaziah dieth,

Nevertheless, having put down the worship of Baal, he departs not from the worship of Jeroboam's golden calves, but maintains that idolatry all the time of his reign, which was 28 years.
	IX.	Jehu proceeds farther, and executes the divine vengeance upon the idolatrous house of Judah; he pursues Ahaziah who fled towards Megiddo, and overtaking him at Gur,

Jeroboam the second is this year taken into the consortship of the kingdom of Israel by his father Jehoash, going to war against the Syrians. This is gathered from Azariah king of Judah's beginning his reign in the 27th year of this Jeroboam.
826.	XIV. 2 Chron. XXV.	Amaziah king of Judah, growing proud upon a victory obtained against the Edomites this 14th year of his reign, provoketh Jehoash king of Israel to battle. Jehoash overcomes him, and takes him prisoner, breaks down 400 cubits of the wall of Jerusalem, and, having spoiled the temple and the king's house of a vast treasure, returns to Samaria.

825.	2 Kings XIV. 23	Jehoash dies fifteen years before Amaziah, and Jeroboam the second his son reigneth in Samaria 41 years.
810.	XIV. 2 Chron. XXV. 2 Kings XV.	Amaziah, finding a conspiracy against him at Jerusalem, flies to Lachish, where he is murdered; after whom comes his son Uzziah, or Azariah, in the 27th year of Jeroboam the second, and reigneth 52 years in Jerusalem.
808.		Now is held the 13th Jubilee under the two most flourishing kings; in whose times live sundry great prophets in both kingdoms; Isaiah and Joel in Judah; Jonas, Hosea, and Amos, in Israel.
	2 Kings XIV. 25. Jonah III. Matth. XII. 41.	Jonas of Gath-hepher, a town belonging to the tribe of Zebulon in Galilee of the Gentiles, (observe here the blindness of the Pharisees, John vii. 52.) was afterwards sent into Nineve, the metropolis of Assyria, where both king and people at his preaching repented.
784.	2 Kings XIV. 29.	Jeroboam king of Israel (under whom that kingdom came to its full height of glory) dieth; after his death all things fall into confusion, and the state is reduced to a plain anarchy, which lasteth 11 years and an half; for such an interregnum or vacancy the synchronism of Kings requires, that the six months of Zechariah the son of Jeroboam may answer the 38 years and one month of Shallum, who murdered him in the 39th year of Azariah, or Uzziah, king of Judah.
773.	XV. 8,	Zachariah the son of Jeroboam, the 4th and last of the race of Jehu (as was foretold) begins his reign over Israel in the 38th year of Azariah, or Uzziah, king of Judah, and reigneth 6 months.
772.	10.	Shallum the son of Jabesh at the end of 6 months murders him in the sight of the people, and reigns one month, in the 39th year of Uzziah king of Judah. After Zachariah's death follow those direful calamities foretold by Amos the prophet.
	Amos VII. 9.
771.	2 Kings XV. 14, 19,	Menahem the son of Gadi, going from Tirzah to Samaria, killeth Shallum, wasteth Tiphsah and the borders thereof; and because the town would not open to him, he takes it, and rips up all the women with child.
		While Menahem in these broils labours to get the possession of the kingdom, Pul king of Assyria invadeth his country, to whom Menahem giveth 1000 talents of silver, and afterwards reigneth quietly 10 years.
761.	23,	Pekahiah succeedeth his father Menahem in the 50th year of Uzziah king of Judah, and reigneth 2 years.
759.	25, 27,	Pekah, one of his captains, kills him in his own palace at Samaria, and reigneth 20 years.
758.	32.	Jotham succeedeth his father Uzziah in the kingdom of Judah at the age of 25 years, and reigneth 16 years in Jerusalem.
	2 Chron. XXVII. 5. Mic. I. 1.	Jotham subdues the Ammonites, and makes them tributary for 3 years. Under him and his two successors the prophets Micah and Hosea execute their prophetical office. About this time lived the prophet Nahum, and prophesied the destruction of Nineve.
742.	2 Kings XVI. 1.	Ahaz succeedeth his Father Jotham in the 17th year of Pekah king of Israel, and reigneth 16 years.
	2 Chron. XXVIII. 1. Isai. VII.	This year Rezin king of Syria and Pekah king of Israel are confederate against Judah, which strikes a great terror into that nation: but unto Ahaz God by the prophet Esay sends a gracious message, with a promise of deliverance; for a sign whereof (when the incredulous king, being bid to ask a sign, refused to do it) God gives him the promise of Immanuel to be born of a virgin. Rezin and Pekah now lay siege to Jerusalem, and therein to Ahaz, but are beaten off; Ahaz is no sooner delivered from his enemies, but he forsakes God his deliverer, and falls to idolatry. Wherefore God gives him over into the hands of the king of Israel, who slays of the men of Judah 120,000 in one day, with a great many of the nobility, and carrieth away 200,000 captives; but these by the advice of the prophet Oded are released and sent home.
741.
739.	2 Kings XV. 30.	Hoshea the son of Elah murders Pekah king of Israel, and gets the kingdom into his own hands; it is said, in the 20th year of Jotham, that is, from the time that Jotham first began to reign, which is the same with the 4th of Ahaz his son. Hoshea, by reason of the tumults and disorders which ensued, cannot be said to have reigned till 9 years after, the state continuing all that time in great confusion, without any form of government.

725.	2 Kings XVII. 4.	Hoshea king of Israel, having consulted with So king of Egypt, refuseth to pay tribute to Shalmaneser; provoked hereby, and jealous of some farther design in that confederacy of Hoshea with the king of Egypt, Shalmaneser layeth siege to Samaria, and

	Isaiah XXXVIII.	About this time Hezekiah falls sick, and is told by Isaiah that he shall die; but pouring out his tears and prayers unto God, he recovereth his health, and obtaineth a prolongation of his life and kingdom for 15 years. For a sign whereof the sun goes ten degrees backward.
710.	2 Kings XIX. Isaiah XXXVII.	Sennacherib, not observing the articles of peace, layeth siege to Jerusalem, and sendeth a blasphemous letter to Hezekiah; which he opening, and spreading before the Lord in the temple with many tears, craves assistance from God against the Assyrians. Whereupon the prophet Isaiah assures him that God will deliver him, and defend that city. The self-same night an angel of the Lord slays 185,000 men in the Assyrian army; and the next morning Sennacherib departeth, and returns to Nineve; where not long after, whilst he is worshipping in the house of Nisroch his god, he is slain by his own sons.
698.	2 Kings XXI. 2 Chron. XXXIII.	Manasseh at 12 years of age succeedeth his father Hezekiah, and reigneth 55 years. He setteth up idolatry, and sheddeth much innocent blood. Wherefore God delivers him up into the hands of the Assyrians, who in the 22d year of his reign carry him away captive

656.	Judith XIII.	This year Nabuchodonosor king of Assyria, proposing to make himself universal monarch, sends Holofernes his general against Judea, who layeth siege to Bethulia, and there hath his head taken off by Judith, a woman of the tribe of Simeon.
643.	2 Kings XXI. 19. 2 Chron. XXXIII. 21, 22.	Amon aged 22 years succeedeth his father Manasseh, and reigneth 2 years. An idolater indeed, as his father, but no penitent: he is murdered by his own servants.
641.	2 Kings XXII. 1. 2 Chron. XXXIV.	Josiah, a child of 8 years old, succeedeth his father Amon, and reigneth 31 years. In his time lived Jeremiah and Zephaniah the prophets, and Huldah the prophetess.
630.		In the 12th year of his reign he begins a reformation in Judah and Jerusalem, and carries it on successfully.
624.		This year he giveth order for the repair of the temple. Hilkiah the high priest, having found a book of the law, sends it to the king, who hears it read all over to him; and thereupon asketh counsel of Huldah the prophetess, who prophesieth the destruction of Jerusalem, but not in his days. Josiah calling to him the elders of Judah and Jerusalem, with the priests and prophets, causeth the book of the law to be read over before all the people, and reneweth the covenant between God and his people; he burneth also dead men's bones upon the altar at Beth-el, as was foretold; and keepeth a most solemn passover.
610.	2 Kings XXIII. 29. Zechar. XII. 11. 2 Chron. XXXV. 25.	At this time a war breaks out between the king of Egypt and the king of Assyria. Josiah unadvisedly engageth in this war against Necho king of Egypt, and is slain in the valley of Megiddo. The good king being thus taken out of the world, whose life only kept off the Babylonish captivity from that nation, not only the people then living bewailed his death, but even in after time a publick mourning for him was kept. The prophet Jeremy also in remembrance thereof composeth his Lamentations; wherein

Before CHRIST 610. Lam. IV. 20. bewailing the calamities which were shortly to befal that people, as present before his eyes, in a most compassionate manner he points, as it were with his finger, at the death of Josiah, as the source and original of all those ensuing miseries.

2 Kings XXIII. 2 Chron. XXXVI. After the death of Josiah the people anoint Shallum, one of his younger sons, to be their king. After three months reign he is deposed by Pharaoh Necho, who makes Eliakim, his elder brother, king over Judah and Jerusalem, and changes his name into Jehoiakim; but Jehoahaz he carries along with him captive into Egypt, where he ends his days.

XXXVI. 5. Jehoiakim at 25 years of age begins to reign, and he reigneth eleven years.

609. Jerem. XXVI. Uriah and Jeremiah prophesy against Jerusalem; the former is put to death, the latter is acquitted, and set at liberty. About this time Habakkuk also prophesieth.

607. XXV. 1. This year is Nebuchadnezzar the Great made by his father Nebopolazzar his associate in the kingdom of Assyria and Babylon;

606. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 6. into whose hands God delivers up Jehoiakim, who is put in chains to be carried to Babylon; but upon his submission and promises of obedience is left in his own house, where he lives a servant to Nebuchadnezzar 3 years. From which entering of the king and people of the Jews into the subjection and service of Nebuchadnezzar are the 70 years of the captivity of Babylon to be reckoned, which were foretold by the prophet Jeremy.

Jerem. XXV. 11. XXIX. 10. Daniel I. 3, 7. Nebuchadnezzar gives order to Ashpenaz, master of the eunuchs, that he shall carry from thence of the children of Israel, both of the blood royal (as was foretold by the prophet Esay to Hezekiah) and also of the nobility, the choicest youths both for beauty and wit that he can find; who, being educated 3 years in the language and sciences of the Chaldeans, may afterwards be fit to serve the king in his palace; among whom, of the tribe of Judah, are Daniel called Belteshazzar; Hananiah, called Shadrach; Mishael, called Meshach; and Azariah, called Abednego: their names being thus changed by the master of the eunuchs.

Isaiah XXXIX. 7.

605. Whilst Nebuchadnezzar pursues his victories over the king of Egypt, his father dies; which coming to his knowledge, he gives order for the bringing away of the captives, and posts with a small company the neareſt way to Babylon, where he is received as the lawful successor to his father's dominions.

Dan. I. 2. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 7. He causeth to be brought to Babylon what he thinks fit of the vessels and furniture of the temple, and placeth them in the house of his god, viz. Belus.

603. 2 Kings X XIV. 1. Jehoiakim, having lived 3 years in subjection to the king of Babylon, falls off, and rebels against him.

Dan. II. This year (being the second of Nebuchadnezzar's reign, taking it as it begun at his father's death,) Daniel recovers Nebuchadnezzar's dream, and interprets it to betoken the four chief monarchies; whereupon he and his companions are highly advanced.

600. 2 Kings XXIV. 2. Nebuchadnezzar sends an army, consisting of Chaldeans, Syrians, Moabites, and Ammonites, against Jehoiakim; these waste the

2 Kings XXIV. 8. 2 Chron. XXXVI. 9. Jehoiachin (called also Conias and Jeconias) at 18 years of age succeeds his father Jehoiakim, and reigns 3 months in Jerusalem.

Against him Nebuchadnezzar leads an army, and besiegeth Jerusalem: Jehoiachin with all his kindred and courtiers come out to meet him. Nebuchadnezzar makes them all prisoners, enters Jerusalem, and takes all the treasure he can find in the temple and the king's palace, breaking in pieces all the vessels of gold and furniture which Solomon had made for the temple; he carrieth away captive to Babylon the king, his mother, wives, courtiers, magistrates, and 10,000 able men out of Jerusalem, leaving none behind but the poorer sort of people; and out of the country round about he carried also away 8000 artificers; among the captives are Mordecai, and Ezekiel the priest; Ezekiel therefore in his prophecy reckons the time all along from the beginning of this captivity.

Before CHRIST 599. Baruch VI. An Epistle, said to be Jeremiah's, is now sent to the captives, admonishing them to beware of the idolatry which they shall see in Babylon.

2 Kings XXIV. 17. Nebuchadnezzar before his departure from Jerusalem makes Mattaniah, Jehoiachin's father's brother, king, changing his name into Zedekiah.

2 Chron. XXXVI. Zedekiah, beginning his reign at 21 years of age, reigneth 11 years; he, by rebelling against Nebuchadnezzar, or rather by continuing in an open rebellion (as his fathers had done) against God, brought upon Jerusalem and the whole nation of the Jews those long deserved calamities, which God had so often forewarned them of by his prophets;

588. 2 Kings XXV. Jer. I. 3. XXXIX. LII. for in the latter end of the 11th year of Zedekiah Jerusalem after a long siege is taken by Nebuchadnezzar, and his Chaldeans enter it. Zedekiah flees away by night, but being pursued is taken, and brought prisoner to Riblah, Nebuchadnezzar's head quarters; there having first seen his children slaughtered before his eyes, he has afterwards those eyes put out, and, being loaden with chains, is carried away captive to Babylon. About a month after the taking of the city, Nebuzar-adan, captain of the guard, sent by Nebuchadnezzar, makes his entry into it, sets fire to the temple, the king's palace, and some noblemen's houses, and so layeth the whole city in ashes; the walls of Jerusalem being raised to the ground, all that were left in the city, and those that a little before had fallen to the Chaldeans, with what treasure he can find, doth Nebuzar-adan carry with him into Babylon.

26. And thus was Judah carried out of her own land 468 years after David began to

2 Kings XXV. 21. reign over it, 388 years after the falling off of the ten tribes, and 134 years after the destruction of the kingdom of Israel.

Jerem. XLIX. 7. Ezek. XXV. 12. Obadiah the prophet denounceth God's judgments against the Edomites, who now insult over the calamity of the Jews. The same do Jeremy and Ezekiel, and the author of the 79th and 137th Psalms, who wrote all about the same time.

The sixth Age of the World.

569. The Babylonian Empire. Dan. IV. 29, 33, NEbuchadnezzar, proud of his victories over Egypt, and his conquest of Judea and other countries, and boasting the magnificence of his buildings, falls distracted,

562. 34. and is driven from the society of men. After seven years spent among the beasts of the field, his understanding returning to him, he humbly acknowledgeth the power of God, and his goodness toward him: and is restored to his kingdom. A few days after he dies, having reigned about 20 months together with his father, and 43 years by himself.

2 Kings XXV. 27. Jer. LII. 31. Evil-merodach his son succeeds him in the 37th year of the captivity of Jehoiachin, or Jeconiah, who presently gives order for the enlargement of Jehoiachin, and two days after changeth his prison clothes, sets him above all the princes of his court, and causeth him to eat at his own table. Jehoiachin dies about two years after.

555. Daniel VII. 1. Belshazzar having removed some persons, who had murdered his father Evil-merodach, and usurped his throne, succeeds in the kingdom of Babylon. In the first year of this king's reign Daniel has the vision of the four beasts, signifying the four monarchies of the world, and of God delivering over all power and sovereignty to the Son of man.

553. VIII. 1. In the third year of Belshazzar Daniel receives the vision of the ram and he goat, betokening the destruction of the Persian monarchy, and the great misery which Antiochus should bring upon the people of God.

538. V. This year Belshazzar makes a great feast for all his nobles, and causeth to be brought

Jerem. XXVII. 7. forth all the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nebuchadnezzar his grandfather had brought away from Jerusalem, to the glory of his idols, and dishonour of the true God. In the midst of all this jollity a hand appears writing on the wall of the room, in which the king and his numerous guests sit drinking. The king, greatly terrified hereat,

Dan. V. sends for his Chaldean astrologers and wizzards, and commands them to read the writing, and give him the interpretation of

The same night Belshazzar is slain, Babylon taken by Cyrus, and the empire translated to the Medes and Persians, as had been sundry times foretold by the prophets.

Is. XIII. Hab. II. Jerem. XXV. 12. L, LI. Dan. V. 31.

Cyrus having given the kingdom of Babylon to Darius the Mede, reserving some palaces in the city for himself, he returns through Media into Persia.

VI. 6.

Daniel's greatness raising envy in some principal courtiers and officers, these contrive his ruin: but finding nothing in his management of affairs whereof to accuse him, they resolve to order matters so, that Daniel's piety towards God shall become an offence worthy of death. They move the king to make a decree, that for 30 days no petition shall be made to any God or man, but to himself only. Which decree Daniel breaks, by making supplication to his God, and is for doing so cast into a den of lions; but being found to have received no hurt there, Darius commands the conspirators to be cast into the same den, who are presently devoured; and the king publisheth a decree, that all persons throughout his dominions shall reverence and fear the God of Daniel.

537. Dan. IX. Jerem. XXIX. 10.

Toward the end of the first year of the reign of Darius the Mede, to be reckoned from the subversion of the Babylonish empire, begins the 70th year of the captivity of the Jews, which, by Jeremiah's prophecy, was to be the last year of their calamity. Upon consideration of which time so near at hand, Daniel pours out most fervent prayers to God for the remission of his own sins, and those of his people; and for that promised deliverance out of their captivity. To whom the angel Gabriel brings an answer not only of this, but also of the spiritual deliverance of the Church by the death of the Messiah; uttering that memorable prophecy of the seventy weeks.

Dan. IX.

536. The Persian Empire.

Cyrus his father Cambyses and his father in law Cyaxares both dying, Persia falls to him by inheritance, and Media by contract of marriage; and so he is possessed of the whole eastern empire; from which time both Xenophon (Inst. lib. 8.) reckons the 7 years of his reign, and the Holy Scripture, out of the records of the Medes and Persians, reckons this his first year; for it teacheth us, that in this year came forth that renowned edict of his, Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia, The Lord God of heaven hath given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and hath charged me to build him an house at Jerusalem, which is in Judah, &c. At which time the 70 years of the Babylonish captivity being expired (as was foretold by Isaiah and Jeremiah, the former making mention of Cyrus by name) he gives leave to all the Jews, dwelling in all parts of his dominions, to return into their own country, and commands them immediately to fall in hand with rebuilding of the temple.

Ezr. I. 2.

Isaiah XLIV. 28. XLV. 1, 13.

He restoreth also all the vessels of the house of God, which Nebuchadnezzar had brought from thence; and contributes towards the building.

Ezra I. 5, 6.

The Jews therefore return into their own country; the poorer sort having allowance made them to defray their charges upon the way. The number of the children of the province, or Hebrews born in Chaldea, which with their captain Zerubbabel, and their high priest Jeshua, return out of captivity, is 42,360, beside proselytes, menservants, and maidservants, to the number of 7,337. Now the particular sums of Ezra's catalogue being cast up amount only to 29,818; and those in Nehemiah's account make but 31,031, both which come far short of that universal sum of 42,360, which at the bottom of each catalogue is said to be the number of the whole congregation. Wherefore the Hebrews in the XXIXth Chapter of their great chronicle tell us, that to complete the full sum of 42,360 we must cast in those of the other ten tribes of Israel, who came out of captivity with the Jews. For even till the last extirpation of the Jewish state there remained some reliques of the other ten tribes, not only in the dispersion, and at Jerusalem, and other cities of Judah; but also of those who kept still in their own seats; for Shalmaneser swept not away all out of the whole ten tribes, but left a remnant of them in their own country, who were afterwards, together with the Jews, Benjamites, and Levites, carried away by Nebuchadnezzar into Babylon, and are now dismissed and sent back again by Cyrus.

535. Ezra III. 8, 13.

In the second year after their return from Babylon, in the second month, they appoint Levites to oversee the work of the house of God, and lay the foundation of the temple; the old men lamenting, who 53 years before had seen the old temple standing, and the younger sort rejoicing to see the new one going up.

534. Ezra IV. 5,

The Samaritans by the means of certain courtiers about Cyrus, whom they had bribed for that purpose, disturb the Jews in their work of the temple.

529. 6.

In the beginning of the reign of Artaxerxes (called in profane story Cambyses) the Samaritans, who, whilst Cyrus lived, had secretly undermined the Jews, now openly frame a direct accusation in writing against the inhabitants of Judah and Jerusalem, and present it to the king, who presently forbids the Jews to proceed in the building.

520. V. 1.

In the second year of king Darius Hystaspes (the same with Ahasuerus) Zerubbabel and Jeshua, incited by the prophets Haggai and Zechariah, set forward the building of the temple.

Hag. II. 1, 9.

Haggai propheseth that the glory of this second temple shall be greater than that of the former; not as being a more magnificent structure, but in regard the blessed Messiah shall one day honour it with his presence, and from thence propagate peace to all nations.

Zech. I. 1, 6.

About this time Zechariah the prophet exhorteth the Jews to repentance.

519. Est. I, II. 518.

Ahasuerus puts away queen Vashti his wife, and not long after espouseth Esther, the niece of Mordecai the Jew.

515. Ezra VI.

In the sixth year of Darius, or Ahasuerus, the temple is finished; the dedication whereof is celebrated with great joy and abundance of sacrifices, the Priests and Levites, every one in his place, attending on the ministry of the temple. The passover also is celebrated.

510. Est. III.

Haman an Agagite, of the race of the Amalekites, a great favourite of king Ahasuerus, offended at Mordecai, because he falls not down and adores him, as others do, resolves to be revenged of the whole nation of the Jews, (which was ever averse to his) and to root it out; for the executing of which purpose that he may find a successful time, he causeth Pur, that is, the Lot, to be cast before him, for to know the day and month wherein the Jews shall be destroyed, and the lot falls on the twelfth month Adar.

Deut. XXV. 19.

Haman obtains an edict from the king, that all Jews, without respect to sex or age, upon the thirteenth day of the month Adar be put to death in all the provinces of the king's dominions. Hereupon Mordecai, Esther, and all the Jews, humble themselves before the Lord by fasting and prayer.

Est. IV. VI.

Ahasuerus hearing it read in the chronicles, that a conspiracy had been discovered to him by Mordecai, commandeth that he be publickly honoured, and that by Haman himself, his deadly enemy.

VII.

Esther, entertaining the king and Haman at a banquet, maketh suit for her own life, and her people's, and accuseth Haman. The king, understanding that Haman had provided a gallows for Mordecai, causeth him to be hanged thereon. In memory of this great deliverance the two days of Purim are made festival.

442. Neh. V. 14. Nehemiah, having governed Judea 12 years, returns to the king of Persia.

415. XIII. 6. This year is the 21st Jubile, the last that ever the prophets of the Old Testament saw; for that place in Nehemiah, Chap. XII 22. is not to be understood of the last Darius, but of Darius Nothus, who now reigns in Persia; the full history of Nehemiah ending with the time of Artaxerxes Longimanus, father of this Darius Nothus.

Hitherto (saith Eusebius in his Chronicle, to the 32d year of Artaxerxes) the Divine Scriptures of the Hebrews contain the annals of the times. But those things which were done among them afterwards we must deliver out of the books of the Maccabees, and out of the writings of Josephus, who have delivered a general history of the Jewish affairs from thence down to the times of the Romans.

That Malachi, the last of the prophets, was contemporary with Nehemiah, appears from hence, That he no where exhorts the people to the building of the temple, as Haggai and Zachary did; but, the temple being now built, he reproves those disorders, which Nehemiah at his second return with a new commission from Babylon saith he found in his absence to have crept in among the Jews; as marriage with strange women, withholding of tithes, and abuses in the worship of God. And because a succession of prophets was not to be expected, as before, he exhorteth the people constantly to adhere to the law of Moses, till Christ the chief Prophet should appear; whose forerunner John the Baptist should come in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the hearts of the fathers unto their children, and the disobedient to the wisdom of the just. This was the rise of that schismatical conventicle of the Samaritans. See John IV. 20.

The Persian Empire. Jos. Ant. l. 11. c. 8. Alexander marcheth toward Jerusalem, intending to besiege it. Jaddus the high priest, hearing of it, putteth on his priestly ornaments, and, accompanied with the people all in white, goeth out to meet him. Alexander, seeing his habit, falls prostrate before him, saying that, whilst he was in Macedonia, a man appeared unto him in the very same habit, who invited him to come into Asia, and promised to deliver the Persian empire into his hands. After this he goes to the temple, and offers sacrifice according to the high priest's direction. They shew him the prophecy of Daniel, That a Grecian should come and destroy the Persians; whereby he is mightily confirmed in his persuasion that he himself is the man. Lastly, he bestoweth on the Jews whatever favours they desire, and departeth.

Daniel VIII. 7. XI. 13.

330. The Macedonian Empire. The Persians are overcome, Darius slain, and Alexander remains universal monarch of the eastern world.

Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 1. Alexander, having reigned 6 years and 10 months, dieth; his army and dominions are divided among his captains.

323. 1 Mac. I. Antigonus makes himself governor of Asia, Seleucus of Babylon, and the bordering nations; Lysimachus hath the Hellespont; Cassander, Macedon; and Ptolemeus, the son of Lagus, gets Egypt.

320. Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 1. Ptolemus, surnamed Soter, makes himself master of Jerusalem by a stratagem; for he enters the city upon a sabbath day under pretence of offering sacrifice; and whilst the Jews suspect nothing, but spend the day in ease and idleness, he surpriseth the city without resistance, and maketh the citizens captives. He sendeth several colonies of Jews into Egypt, and puts great confidence in them.

Before CHRIST 277. The Macedonian Empire. Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 2. Ptolemeus Philadelphus, son of Ptolemeus Soter, being a great favourer of learning, builds a most magnificent library at Alexandria. Demetrius Phalereus, to whom he had committed the care of procuring all sorts of books, and out of all countries, persuades him to employ 72 Jews in translating the Holy Scriptures out of the original Hebrew into the Greek tongue, which was done in the seventh year of his reign. The king also dismisseth many captive Jews, and dedicates many presents to the temple of God at Jerusalem.

177. 2 Mac. III. One Simon, a man of the tribe of Benjamin, governor of the temple, falling out with Onias the high priest, goes to Apollonius the governor of Cœlosyria, and informs him that there is a vast treasure in the temple: Apollonius acquaints king Seleucus his master with it, who presently sends his treasurer Heliodorus to Jerusalem, to bring this money away. Heliodorus entering the temple is by angels struck down in the very place, and carried from thence half dead; but by the prayers of Onias he is soon after restored to his health. Returning to Seleucus that sent him, he magnifies the holiness of the temple, and the power of God dwelling in it.

176. 1 Mac. I. 10. Antiochus Epiphanes succeeds Seleucus in the kingdom of Syria, and reigneth 11 years, and some months.

175. 2 Mac. IV. 7. Jason by corrupting king Antiochus obtaineth the office of high priest.

172. 2 Mac. IV. 23, 24, Menelaus, brother to Simon the traitor, being employed by Jason to carry the money to the king, promiseth 300 talents of silver above what Jason had sent, and getteth the priesthood to himself.

170. 27. Menelaus, not paying the money he had promised the king at his admission, is summoned to appear before Antiochus; he substitutes Lysimachus his brother in his place.

1 Mac. I 21, 22. 2 Mac. 5 Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 7. Daniel XI. 28. Antiochus taketh Jerusalem, and sacking it pillageth the temple, destroyeth 40,000 of the inhabitants, and selleth as many more. He endeavoureth also to abolish the worship of God, and forceth many Jews to forsake their religion. The Samaritans now disown their relation to the Jews, to whom in prosperity they pretended alliance, and consecrate the temple on mount Gerizim to Jupiter.

168. 1 Mac. VIII. 5. Perseus, having made war upon the Romans, is this year overcome by them, and the kingdom of the Macedonians ends, when from Caranus it had stood 626 years. Nevertheless the reliques of the Macedonian empire, while that of the Roman was rising, did yet survive in the Ptolemies of Egypt, and the kings of Syria.

167. I, 45. King Antiochus by a public edict commands all nations that are subject unto him to observe the same way of divine worship, and laying aside their peculiar customs, to profess the same religion with the Grecians; the punishment of death being threatened unto such as shall be disobedient; and he appoints overseers over every people and nation, who shall compel them hereunto. Of the Jews many choose rather to undergo the most cruel torments, than to offer sacrifice unto idols; all which martyrdoms, with those glorious sufferings of the seven Maccabean brethren, are recorded in the two Books of Maccabees.

II. 2 Mac. VI. Mattathias a priest with his five sons slay those that are sent by king Antiochus to compel them to offer abominable sacrifices, and after betake themselves to the desert.

Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 8. They are followed by many others, of whom a great number are stifled in their caves, because they would not defend themselves on the sabbath day. Mattathias abolisheth that superstition, and exhorts his sons to assert their privileges, and deliver their country from bondage.

1 Mac. III. 166. 2 Mac. VIII. Mattathias dies, and Judas Maccabeus takes upon him the management of this affair. He delivers his country, and purgeth it from the abominations which had been committed in it.

Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 9. 1 Mac. III. Apollonius, governor of Samaria, having raised an army among the Gentiles and Samaritans, falls upon the Jews; but is discomfited and slain by Judas Maccabeus.

Jos. Ant. l. 12. c. 10. 1 Mac. III. 13. Joseph. ut supra. Seron also, governor of the lower Syria, musters up all the forces under his command, and invades Judea; him Judas Maccabeus

Ptolemeus and Demetrius unite their forces, and overcome him in a pitched battle; but Ptolemeus dies of the wounds which he received; after he had ſeen the head of Alexander ſent to him by Zabdiel an Arabian prince. Jonathan beſiegeth the citadel at Jeruſalem, held by a garriſon of Macedonians. Complaint hereof being made to Demetrius, Jonathan appeaſeth him by preſents, and obtaineth new favours for the Jews. Demetrius incurreth the hatred of his ſoldiers by abridging their pay in time of peace.
	1 Mac. XI. 54. Jof. Ant. l. 13. c. 9.	Tryphon, with ſome ſoldiers that revolted from Demetrius, undertakes to eſtabliſh Antiochus, the ſon of Alexander Balas, in the kingdom of Syria.

Jonathan, ſuſpecting no treachery, comes only with 1000 men to Tryphon at Ptolemais; but as ſoon as he is entered the city, Tryphon commands the gates to be ſhut. Jonathan is taken priſoner; and all his men put to the ſword.
	1 Mac. XIII. Jof. Ant. lib. 13. c. 10, 11.	The Jews hereupon make choice of Simon Maccabeus for their general in the place of his brother Jonathan. Tryphon leads an army againſt Simon. Next day he is condemned by Pilate, and crucified; the sun during the crucifixion is darkened, and the veil of the temple rent in the midst. Christ praying for his enemies gives up the ghost. Joseph of Arimathea begs the body, and lays it in a new sepulchre.

On the third day, the next after the Jewish Sabbath, (April 5.) Christ riseth from the dead; his Resurrection is declared by angels to the women that came to the sepulchre. Christ first appeareth to Mary Magdalene, and afterward to his disciples, and dineth with them.

Christ bringeth his Apostles to mount Olivet; commandeth them to expect in Jerusalem the sending down of the Holy Ghost: sends them to teach and baptize all nations, and blesses them; and while they behold, he is taken up, and a cloud receives him out of their sight. After his Ascension the disciples are warned by two angels to depart, and to set their minds upon his second coming; they accordingly return, and, giving themselves to prayer, choose Matthias to be an Apostle in the place of Judas.

Acts II. On the day of Pentecost (May 24.) the Holy Ghost descendeth on the Apostles in the form of cloven tongues, like as of fire, and enableth them to speak all languages. Peter the same day preacheth Christ and the resurrection, and about 3000 believers are added to the Church.

III. Peter by faith in Christ's Name healeth a lame man.

IV. The rulers of the Jews, offended at Peter's sermon, and his miraculous cure of the lame man, cast both him and John into prison; upon their examination they boldly avouch the lame man to be healed by the name of Jesus, and that by the same Jesus we must be eternally saved. After this the Jews forbid them to speak any more in that Name; but the apostles answer, That it is fit they should obey God rather than men. They are threatened, and let go.

Acts V. 1, 17. Ananias and his wife Sapphira for their hypocrisy are suddenly struck dead.

at Samaria, and converteth many; worketh miracles, and healeth the sick. Simon the sorcerer, seeing the wonders that are done by Philip, believeth, and is baptized.

Acts VIII. 15. The apostles at Jerusalem, hearing that Samaria had received the faith, send thither Peter and John to confirm and enlarge the Church. The apostles by prayer and imposition of hands confer the Holy Ghost on all believers. Simon Magus offers them money, that he may receive power of conferring the same, whose impiety is sharply reproved by Peter. Having completed their ministry in those parts, they return to Jerusalem.

35. 26. An Angel sendeth Philip to teach and baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.

IX. 1. Saul, a violent persecutor of all that call on the Name of Jesus, and one who consented to the death of Stephen, goes now towards Damascus with commission from the high priest and the council to apprehend all Christians in those parts, and to bring them bound to Jerusalem; on the way he is miraculously converted by a voice from heaven; and three days after baptized by Ananias at Damascus, where he preacheth the Gospel of Christ with great boldness, to the astonishment of those that knew upon what design he was sent thither.

38. IX. 23. Saul having preached the Gospel at Damascus a long time, the Jews lay wait to kill him, but he escapeth from thence, and comes to Jerusalem; there he sees Peter, and James the brother of our Lord, and abides with them fifteen days. Here he speaks boldly in the Name of Jesus, and disputes with the Grecians, or rather Jews that used the Greek tongue. These also consult how they may kill him.

2 Cor. XI. 32. Gal. I. 18. Acts XXII. 17. While Saul prays in the temple, he is in a trance, and the Lord appears unto him, and bids him to depart from Jerusalem, because they will not receive his testimony; adding, that he will send him to the Gentiles.

IX. 30. Gal. I. 21. Saul leaving Jerusalem goes to his own country Tarsus, and from thence travels into Syria and Cilicia.

Acts IX. 32, 36. Peter visits the churches of Judea, Galilee, Samaria, &c. At Lydda he cureth Eneas of the palsy; and at Joppa restoreth Tabitha to life.

41. X. At Cæsarea Cornelius a Centurion by prayers and alms finds favour in the sight of God, and is commanded by an Angel to send for Peter, now at Joppa. God by a vision teacheth Peter not to despise the Gentiles. Peter, being sent for by Cornelius, goes and preacheth Christ to him and a great company that were met at his house: while Peter preacheth, the Holy Ghost falls upon them all; and immediately the Apostle baptizeth them.

XI. Peter at his return to Jerusalem is accused by those of the circumcision for conversing with the Gentiles; but he declares to them his vision, and the whole matter concerning Cornelius; and they glorify God for granting to the Gentiles also repentance unto life.

The believers, who ever since the martyrdom of Stephen, and the persecution thereupon ensuing, had been dispersed throughout all Phenice and Cyprus, come now to Antioch, and preach the Gospel to the Greeks there, having before preached to none but the Jews. The Church at Jerusalem understanding this, and that the number of believers increased exceedingly, sends Barnabas thither to confirm them; he goes to Tarsus, and takes Saul along with him to Antioch, where they continue a whole year, converting multitudes to the faith. Here the disciples were first called Christians.

44. XII. About this time James the brother of John is beheaded by the command of Herod Agrippa. He also imprisoneth Peter, whom an angel delivers upon the prayers of the church. This same Herod not long after speaking to the people at Cæsarea, some of them cry out, It is the voice of God, and not of man: and immediately an angel of the Lord smites him, because he gave not the glory to God; and he is eaten of worms, and dieth.

XIII. Barnabas and Saul set forward in their preaching of the Gospel. They plant the Christian faith in Seleucia, Cyprus, and other places. At Paphos they preach the Gospel to Sergius Paulus, governor of that

From this time Saul is always called by his new name Paul; he preacheth at Antioch; the Gentiles believe, but the Jews gainsay and blaspheme. Whereupon he and his assistants turn to the Gentiles, and come to Iconium.
46.	Acts XIV.	At Iconium they are persecuted and ready to be stoned. From hence they fly to Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia. At Lystra Paul healing a cripple, the multitude cry out, that the gods are come down, and call Barnabas, Jupiter; and Paul, Mercurius; and would have sacrificed to them, had not the apostles with clothes rent run in among them, and assured them that they were men like themselves. Soon after there come Jews from Antioch and Iconium, who excite the people against them. Paul is by the furious multitude stoned, and drawn out of the city as dead; but whilst the disciples stand about him, he riseth up, and the next day departs with Barnabas to Derbe.
	2 Cor. XI. 24.
	XII. 2.	In this year, perhaps at this very time, Paul was caught up into the third heaven, and heard unspeakable words, fourteen years before he wrote his second epistle to the Corinthians.
	2 Tim. I. 2, 5.	About this time Timothy, though a child, with his mother Eunice, and his grandmother Lois, embrace the Christian faith, preached by Paul.
52.	Acts XV.	Certain Judaizing Christians come from Judea to Antioch, and teach that the Gentiles ought to be circumcised, and observe the law of Moses; these Paul and Barnabas oppose, and a council is held by the apostles and others at Jerusalem, to determine this controversy. The decrees of the synod are sent to the churches.
53.	36.	Paul and Barnabas, thinking to visit the churches together, fall at strife, and part asunder; Barnabas and Mark go into Cyprus; Paul and Silas into Syria and Cilicia.
	XVI.	Paul coming to Derbe finds there Timothy, whom (because his mother was a believing Jew, though his father a Gentile) he causeth to be circumcised, and takes him along with him. He is by a vision admonished to go into Macedonia; coming to Philippi, the chief city of that part of Macedonia, he converts Lydia; casteth out of a certain maidservant a spirit of divination, whose master, losing a considerable gain thereby, brings Paul and Silas before the magistrates; these cause them to be whipped and imprisoned; but at midnight, Paul and Silas praying and singing psalms, the doors of the prison fly open, and their bonds are loosed: the jailor, ready to kill himself, is converted to the faith, and baptised the same night with his whole family. Next day the magistrates come themselves, and pray them to depart the city.
54.	XVII.	From Philippi Paul takes his journey through Amphipolis and Appolonia, and comes to Thessalonica, where he finds a synagogue of the Jews; there he preacheth three sabbath days; some believe, others persecute him. Leaving Thessalonica, he comes to Berea, and soon after arrives at Athens, disputes with the philosophers, and declares unto them that UNKNOWN GOD, whom they had ignorantly worshipped. He converts Dionysius the Areopagite, and thence passeth to Corinth.
	XVIII.	Paul at Corinth meets with Aquila and Priscilla, not long before banished Rome by the decree of Claudius. Here he continues a year and six months, and thence writes to the Thessalonians.
55.		Paul is accused by the Jews, and brought before Gallio, proconsul of Achaia, who refuseth to be judge in a controversy about religion, and so drives them away from the judgment seat.
56.	18.	Paul departs from Corinth, and passeth to Ephesus, thence he sets out toward Jerusalem, that he may be at the feast; he lands at Cesarea, goes down to Antioch, and comes into the regions of Galatia and Phrygia, confirming the disciples in all those places.
57.	XIX.	Paul returns to Ephesus, disputes daily in the school of Tyrannus, and continues preaching there, and the parts thereabouts.
After CHRIST 58. The Roman Empire.		He writes his epistle to the Galatians.
60.		At Ephesus Demetrius a silversmith, jealous of his gain, raiseth a tumult against Paul, which is appeased by the townclerk.
	1 Cor. I. 11. XVI. 8.	About this time a schism ariseth in the Church of Corinth, which causeth Paul (now in or about Ephesus) to write his first epistle to the Corinthians.
	Acts XX. 2 Cor. VIII. 1, 2, 6, 19. 1 Cor. XVI. 5	Paul departs from Ephesus, and comes into Macedonia, and gathers a contribution for the relief of the saints at Jerusalem. The apostle, having learnt from Titus the success of his first, writes now his second epistle to the Corinthians; out of Macedonia he goes into Greece, and comes to Corinth, where he writes his epistle to the Romans.
	Acts XX. 3, 4.	Paul purposing to go directly from thence into Syria, that he may carry the collections to Jerusalem, the Jews lay wait for him; he understanding this thinks it best to return into Macedonia the same way he came, and thence to pass into Asia.
	6.	After the days of unleavened bread Paul sails from Philippi, and comes to Troas; there he restores Eutychus to life. Having passed through several cities of Greece, he arrives at Miletus; from thence he sends to call the elders of the Church of Ephesus, whom he earnestly exhorts to the performance of their duty.
	XXI.	Paul comes to Jerusalem, is apprehended in the temple, and secured in the castle; he claimeth the privilege of a Roman, and escapeth scourging.
	XXII, XXIII.	Paul pleadeth his cause before Ananias the high priest. The chief captain, understanding that above forty Jews had bound themselves under a curse neither to eat nor drink till they had killed him, sends him to Felix the governor of the province, by whom he is imprisoned at Cesarea.
62.	XXIV.	Paul is accused before Felix by Tertullius the orator: Felix goes out of his office, and, to gratify the Jews, leaves Paul in prison. Porcius Festus succeeds him in the government.
	XXV.	The Jews come to Cesarea, and accuse Paul before Festus. He answereth for himself, and appeals unto Cesar. King Agrippa comes to Cesarea, and Festus opens the whole matter to him.
	XXVI.	Paul makes his defence in the presence of Agrippa; who thereby is almost persuaded to be a Christian, and the whole company pronounce him innocent.
63.	XXVIII.	Paul comes to Rome, is a prisoner at large, and preacheth there two years.
		Here ends the History of the Acts of the Apostles, written by St. Luke, St. Paul's beloved companion in his travels.
62.		Saint Paul from Rome writes his epistles, To the Philippians. To Philemon. To the Colossians. To the Ephesians.
65.	Hebr. XIII. 24.	About the latter end of this year St. Paul is set at liberty; and a little before his departure out of Italy into Asia he writes his epistle to the Hebrews.
	Tit. I. 5.	He preacheth the Gospel in the isle of Crete, and leaves Titus there to set things in order, and ordain elders in every city.
66.		St. Paul writes his epistles, To Timothy I. To Titus. To Timothy II.
		About this time the epistles of St. Peter, St. John, and St. Jude, seem to be written.
67.	Euseb. Hist. Ec.	St. Peter and St. Paul are said to have suffered martyrdom at Rome towards the latter end of Nero's reign.
70.	Luke XIX. 43, 44.	This year Jerusalem (according to Christ's prophecy) is besieged, taken, sacked, and burnt, by Titus, 1,100,000 of the Jews perish, 97,000 are taken prisoners; beside an innumerable company that in other places of Judea kill themselves, or perish through famine, banishment, or other miseries.
96.		St. John is banished into the isle of Patmos by Domitian, and there receives and writes his Revelation.
		After the death of Domitian St. John returns to Ephesus, and at the request of the Church writes his Gospel.

TABLES of SCRIPTURE MEASURES, WEIGHTS, and COINS:

With an APPENDIX,

Containing the Method of Calculating its MEASURES of SURFACE, hitherto wanting in Treatiſes on this Subject. By the Right Reverend Richard Lord Biſhop of Peterborough.

A Meaſure is a known quantity applied to another of the ſame kind that is leſs known, to make its Dimenſions better known, by help of numbers expreſſing the proportion that the known quantity bears to the unknown. The dimenſions to be meaſured are three: 1 Mere length, which hath but one dimenſion. 2 Surface, which conſiſts of length multiplied into breadth; ſo it hath two dimenſions, as it were interwoven; and this is always meaſured by ſome ſquare ſurface already known, as by a ſquare foot, or a ſquare cubit, or any other ſquare already known, by help of its ſide. Moſes generally uſeth the ſquare cubit. 3. Solidity, or Capacity, which hath three dimenſions multiplied into each other: length, breadth, and height, or depth. This is meaſured by a known cube. From ſolidity ariſeth weight in all ſublunary bodies; and by weight we meaſure the value of coins. Therefore I ſhall join weights and coins together in the fourth table.

II. TABLE. Meaſures of Surface.

Moſes hath deſcribed theſe by ſquare Cubits. I here expreſs them reduced to our ſquare Feet. The method of this reduction is taught in an Appendix. I firſt propoſe three clear examples given by Moſes: Secondly, I place ſix inſtances of greater difficulty.

The cleareſt examples are,

I. The altar of Incenſe. Only two ſides of it, viz. its length and breadth are expreſt by Moſes; each of them is affirmed to be one cubit. Yet he declares it was four ſquare: whence we collect, that it was juſt one ſquare Cubit. See Exod. XXX. 2. Now it is demonſtrated in the appendix, that one Jewiſh ſquare Cubit amounts to in ſurface three Engliſh ſquare Feet, and about 47 ſquare Inches.

II. The Table of Shewbread. Exod. XXV. 23. It is affirmed to be two Cubits in length, and one in breadth. None doubt but it was rectangular, containing two Jewiſh ſquare Cubits. Theſe amount to above ſix Engliſh ſquare Feet, and above half, viz. 94 ſquare Inches.

III. The Boards of the Tabernacle, each 10 Cubits in length, and one and an half in breadth, Exod. XXVI. 16. being rectangular, muſt contain 15 ſquare Cubits, Jewiſh. Theſe are proved to contain very near 50 ſquare Feet of Engliſh Meaſure.

The more difficult caſes reſerved to the Appendix are,

I. The Mercy ſeat, whoſe ſurface is = 12 ſquare Feet and $\frac{1}{2}$.

II. A general method is taught of reducing any given number of Jewiſh Cubits to Engliſh ſquare Feet.

III. The example of the 15 ſquare Cubits in the Boards of the Tabernacle is made clearer.

IV. The Court of the Tabernacle, deſcribed Exod. XXVII. 18. is found to be juſt half the Egyptian Aroura, and to contain 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 ſquare Feet, &c.

V. The whole Aroura is determined, and reduced to our Engliſh Meaſures, 3 Roods, 2 Perches, 55 ſquare Feet.

VI. The ſuburbs, or Glebe Land, given to each city of the Levites, Numb. XXXV. 3, 4, 5. is ſhewed to be a Square, on each of the four ſides of every city, containing a million of Jewiſh ſquare cubits, or 100 Arourœ; which amount to in each Square 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 ſquare Feet. Whence we collect, that all the four Squares amounted to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch, beſide 51 Feet ſquare.

An APPENDIX to the Second Table of Meaſures of Surface deſcribed by Moſes, ſhewing the Method of reducing them by Calculation to the Meaſures uſed in England, for the benefit of thoſe that underſtand Decimal Arithmetick, and deſire to try the Reduction given in the Table, or to make further Improvements in this kind of Meaſures.

1. The Mercy ſeat. I Shall begin with Reduction of the Meaſures of the Mercy ſeat, which was God's Throne of Grace among the Jews. Moſes in Exod. XXV. 17. affirms, that its length was two Cubits and an half, its breadth one Cubit and an half. The fractions adhering to its length and breadth make ſome difficulty to beginners in Arithmetick, which the Decimal way doth much abate. Suppoſing therefore, what I have elſewhere proved, that the Jewiſh Cubit was in Foot meaſure 1∠824; the length muſt be expreſſed in Foot meaſure, and Decimals thereof, 4∠560. The breadth in like meaſure will be 2∠736. Wherefore the product of theſe numbers multiplied into each other gives its ſurface 12∠47,616: in number of its ſquare Feet, and Decimals thereof, 12 ſquare Feet, and very near half a ſquare Foot; if the Decimals had been ∠50, it had been juſt half a Foot. If we deſire to expreſs thoſe Decimals of a Foot in ſquare Inches, as is uſual in England, we muſt multiply ∠47,616 by 144, the ſquare Inches of a Foot, and the product will be 68∠56,704; which ſhews that the Decimals we found amount to 68 ſquare Inches, and about half an Inch more: we need not be nicer.

2. A ſquare Cubit reduced to our Meaſure. 2. In the Altar of Incenſe Moſes deſcribes the Jewiſh ſquare Cubit, which muſt be reduced to our Foot meaſure, thus, $\frac{1}{144}$. The product of theſe numbers multiplied will be the upper ſurface of this Altar, 3∠326,976, that is, three ſquare Feet, and ∠326,976 Decimals of a ſquare Foot, which we may expreſs by 47 ſquare Inches, and a few Decimals of an Inch ſquare inconſiderable.

3. The Boards of the Tabernacle. 3. Moſes's deſcription of the Boards of the Tabernacle, Exod. XXVI. 16. by 10 Cubits in length, and one and an half in breadth, naturally leads a man to diſcern in each board's ſurface 15 Jewiſh ſquare Cubits; becauſe if we conceive a line drawn from the end of one Cubit at the bottom of the Board to the end of one Cubit at the top of the Board, this must needs be 10 whole square Cubits on one side of that line, and 10 half square Cubits (=5 whole) on the other side of that line: here therefore are 15 square Cubits. The reduction of these into English square Feet is performed by multiplying 15, viz. the number of Cubits given into 3∠326,976, the Feet and Decimals of one square Cubit, and the product will be 49∠90,464, and that is very near to 50 square Feet; for those Decimals amount to above 130 square Inches; and little more than 13 square Inches would make it just 50 Feet, which abatement we need not here regard.

4. The Court of the Tabernacle. 4. Let us now go to the measure of the surface of land. But we will begin with the Court of the Tabernacle, the ground on which the Priests performed all the solemn publick worship of Israel in Moses's time. The Area of this Court is described by Moses, Exod. XXVII. 18. by its length 100 Cubits, and its breadth every where 50 Cubits. Wherefore this Area must be in Jewish measure 5000 square Cubits, for that is the product of 100 multiplied into 50. To reduce these 5000 Jewish Cubits into English square Feet, I must multiply 5000 into 3∠326,976, the product is 16,634∠88 English square Feet.

But in cases of such long numbers of Feet we use for brevity's sake, and to help our memories, to reduce them into Perches, or Roods, or Acres, which contain known numbers of square Feet. A Perch contains 272 square Feet and ¼. A Rood is=to 10,890 square Feet. An Acre is=to 43,560 square Feet. It is plain that the number 16,634∠88 hath not integers equal to those of an Acre; but it hath enough to answer those in a Rood, and some overplus; therefore I must divide 16,634∠88 by 10,890, which is a Rood. By such division continued in the Decimal way, until I have a fraction of five or six places, which is exact enough, I find the quote to be 1∠527,537, which assures me that my number 16,634∠88 hath but once entirely in it a whole Rood: but it hath moreover in it many Decimal parts of a Rood. These therefore I reduce to the Perches contained in them, by multiplying them into 40, which is the number of Perches that make up a Root: and cutting off six places from the product, which is 21∠101,480; so I find there are 21 Perches intire, and the figures after the Separatrix are Decimals of a Perch. These also I multiply by 272∠25, which are the square Feet and Decimals of a Perch. The product of this last multiplication, after eight places cut off from it by the Separatrix, because there were six places of Decimals in one of the multipliers, and two in the other, is 27∠62,793,000. Hence I learn that there are therein but 27 intire Feet; all the eight Decimal places amount to little above half a Foot, and therefore I cast them away as inconsiderable in the measure of land. This method of reduction by multiplication of Decimals I find to be easier than the common way of reduction by division, and therefore I propose it to be used by beginners in this practice of surveying. So I find this court to contain in English measure 1 Rood, 21 Perches, 27 Feet, and little more than half a Foot squared. But reflecting upon Moses's measure by Cubits, and finding them to be precisely 5000 square Cubits, I observed that they were just half 10,000, which I had observed from Herodotus's Euterpe to be the Area of the Egyptian Aroura, by which their land was as generally measured, as our's is by Acres and Roods. See Herodot. l. 2. c. 168. I called also to mind a passage in Manetho an Egyptian Priest, cited by Josephus in his his first book against Apion, where he affirms, that Manetho in his history of the reign, wars, and expulsion, of the Pastors (whom Africanus affirms to be Phœnicians, or Canaanites, and Josephus vainly believed to be Jews,) wrote out of the publick Records of Egypt, that these Pastors made at Abaris a very large and strong encampment, that encompassed 10,000 Aroura, sufficient to contain 240,000 men, and long to maintain their cattle. Hence it appears, that not only the Egyptians, but the Phœnicians or Canaanites also, that had dwelt among them, and had reigned there during the time of six kings successively, used this measure of land called Aroura. Now this was long before Moses's time; for the beginning of Amosis or Tethmosis, who expelled them out of Egypt, was very near the time of Abraham's death, as appears by the annals of the learned Primate of Ireland. Wherefore I believe that Moses, who was skilled in all Egyptian learning, especially surveying, did of choice make the Court of the Tabernacle to be just half an Aroura, which was a known measure to him and his people, who had long dwelt in Egypt, and Divine Authority directed him so to do.

5. The Reduction of an Aroura in English Measures. 5. Because we have shewn from Herodotus, that an Aroura is the square of 100 Jewish or Egyptian Cubits, and 100 such Cubits may in English Foot measure be expressed by 182∠4 English Feet, it follows, that the square of this number will express exactly the number of the English square Feet that are contained in an Aroura. Now by multiplication of 182∠4 into itself, I find the product to be 33,269∠76: Therefore I conclude that there are 33,269 square Feet intire, and ∠76 Decimals of a square Foot, in an Aroura. Now to reduce these English square Feet into Roods, Perches, and the Remainder of square Feet, I use the method used in the last paragraph: First I divide them by 10,890, the square Feet in a Rood; and the quote I find 3∠055,074, that is 3 Roods, and ∠055,074 Decimals of a Rood. Secondly, I multiply those Decimals by 40, which is the number of Perches in a Rood, the product is 2∠202,960. Hence I conclude there are therein two Perches, and ∠202,960 Decimals of a Perch. Thirdly, I multiply these last Decimals by 272∠25, which are the square Feet of a Perch. The product is 55∠25,586,000, that is 55 intire square Feet: the eight places of Decimals amount to little above ¼ of a square Foot, therefore I reject them as inconsiderable in measure of land. By all these reductions it is found, that an Aroura is in English measure three Roods, two Perches, 55¼ square Feet. Hence it follows also, that it is not well translated by Jugerum, for it is much larger; nor is it well in English called an Acre, for it is considerably less. To this place I refer the use of the lesser sort of σχοῖνοι, which yet is most convenient for the use of the Egyptians, and of the Jews, to measure out private men's inheritances by a line which was 80 Cubits long. For the length of this line will measure one side of an Aroura, if the other side be 125 Cubits long, which is the length of this line, and its half, and 5 Cubits above half of it, which they might easily mark in it by a knot or a ring. And by this means they might easily lay any number of Aroura together, all of them rectangular and parallel to each other. Such lines I suppose for measure of inheritances are intimated. Psal. LXXVIII. 55. and XVI. 6, &c.

6. The Levites Glebe. 6. I shall conclude with an example amounting after reduction to a number of English Acres, which measure we have not yet reached to. This I take from Numb. XXXV. 3, 4, 5, verses. There Moses describes what measure of land the Levites were to be allowed for their cattle, their goods, and all their beasts, on the north, east, south, and west, sides of each of their cities. So that the city was to be in the midst of the land belonging to it. This land in our translation is called suburbs, because of its nearness to all their cities. But we must not thence imagine that it means houses and streets adjoining to their cities, in which sense we sometimes use the word suburbs. For Moses plainly tells us they were places for their several sorts of cattle to feed in, such as might also be orchards or gardens for fruits, or perhaps for a little corn, comprehended in the word, their Goods. These fields he limits by 1000 Cubits, which was just a quarter of an eastern mile, but amounts in mere length to 608 yards English measure, and therefore exceeds a quarter of an English mile by 168 yards in length. But it is certain that cattle cannot feed upon mere length, but this must signify the side of some surface of land bounded thereby, and we must have two sides of that surface given, before we can find the Area, or surface contained. Therefore Moses, ver. 5. tells us, that on each side of each city they must measure 2000 Cubits, which will determine no surface, unless we understand it to mean the two sides of a square, bounded on every side by 1000 Cubits; these two sides multiplied into each other will produce a square that contains just a million of square Cubits, and that is a known and exact measure of just 100 Arouræ: and this shews that the 2000 Cubits mentioned ver. 5. are the two sides of that square, whereof the 1000 mentioned ver. 4. is one, and may be called the root of the square. This shews the agreement of the two different numbers. The reduction of this million of square Cubits will be performed by the same method that I have used before. Therefore, first, I express 1000 Jewish by 1824 English Feet, without any Separatrix, according to the principles owned in Decimal Arithmetick; and the square of that number will be 3,326,976, without a Separatrix. Secondly, I divide this number by 43,560, which are the square feet of an Acre, and find the quote to be 76∠376,859, which signify 76 intire Acres, and ∠376,859 Decimals of an Acre. Thirdly, to find what Roods are contained in these Decimals, I multiply them by four, the number of Roods in an Acre, and find the quote to be 1∠507,436, which proves that there is but one Rood in them, and the six figures cut off by the Separatrix (because there were six Decimals in one of the multipliers) are all Decimals of a Rood. Fourthly, therefore to find what Perches are in these last Decimals, I multiply them by 40, which is the number of Perches contained in a Rood. The product is 20∠297,440; hereby I find there are 20 intire Perches, besides the Decimals of a Perch placed after the Separatrix. Fifthly, to find what square Feet are in those last Decimals, I multiply them by 272∠25, which are the square Feet and decimals in a Perch, the Product is 80∠97804, which is 80 square Feet, and all the Decimals not amounting to a square Foot, I reject as inconsiderable in measure of land. Thus we have found that this and every other square on each side of every Levitical City was prescribed to be 76 Acres, 1 Rood, 20 Perches, 80 square Feet in our measure, but was just a million of square Cubits in their measure.

To add the four squares belonging to one Levitical City together, the best way will be to take the first quote that we found in Acre measure, viz. 76∠376,859, and we must multiply it by four, and we shall find, by the method I have used, all the four squares together to amount to 305 Acres, 2 Roods, 1 Perch: we need not take notice of any lesser quantities in this case. We may also by this method find the sum of the Acres belonging to all the 48 cities of the Levites, and many other improvements in this kind of measuring surfaces. But I leave them to the industry of others.
